DANIEL PROTESTS IN LETTER . . .

Nixon's Intervention Shocks Prosecutor

Washington (AP) — Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, prosecutor in the trial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., has written President Nixon that his intervention in the case — "in the midst of public clamor" — has damaged the system of military justice.

Reached by telephone at Ft. Benning, Ga., Daniel refused to discuss the letter, saying "publicity was not my purpose in writing it."

Daniel said in a letter to the President, with copies to six senators, that he was shocked and dismayed at Nixon's action. He said it opened the system of military justice to charges "that it is subject to political influence . . ."

Did He Ponder?

He asked also whether Nixon had considered the effect of his intervention on the six military jurors who convicted Calley of premeditated murder.

Daniel said Nixon has enhanced the image of Calley "as a national hero . . ."

He said it would have been more appropriate for Nixon to speak in behalf of the jurors, and to "remind the nation of the purpose of our legal system and respect it should command . . .

"For this nation to condone the acts of Lt. Calley is to make us no better than our enemies and make any pleas by this nation for the humane treatment of our own prisoners meaningless," Daniel wrote.

Murder Of Civilians

Calley was convicted of the premeditated murder of 22 South Vietnamese civilians in the My Lai incident — which, Daniel noted, Nixon once said "appears was certainly a massacre."

"In view of your previous statements concerning this matter, I have been particularly shocked and dismayed at your decision to intervene in these proceedings in the midst of the public clamor."

Nixon first ordered Calley released from the stockade at Ft. Benning after his conviction and sentencing Thursday to life imprisonment. He directed that Calley be held in a military version of house arrest. Then, on Saturday, the White House announced that the President intends to review the final military judgment in the case.

Response To Uproar

"Your decision can only have been prompted by the response of a vocal segment of our population who, while no doubt acting in good faith, cannot be aware of the evidence which has resulted in Lt. Calley's conviction," Daniel said in his letter dated April 3.

"I truly regret having to have written this letter and wish that no innocent person had died at My Lai on 16 March 1968," Daniel wrote. "But innocent people were killed under circumstances that will always remain abhorrent to my conscience.

"While in some respects what took place at My Lai has to be considered to be a tragic day in the history of our nation, how much more tragic would it have been for this country to have taken no action against those who were responsible.

'Political Expediency'

"That action was taken, but the greatest tragedy of all will be if political expediency dictates the compromise of such a fundamental moral principle as the inherent unlawfulness of the murder of innocent persons, making the action and the courage of six honorable men who served their country so well, meaningless.

"Have you considered those men in making your decisions? The men who since rendering their verdict have found themselves and their families the subject of vicious attacks upon their honor, integrity and loyalty to this nation . . .

"I would expect that the President of the United States, a man whom I believe should and would provide the moral leadership for this nation would stand fully behind the law of this land on a moral issue which is so clear and about which there can be no compromise."

Mayor Leads His Field, Faces Council Chairman

. . . 21,795 VOTE IN PRIMARY ELECTION

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf easily outdistanced his two rivals Tuesday at the primary polls for a post on the May 4 general election ballot.

Schwartzkopf, who received more than 50% of the votes cast for mayor, will face Council Chairman Erv Peterson in his bid for a second term as the head of the city.

Peterson finished 2,000 votes ahead of Bill Davidson, another councilman, in a turnout described as "very light" for a mayoral election by Election Commissioner Dean Petersen.

21,795 Turn Out

A total of 21,795 went to the polls out of 61,187 registered voters.

In the City Council race, incumbent Mrs. Helen Boosalis was the solid favorite of the voters, being named on more than one of every two ballots cast.

Mrs. Boosalis is seeking a fourth term on the council, campaigning for sound zoning and creation of a housing department.

Also Nominated

Also making the general election ballot are Steve Cook, an architect and member of the Planning Commission; F. Bob Sikyta, Havelock businessman and chairman of the Board of Zoning Appeals; W. Richard Baker, Havelock pharmacist and member of the City Library Board; Richard Hansen, attorney and former chairman of the City Charter Revision Committee; Nancy Childs, operator of a lecture bureau; Bill Murrell, West O wholesale liquor dealer, and Charles Hamilton, Coast-to-Coast stores owner.

Both Baker and Murrell have previously run unsuccessfully for the council after being nominated in the primary election.

Mrs. Boosalis, Cook and Sikyta maintained their one-two-three positions throughout election returns. The fourth spot, though, changed hands, first held by Hansen and then by Baker. Hansen ended up in fifth position.

Voters will elect four council members at the general election on May 4.

Zoning Turn-Around

The nominated council candidates generally took a conservative stand on zoning matters, in sharp contrast to the last council election, where the campaign talk was for more liberalized zoning policies.

A majority of the candidates have also called for coordination of local housing efforts, with all supporting a municipal bus service, an issue that will be on the May 4 ballot.

Finishing in ninth place out of the running was John Tomlinson, with University of Nebraska student John Breslow placing tenth.

Can't Affect Outcome

The 153 absentee and disabled votes still to be counted will not change the election outcome.

Mayor Schwartzkopf, commenting on his being the top votegetter for the mayoral post, said he feels the public has rejected the leadership issue brought up by his two opponents.

Both Peterson and Davidson had criticized the mayor for what they termed his lack of dynamic, strong leadership.

Ran On Record

Schwartzkopf, on the other hand, ran mostly on his record, although he did promise the creation of a housing department. He also pointed to the fact the city has been blessed during his term with not having the chaotic situation that has hit other urban cities.

He said he appreciates the confidence shown by the voters in his administration and promised a vigorous campaign to continue serving all of Lincoln.

Peterson said he was "pleased that I came in second and therefore am still in the race."

"I think it shows now that I have to get busy," he added, "and get my message across to the people."

Davidson said he plans to devote his fulltime efforts to his insurance business.

He said the people have apparently decided they want the present administration, adding that "I am a great believer the people should have what they want."

Davidson said he felt badly that less than one-third of the city's registered voters showed up at the polls.

10% Tuition Increase Inserted Into State College Budget Plan

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Appropriations Committee Tuesday built a 10% tuition increase into its state college budget recommendations, thereby reducing Gov. J James Exon's general fund budget figure for the institutions

With only a few exceptions, the committee generally adhered to the governor's $16.5 million all-funds budget recommendation for the four schools during fiscal 1971-72.

Sen. Wayne Ziebarth of Wilcox sharply condemned the committee's tuition decision following the meeting.

That action, he said, "usurps" the authority of the board of trustees of the state colleges.

The tuition increase would amount to $33 per year for students at Kearney, Chadron, Wayne and Peru.

While the Legislature cannot raise tuition levels, it can force the governing board to follow its recommendation by building anticipated tuition funds into cash fund revenue while reducing general fund appropriations by the same amount.

Thus, the board must follow the Legislature's recommendation in order to capture its full budget allotment.

Tentative estimates indicated that the tuition decision would reduce the governor's general fund recommendation by about $450,000

Although he recommended a tuition increase at the University of Nebraska, Exon did not propose a tuition hike at the colleges.

The committee completed work on the state college budgets Tuesday and decided to delay action on the University's operational budget until completion of the Unicameral's Easter recess next week.

Committee members will tour the University's Medical Center in Omaha Wednesday. The Legislature will begin its holiday recess Thursday, returning to action next Tuesday.

In the only other significant departure from the governor's state college recommendations, the committee slightly reduced the anticipated enrollment figure at the institutions, thus cutting total budget figures.

While the committee's final recommended budget figure must await staff compilation of the effect of Tuesday's decisions, it appeared that the overall change in Exon's total figures will be slight.

Altogether, prior to the state college decisions, the committee had reduced the governor's state budget general fund recommendations by $1,537,934, Marvel reported.

Exon recommended a 15% hike in general fund monies for the state colleges during the coming fiscal year.

A motion to increase tuition by 20% was turned down before the committee settled on a 10% hike.

Rep. Boggs Charges FBI Shadows Congressmen

Washington (UPI) — House Democratic leader Hale Boggs, renewing demands that J. Edgar Hoover resign, charged Tuesday that the FBI not only tapped congressmen's telephones but kept them under surveillance.

Denials came from the White House, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and — secondhardedly — from Hoover himself.

As the new controversy over the 76-year-old FBI director grew, Boggs told a news conference that "numerous congressmen" had informed him that both their telephones and activities "are the subject of surveillance by the FBI." Boggs again declined to offer any evidence to support his allegations, but said he would have more to say later.

Mitchell and the White House denied the phone tapping charge Monday when Boggs first made it and the FBI said Tuesday Boggs' charge that agents had kept Boggs under personal surveillance was "absolutely, utterly false."

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott, said late Tuesday he had talked to Hoover and quoted him as saying: "I want to make a positive assertion that there has never been a wiretap of a senator's phone or the phone of a member of Congress since I became director in 1924, nor has any member of the Congress (House) or the Senate been under surveillance by the FBI."

Asked at a news conference if he knew why the FBI would want to gather information on him, Boggs replied: "Yes, I do, but I am not going to elaborate."

"In private communications," Boggs told reporters, "numerous members of Congress have reported to me their firm conviction that their telephone conversations and activities are the subject of surveillance by the FBI, much as was done last fall by the military intelligence agencies.

"Several members have made available to me detailed information confirming my own experience which substantiates these allegations, and it is my intention to make proper use of it in the near future."

But Boggs apparently tried to temper his Monday remarks in which he said Hoover was employing the tactics of Adolf Hitler and Soviet Russia. Tuesday, he said Hoover's "fairness and patriotism are unquestionable."

Consumers Relax Hold On Spending

New York (AP) — Consumer spending plans have shown their first significant upturn since last spring, the Conference Board reported Tuesday.

A survey of some 10,000 families across the country during January and February indicated, however, that Americans remained pessimistic about current economic conditions, the Board said.

"Buying plans have taken a sharp turn for the better, but the consumer has by no means shaken off his pessimism and seems unlikely to go on a spending splurge in months ahead," said Fabian Linden, the board's director of consumer economics.

Some 8% of the families surveyed planned to buy a car during the next six months, up from 7.2% in a November-December probe, the board said. Plans to buy homes and major appliances were also up, it said.

CLEOPAS . . .

Ten Who Knew Jesus

Seventh of a Series
By JOHN J. STEWART

"Abide with me; 'tis eventide . . . O Saviour, stay this night with me . . ."

Late Sunday afternoon two of the Christ's disciples, Cleopas and another, were walking forlornly along the road west from Jerusalem toward the village of Emmaus, some six miles away.

Their hearts were heavy with sadness at the death of the Master, and they found it impossible to believe the story of Mary Magdalene and other women who claimed to have seen Jesus that morning as a resurrected personage.

As they walked along pondering these things, "Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they should not know Him." He asked them, "What is it you're talking about, that you are so sad?"

In surprise Cleopas asked, "Art Thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?"

"What things?" He asked.

"Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people. And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered Him to be condemned to death, and have crucified Him." There was bitterness in Cleopas' voice.

"But we trusted that it had been He who should have redeemed Israel. And besides all this, today is the third day since these things were done . . ."

Cleopas and his companion were astonished when the stranger replied, "O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?"

He then explained to them the scriptures concerning Himself. And as they drew nigh unto their village they begged of him, "Abide with us, for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent."

"And He went in to tarry with them. And it came to pass, as He sat at meat with them, He took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew Him; and He vanished out of their sight.

"And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while He talked with us by the way, and while He opened to us the scriptures?"

Cleopas and his companion rushed back to Jerusalem, to share with the apostles and others their glorious experience. The apostles refused to believe them. But Cleopas and his friend persisted in their account.

"And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you."

School Board, Air Unit Posts Not Contested

Six School Board contestants and a lone candidate for the Airport Authority were nominated without opposition in the city primary election Tuesday.

Airport Authority member Fredrick Eiche led the slate with 16,825 votes in his uncontested bid for re-election.

In the contest for three four-year terms on the Board of Education, incumbent Catherine Angle had a 2,000-vote lead over her nearest rival.

Mrs. Angle garnered 15,907 votes, while the other two School Board members seeking re-election to a full term followed, John Lux with 13,964 and Marvin Stewart with 13,675.

Newcomer Ronald Jensen, also a candidate for a full term, received 12,491 votes.

In what promises to be a close contest for the single two-year vacancy, School Board member Ed Copple had only a slight edge on his challenger.

DANIEL PROTESTS IN LETTER . . .

Nixon's Intervention Shocks Prosecutor

Washington (AP) — Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, prosecutor in the trial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., has written President Nixon that his intervention in the case — "in the midst of public clamor" — has damaged the system of military justice.

Reached by telephone at Ft. Benning, Ga., Daniel refused to discuss the letter, saying "publicity was not my purpose in writing it."

Daniel said in a letter to the President, with copies to six senators, that he was shocked and dismayed at Nixon's action. He said it opened the system of military justice to charges "that it is subject to political influence . . ."

Did He Ponder?

He asked also whether Nixon had considered the effect of his intervention on the six military jurors who convicted Calley of premeditated murder.

Daniel said Nixon has enhanced the image of Calley "as a national hero . . ."

"For this nation to condone the acts of Lt. Calley is to make us no better than our enemies and make any pleas by this nation for the humane treatment of our own prisoners meaningless," Daniel wrote.

Murder Of Civilians

Calley was convicted of the premeditated murder of 22 South Vietnamese civilians in the My Lai incident — which, Daniel noted, Nixon once said "appears was certainly a massacre."

"In view of your previous statements concerning this matter, I have been particularly shocked and dismayed at your decision to intervene in these proceedings in the midst of the public clamor."

Nixon first ordered Calley released from the stockade at Ft. Benning after his conviction and sentencing Thursday to life imprisonment. He directed that Calley be held in a military version of house arrest. Then, on Saturday, the White House announced that the President intends to review the final military judgment in the case.

Response To Uproar

"Your decision can only have been prompted by the response of a vocal segment of our population who, while no doubt acting in good faith, cannot be aware of the evidence which has resulted in Lt. Calley's conviction," Daniel said in his letter dated April 3.

"I truly regret having to have written this letter and wish that no innocent person had died at My Lai on 16 March 1968," Daniel wrote. "But innocent people were killed under circumstances that will always remain abhorrent to my conscience.

"While in some respects what took place at My Lai has to be considered to be a tragic day in the history of our nation, how much more tragic would it have been for this country to have taken no action against those who were responsible.

Mayor Leads His Field, Faces Council Chairman

. . . 21,795 VOTE IN PRIMARY ELECTION

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf easily outdistanced his two rivals Tuesday at the primary polls for a post on the May 4 general election ballot.

Schwartzkopf, who received more than 50% of the votes cast for mayor, will face Council Chairman Erv Peterson in his bid for a second term as the head of the city.

Peterson finished 2,000 votes ahead of Bill Davidson, another councilman, in a turnout described as "very light" for a mayoral election by Election Commissioner Dean Petersen.

21,795 Turn Out

A total of 21,795 went to the polls out of 61,187 registered voters.

In the City Council race, incumbent Mrs. Helen Boosalis was the solid favorite of the voters, being named on more than one of every two ballots cast.

Mrs. Boosalis is seeking a fourth term on the council, campaigning for sound zoning and creation of a housing department.

Also Nominated

Also making the general election ballot are Steve Cook, an architect and member of the Planning Commission; F. Bob Sikyta, Havelock businessman and chairman of the Board of Zoning Appeals; W. Richard Baker, Havelock pharmacist and member of the City Library Board; Richard Hansen, attorney and former chairman of the City Charter Revision Committee; Nancy Childs, operator of a lecture bureau; Bill Murrell, West O wholesale liquor dealer, and Charles Hamilton, Coast-to-Coast stores owner.

Both Baker and Murrell have previously run unsuccessfully for the council after being nominated in the primary election.

Mrs. Boosalis, Cook and Sikyta maintained their one-two-three positions throughout election returns. The fourth spot, though, changed hands, first held by Hansen and then by Baker. Hansen ended up in fifth position.

Voters will elect four council members at the general election on May 4.

Zoning Turn-Around

The nominated council candidates generally took a conservative stand on zoning matters, in sharp contrast to the last council election, where the campaign talk was for more liberalized zoning policies.

A majority of the candidates have also called for coordination of local housing efforts, with all supporting a municipal bus service, an issue that will be on the May 4 ballot.

Finishing in ninth place out of the running was John Tomlinson, with University of Nebraska student John Breslow placing tenth.

Can't Affect Outcome

The 153 absentee and disabled votes still to be counted will not change the election outcome.

Mayor Schwartzkopf, commenting on his being the top votegetter for the mayoral post, said he feels the public has rejected the leadership issue brought up by his two opponents.

Both Peterson and Davidson had criticized the mayor for what they termed his lack of dynamic, strong leadership.

Ran On Record

Schwartzkopf, on the other hand, ran mostly on his record, although he did promise the creation of a housing department. He also pointed to the fact the city has been blessed during his term with not having the chaotic situation that has hit other urban cities.

He said he appreciates the confidence shown by the voters in his administration and promised a vigorous campaign to continue serving all of Lincoln.

Peterson said he was "pleased that I came in second and therefore am still in the race."

"I think it shows now that I have to get busy," he added, "and get my message across to the people."

Davidson said he plans to devote his fulltime efforts to his insurance business.

He said the people have apparently decided they want the present administration, adding that "I am a great believer the people should have what they want."

Davidson said he felt badly that less than one-third of the city's registered voters showed up at the polls.

10% Tuition Increase Inserted Into State College Budget Plan

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Appropriations Committee Tuesday built a 10% tuition increase into its state college budget recommendations, thereby reducing Gov. J James Exon's general fund budget figure for the institutions.

With only a few exceptions, the committee generally adhered to the governor's $16.5 million all-funds budget recommendation for the four schools during fiscal 1971-72.

Sen. Wayne Ziebarth of Wilcox sharply condemned the committee's tuition decision following the meeting.

That action, he said, "usurps" the authority of the board of trustees of the state colleges.

The tuition increase would amount to $33 per year for students at Kearney, Chadron, Wayne and Peru.

While the Legislature cannot raise tuition levels, it can force the governing board to follow its recommendation by building anticipated tuition funds into cash fund revenue while reducing general fund appropriations by the same amount.

Thus, the board must follow the Legislature's recommendation in order to capture its full budget allotment.

Tentative estimates indicated that the tuition decision would reduce the governor's general fund recommendation by about $450,000.

Although he recommended a tuition increase at the University of Nebraska, Exon did not propose a tuition hike at the colleges.

The committee completed work on the state college budgets Tuesday and decided to delay action on the University's operational budget until completion of the Unicameral's Easter recess next week.

Committee members will tour the University's Medical Center in Omaha Wednesday. The Legislature will begin its holiday recess Thursday, returning to action next Tuesday.

In the only other significant departure from the governor's state college recommendations, the committee slightly reduced the anticipated enrollment figure at the institutions, thus cutting total budget figures.

While the committee's final recommended budget figure must await staff compilation of the effect of Tuesday's decisions, it appeared that the overall change in Exon's total figures will be slight.

Altogether, prior to the state college decisions, the committee had reduced the governor's state budget general fund recommendations by $1,537,934, Marvel reported.

Exon recommended a 15% hike in general fund monies for the state colleges during the coming fiscal year.

A motion to increase tuition by 20% was turned down before the committee settled on a 10% hike.

Rep. Boggs Charges FBI Shadows Congressmen

Washington (UPI) — House Democratic leader Hale Boggs, renewing demands that J. Edgar Hoover resign, charged Tuesday that the FBI not only tapped congressmen's telephones but kept them under surveillance.

Denials came from the White House, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and — secondhardedly — from Hoover himself.

As the new controversy over the 76-year-old FBI director grew, Boggs told a news conference that "numerous congressmen" had informed him that both their telephones and activities "are the subject of surveillance by the FBI." Boggs again declined to offer any evidence to support his allegations, but said he would have more to say later.

Mitchell and the White House denied the phone tapping charge Monday when Boggs first made it and the FBI said Tuesday Boggs' charge that agents had kept Boggs under personal surveillance was "absolutely, utterly false."

Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott, said late Tuesday he had talked to Hoover and quoted him as saying: "I want to make a positive assertion that there has never been a wiretap of a senator's phone or the phone of a member of Congress since I became director in 1924, nor has any member of the Congress (House) or the Senate been under surveillance by the FBI."

Asked at a news conference if he knew why the FBI would want to gather information on him, Boggs replied: "Yes, I do, but I am not going to elaborate."

"In private communications," Boggs told reporters, "numerous members of Congress have reported to me their firm conviction that their telephone conversations and activities are the subject of surveillance by the FBI, much as was done last fall by the military intelligence agencies.

"Several members have made available to me detailed information confirming my own experience which substantiates these allegations, and it is my intention to make proper use of it in the near future."

But Boggs apparently tried to temper his Monday remarks in which he said Hoover was employing the tactics of Adolf Hitler and Soviet Russia. Tuesday, he said Hoover's "fairness and patriotism are unquestionable."

Consumers Relax Hold On Spending

New York (AP) — Consumer spending plans have shown their first significant upturn since last spring, the Conference Board reported Tuesday.

A survey of some 10,000 families across the country during January and February indicated, however, that Americans remained pessimistic about current economic conditions, the Board said.

"Buying plans have taken a sharp turn for the better, but the consumer has by no means shaken off his pessimism and seems unlikely to go on a spending splurge in months ahead," said Fabian Linden, the board's director of consumer economics.

Some 8% of the families surveyed planned to buy a car during the next six months, up from 7.2% in a November-December probe, the board said. Plans to buy homes and major appliances were also up, it said.

CLEOPAS . . .

Ten Who Knew Jesus

Seventh of a Series
By JOHN J. STEWART

"Abide with me; 'tis eventide . . . O Saviour, stay this night with me . . ."

Late Sunday afternoon two of the Christ's disciples, Cleopas and another, were walking forlornly along the road west from Jerusalem toward the village of Emmaus, some six miles away.

Their hearts were heavy with sadness at the death of the Master, and they found it impossible to believe the story of Mary Magdalene and other women who claimed to have seen Jesus that morning as a resurrected personage.

As they walked along pondering these things, "Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were holden that they should not know Him." He asked them, "What is it you're talking about, that you are so sad?"

In surprise Cleopas asked, "Art Thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?"

"What things?" He asked.

"'Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people. And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered Him to be condemned to death, and have crucified Him." There was bitterness in Cleopas' voice.

"But we trusted that it had been He who should have redeemed Israel. And besides all this, today is the third day since these things were done . . ."

Cleopas and his companion were astonished when the stranger replied, "O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?"

He then explained to them the scriptures concerning Himself. And as they drew nigh unto their village they begged of him, "Abide with us, for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent."

"And He went in to tarry with them. And it came to pass, as He sat at meat with them, He took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew Him; and He vanished out of their sight.

"And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while He talked with us by the way, and while He opened to us the scriptures?"

Cleopas and his companion rushed back to Jerusalem, to share with the apostles and others their glorious experience. The apostles refused to believe them. But Cleopas and his friend persisted in their account.

"And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you."

School Board, Air Unit Posts Not Contested

Six School Board contestants and a lone candidate for the Airport Authority were nominated without opposition in the city primary election Tuesday.

Airport Authority member Fredrick Eiche led the slate with 16,825 votes in his uncontested bid for re-election.

In the contest for three four-year terms on the Board of Education, incumbent Catherine Angle had a 2,000-vote lead over her nearest rival.

Mrs. Angle garnered 15,907 votes, while the other two School Board members seeking re-election to a full term followed, John Lux with 13,964 and Marvin Stewart with 13,675.

Newcomer Ronald Jensen, also a candidate for a full term, received 12,491 votes.

In what promises to be a close contest for the single two-year vacancy, School Board member Ed Copple had only a slight edge on his challenger.

Copple received 10,057 votes, with Karen Dinsmore running a close second at 9,880.

Yahya To Talk With 'Rational' East Pakistanis

(c) New York Times News Service

Karachi, Pakistan — President Yahya Khan has told the Soviet Union he intends to begin talks with "rational" representatives of East Pakistan as soon as possible. In a letter to Soviet President Podgorny made public Tuesday, the Pakistani president defended his use of force in East Pakistan as the only means of dealing with "subversive elements." Pacification Plan Effected

Washington — An ambitious $1 billion pacification plan has been quietly put into effect in South Vietnam by the Saigon government and the United States. The plan is aimed at the destruction of Communist subversive forces and at widening self-government and economic and social development, with the elimination of the Viet Cong infrastructure given top priority.

Nixon's Schedule Predicted

Washington — Sen. George D. Aiken predicted that President Nixon would announce an accelerated withdrawal schedule Wednesday evening that will lead to the removal of all American forces from South Vietnam by next year. Aiken also said the President has quietly doubled the withdrawal rate in the past two weeks.

Financing Plans In Trouble

Washington — Administration plans for a new medical-care financing bill have run into a major problem, according to health care planners. The delay has been caused by a disagreement over whether the cost of the program to employers would increase unemployment, which in turn would bring economic and political problems.

Nixon Wants Consolidation Of Aid To Education Funds

(C) Washington Star

World News

Washington —President Nixon sent the last of his special revenue-sharing messages to Congress Tuesday, a proposal to consolidate $2.8 billion in federal aid to education programs, add $200 million in new money and give the states more flexibility in using the funds.

In urging greater leeway for distribution of the money, the President said:

"I believe we must recognize that the federal government cannot substitute its good intentions for the local understanding of local problems, for local energy in attacking these problems, and for local initiative in improving the quality of education in America."

Nixon's proposal would rescind and then redraw many existing federal aid-to-education programs, some dating from the Eisenhower administration but most from the Johnson administration.

Opposition Expected

Although Nixon said education "transcends partisan politics," his proposals are expected to meet strong opposition from Democrats who may be unwilling to dismantle federal education programs they helped to frame.

Federal aid to education, the President said, currently is a "piecemeal system" that stifles initiative by the states, discourages innovation, makes planning difficult and is basically unaccountable and inflexible. He said his proposal would define more clearly the federal responsibility in education and would lay the foundation "for a new and more productive federal-state relationship in this area of vital national concern . . ."

Nixon's proposal would retain restrictions on how the states used more than half of the $3 billion. Federal funds to improve the education of children from low-income families — the present Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act — still would go directly to local school districts under current formulas.

One portion of the politically popular federal impact-aid program also would continue to be allotted directly to school districts This program is applied in areas where large numbers of federal employes work and live.

Provides Leeway

States would have leeway in switching funds among three other categories — education of the handicapped, vocational educational programs, and a mixture of support programs including aid for purchase of school textbooks, educational equipment and teacher-training. In these three areas states could switch up to 30% of the funds from program to program, depending on local needs.

A potentially controversial part of the President's proposal would broaden authority for the states to extend the federal aid to students in non-public parochial and private schools.

Non-public students would be counted in the complex formula for distribution of the funds and would be eligible for participation in educational services supported by the federal grants. In states in which local law prohibits aid to non-public schools, the secretary of health, education and welfare could make grants by bypassing the local educational authority.

The Einstein Of Music, Igor Stravinsky, Is Dead

New York (AP) — Igor Stravinsky, called "the Einstein of musical art" and considered the foremost composer of the 20th century, died Tuesday. He was 88.

"The greatest composer of this century . . . the last musical genius of the 20th century . . . great enough to cast his shadow over all of 20th century music . . . One of the great giants of the century."

These were among eulogies his contemporaries pronounced upon Stravinsky, following his death at his Fifth Avenue apartment. Russian Orthodox funeral services will be held here Friday, with burial later in the Russian corner of the Cemetery of San Michele in Venice.

Heart Failure

Stravinsky had been in failing health for several years, with circulatory and lung problems. Released from Lenox Hill hospital a week ago, his death was attributed simply to the failure of a tired and overburdened heart.

Russian-born into the realm of music June 18, 1882. Stravinsky was the son of a leading basso at the St. Petersburg opera. He studied under Rimsky-Korsakov, composer and orchestrator.

At Stravinsky's birth, Richard Wagner was still alive, although he was to die the following year. His had been the dominant influence on 19th century music.

'He Is A Giant'

Said Alexis Leger, French Nobel Prize winner and diplomat, in assessment of Stravinsky:

"Europe was under the spell of Wagner. We had to be liberated, not so much from Wagner as from Wagnerism. Stravinsky appeared as a man of great technical genius, and the mysterious instinct of the creator. We have been taking Stravinsky for granted for a long, long time. He is a giant, a great keystone and a far-reaching influence."

Irving Kolondin, music critic and associate editor of the Saturday Review, said Stravinsky conceived "a world of rhythmic, sonorous and harmonic combinations which effectively by-passed almost all Wagnerian associations."

In 1908, Stravinsky wrote "Fireworks," for the marriage of Rimsky's daughter. It came to the attention of Serge Diaghilev of the Ballets Russes. He commissioned the 27-year-old Stravinsky to write the score for a ballet based upon a Russian legend. The result in 1910 was "The Firebird," which led Diaghilev to remark of Stravinsky: "Mark him well. He is a man on the eve of celebrity."

'The Rite Of Spring'

The following year, Stravinsky scored the ballet "Petrouchka" for Diaghilev. In 1913, came "The Rite of Spring," an innovative score which proved to be slightly ahead of its time.

At its premiere in Paris, the savage primitiveness of the music caused members of the audience to fall upon one another with flailing canes, while boos and catcalls drowned out the orchestra. Stravinsky fled the theater.

However, "The Rite" won acceptance the following year as a break with the romanticism and sentimentality of the past.

Stravinsky went on to write upwards of 100 more pieces of music.

Soledad Brothers In Court As Wild Scuffle Breaks Out

San Francisco (AP) — A wild scuffle involving prisoners, spectators and police broke out in the Superior Court room of Judge Walter Calcagno Tuesday just after he set an Aug. 9 trial date for the so-called Soledad Brothers, three convicts charged with murder of a guard.

George Jackson, one of the three black convicts, started swinging at a bailiff when told he could not take a newspaper out of the courtroom in the Hall of Justice.

A number of persons in the audience of about 100 jumped over the rails and a general melee ensued.

The police tactical squad was summoned, and the disorder in the court and in the hall outside was soon put down with three-persons arrested.

Judge Calcagno had just set the trial date and assigned the case to Superior Court Judge Walter Carpeneti when the disorder broke out.

The judge refused a motion to let the prisoners stay for two hours to consult their attorneys before being taken back to San Quentin Prison, and the prisoners were told they could take out of the room only what they had brought in.

Jackson, Fleeta Drumgo and John Clutchette are charged with killing Soledad Prison guard John Mills on Jan. 16, 1970, in retaliation for the killing of three Negro prisoners by a guard three days earlier.

Their case was transferred to San Francisco and they were moved to San Quentin for safekeeping.

Radical groups have espoused their cause nationally, contending they are victims of racial and political oppression.

The Soledad three were linked to an escape attempt at the Marin County Civic Center last Aug. 7 in which a Superior Court judge, Jackson's brother Jonathon, and two black convicts were killed.

Chittagong Is Scene Of Mass Executions

Calcutta, India (AP) — U.S. and other foreign refugees from East Pakistan said Tuesday the rebels and their antagonists, the army, had staged an orgy of mass executions in Chittagong. Burning and looting left that great port an almost deserted wasteland.

The Bengalis of East Pakistan still were fighting outside Chittagong but the city itself was in the hands of West Pakistan's army, reported some of the 37 Americans and 82 other foreigners reaching Calcutta on the British ship Clan MacNair.

"The army only had to see a Bengali on the street and they shot him," said a Briton. "Chittagong is now deserted. Everyone has fled to the villages outside."

Said another Briton who was an engineer in a Chittagong jute mill: "In my own mill, people were murdered in front of my eyes. Many people were burned in their houses when the army put them to the torch. They seemed to take delight in destruction. Machine guns were going day and night and there was shelling from gunboats offshore."

The Britons said, however, that for two weeks before West Pakistan's army arrived, Bengalis had been murdering West Pakistanis living in Chittagong. They told of corpses lying in the streets for nine days.

Leon Lumsden, an American engineer working on a U.S. aid project reported: "Soldiers just walked up to anyone wearing a lungi, the native Bengali dress, and shot them through the head." He estimated he had seen 15 Bengalis killed.

House Committee Tentatively OKs Benefit Hike Plan

Washington (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee tentatively has approved automatic increases in Social Security benefits, geared to the cost of living.

This, it was learned Tuesday, is one of the preliminary decisions made as the committee completed the outline of a welfare-social security bill on which it has been working since January.

All decisions are subject to change when the committee reviews the draft bill, beginning April 20

More Consumer Investment Promised By Soviet Premier

©The New York Times

Moscow — Premier Aleksei N. Kosygin disclosed Tuesday in an economic policy report to the 24th congress of the Soviet Communist Party that a greater share of government investment would be channeled into consumer goods and agriculture over the next five years to carry through promises of a better life for the average citizen.

But the Soviet premier made it clear that the nation's heavy industrial base and defense would not be neglected under the new five-year plan, for 1971 through 1975.

In a three-hour speech before 5,000 congress delegates, he also affirmed that the profit-oriented economic reform, begun in 1965, was working well and would be further developed through a combination of central planning and market relations, with government planning remaining dominant.

On foreign economic relations, Kosygin expressed interest in more trade with the West but warned that the Soviet Union was not susceptible to threats of economic warfare.

"Those who count on causing harm to the Soviet Union by restricting or discriminating in economic relations with us forget one thing: the Soviet Union has resources that are entirely adequate for independent development," he said.

He expressed satisfaction over growing trade with Western Europe under long-term arrangements, and suggested that a proposed all-European conference discuss a joint European electric power grid, easing of transcontinental freight traffic and a coordinated fight against pollution and disease.

Proposal To Split Police Dept., Radical Slate Trail In Berkeley

Berkeley, Calif. (AP) — A slate of four self-proclaimed radicals was in the middle of a field of 33 candidates for the Berkeley City Council in first returns Tuesday. A ballot initiative proposing three separate police departments for black, white and student areas trailed by a 3-1 margin.

However, the first announced returns were reported based on a count of absentee ballots, traditionally more conservative than precinct returns.

A black moderate city councilman led an ally of the radical slate in the race for mayor. Four council seats and control of city government were at stake.

A white insurance broker backed by moderate groups received 1,415 votes in the first returns, followed by 1,260 votes for a conservative electronics executive who ran without the endorsement of any of five endorsing groups.

The radicals ranged from 857 votes to 626, falling in the middle positions in the race.

A four-member radical slate also proposed additional city services for the poor, including rent control on apartments, child care centers and a tax on income in excess of $12,000 instead of a property tax.

The 29 other candidates for the four council seats put forth liberal to conservative programs, ranging from acceptance of a modified version of community control to tough law and order stands.

The election campaign captured the attention of all factions of the university city, perhaps best known as the birthplace of the last decade's student protest movement. The city has 64,674 registered voters.

The radical slate's four members are D'Army Bailey, 29, and Ira T. Simmons, 28, both black attorneys; Rick Brown, 28, a graduate student; and Ilona Hancock, 30 a housewife.

The bitterly fought campaign drew to a close with protests over a possible secret leafleting campaign, alleged registration fraud, ballot counting at police headquarters and a dynamite cache found six blocks from police headquarters.

California Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. said after a conference with city and county officials Tuesday he was satisfied there had not been widespread fraudulent registrations.

East St. Louis Has First Negro Mayor

East St. Louis, Ill. (AP) — Jam E. Williams Sr., 49, a political newcomer, who campaigned on a theme of having no ties to political machines, was elected the first black mayor of this economically and racially troubled city Tuesday

Williams defeated another Negro, Virgil E. Calvert, a city commissioner and veteran political figure in this city across the Mississippi River from St. Louis, Mo.

Williams said he has no ties with the political organization that has run East St. Louis, which is 60-70% Negro.

KANSANS OK VOTING AT 18

Topeka, Kan. (AP) — Kansas residents decided Tuesday to lower the voting age in their state to 18.

Approval of the state constitutional amendment makes Kansas 18-year-olds eligible to vote in all elections regardless whether a federal constitutional amendment dropping the voting age in state and local elections is ratified by the necessary 38 states.

Chittagong Is Scene Of Mass Executions

Calcutta, India (AP) — U.S. and other foreign refugees from East Pakistan said Tuesday the rebels and their antagonists, the army, had staged an orgy of mass executions in Chittagong. Burning and looting left that great port an almost deserted wasteland.

The Bengalis of East Pakistan still were fighting outside Chittagong but the city itself was in the hands of West Pakistan's army, reported some of the 37 Americans and 82 other foreigners reaching Calcutta on the British ship Clan MacNair.

"The army only had to see a Bengali on the street and they shot him," said a Briton. "Chittagong is now deserted. Everyone has fled to the villages outside."

Said another Briton who was an engineer in a Chittagong jute mill: "In my own mill, people were murdered in front of my eyes. Many people were burned in their houses when the army put them to the torch. They seemed to take delight in destruction. Machine guns were going day and night and there was shelling from gunboats offshore."

The Britons said, however, that for two weeks before West Pakistan's army arrived, Bengalis had been murdering West Pakistanis living in Chittagong. They told of corpses lying in the streets for nine days.

Leon Lumsden, an American engineer working on a U.S. aid project reported: "Soldiers just walked up to anyone wearing a lungi, the native Bengali dress, and shot them through the head." He estimated he had seen 15 Bengalis killed.

House Committee Tentatively OKs Benefit Hike Plan

Washington (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee tentatively has approved automatic increases in Social Security benefits, geared to the cost of living.

This, it was learned Tuesday, is one of the preliminary decisions made as the committee completed the outline of a welfare-social security bill on which it has been working since January.

All decisions are subject to change when the committee reviews the draft bill, beginning April 20.

More Consumer Investment Promised By Soviet Premier

©The New York Times

Moscow — Premier Aleksei N. Kosygin disclosed Tuesday in an economic policy report to the 24th congress of the Soviet Communist Party that a greater share of government investment would be channeled into consumer goods and agriculture over the next five years to carry through promises of a better life for the average citizen.

But the Soviet premier made it clear that the nation's heavy industrial base and defense would not be neglected under the new five-year plan, for 1971 through 1975.

In a three-hour speech before 5,000 congress delegates, he also affirmed that the profit-oriented economic reform, begun in 1965, was working well and would be further developed through a combination of central planning and market relations, with government planning remaining dominant.

On foreign economic relations, Kosygin expressed interest in more trade with the West but warned that the Soviet Union was not susceptible to threats of economic warfare.

"Those who count on causing harm to the Soviet Union by restricting or discriminating in economic relations with us forget one thing: the Soviet Union has resources that are entirely adequate for independent development," he said.

He expressed satisfaction over growing trade with Western Europe under long-term arrangements, and suggested that a proposed all-European conference discuss a joint European electric power grid, easing of transcontinental freight traffic and a coordinated fight against pollution and disease.

Proposal To Split Police Dept., Radical Slate Trail In Berkeley

Berkeley, Calif. (AP) — A slate of four self-proclaimed radicals was in the middle of a field of 33 candidates for the Berkeley City Council in first returns Tuesday. A ballot initiative proposing three separate police departments for black, white and student areas trailed by a 3-1 margin.

However, the first announced returns were reported based on a count of absentee ballots, traditionally more conservative than precinct returns.

A black moderate city councilman led an ally of the radical slate in the race for mayor. Four council seats and control of city government were at stake.

A white insurance broker backed by moderate groups received 1,415 votes in the first returns, followed by 1,260 votes for a conservative electronics executive who ran without the endorsement of any of five endorsing groups.

The radicals ranged from 857 votes to 626, falling in the middle positions in the race.

A four-member radical slate also proposed additional city services for the poor, including rent control on apartments, child care centers and a tax on income in excess of $12,000 instead of a property tax.

The 29 other candidates for the four council seats put forth liberal to conservative programs, ranging from acceptance of a modified version of community control to tough law and order stands.

The election campaign captured the attention of all factions of the university city, perhaps best known as the birthplace of the last decade's student protest movement. The city has 64,674 registered voters.

The radical slate's four members are D'Army Bailey, 29, and Ira T. Simmons, 28, both black attorneys; Rick Brown, 28, a graduate student; and Ilona Hancock, 30 a housewife.

The bitterly fought campaign drew to a close with protests over a possible secret leafleting campaign, alleged registration fraud, ballot counting at police headquarters and a dynamite cache found six blocks from police headquarters.

California Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. said after a conference with city and county officials Tuesday he was satisfied there had not been widespread fraudulent registrations.

East St. Louis Has First Negro Mayor

East St. Louis, Ill. (AP) — Jam E. Williams Sr., 49, a political newcomer, who campaigned on a theme of having no ties to political machines, was elected the first black mayor of this economically and racially troubled city Tuesday.

Williams defeated another Negro, Virgil E. Calvert, a city commissioner and veteran political figure in this city across the Mississippi River from St. Louis, Mo.

Williams said he has no ties with the political organization that has run East St. Louis, which is 60-70% Negro.

KANSANS OK VOTING AT 18

Topeka, Kan. (AP) — Kansas residents decided Tuesday to lower the voting age in their state to 18.

Approval of the state constitutional amendment makes Kansas 18-year-olds eligible to vote in all elections regardless whether a federal constitutional amendment dropping the voting age in state and local elections is ratified by the necessary 38 states.

Embezzlement Charges Face Ex-Salem Banker

. . . TOTAL OF $19,000 SAID INVOLVED IN CASE

Falls City (AP) — The former president of the now insolvent Bank of Salem has been charged on three counts of embezzling a total of $19,000 from the bank and its customers.

John Allee, 29, of Falls City, was arrested here Monday night by Richardson County sheriff's officers. He was arraigned before Richardson County Judge Albert Maust and freed on $5,000 bond pending a preliminary hearing April 20.

State Banking Director Henry Ley said Tuesday the arrest of Allee was not related to the bank's sale in February.

The bank has been closed and declared "insolvent" by the Banking Department.

According to Ley, the charges against Allee allege that in March, 1970, he was the clerk of a farm sale for Harkendorff and Son and deposited the proceeds from the sale in his own account rather than in a special account.

Allee, according to the charges, then spent some of the sale proceeds and used money from the Bank of Salem to pay off the Harkendorff sale.

The charges against Allee were filed by Richardson County Attorney Henry Schepman at Ley's request.

According to Ley, the charges against Allee were filed as a result of discrepancies turned up in the Banking Department's audit of the Salem bank books.

The bank was closed March 26 and declared insolvent three days ago.

Ley said no individual deposit exceeds the $20,000 amount which is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). Several depositors have more than $20,000 in the bank but Ley said they are all governmental units and are covered by other insurance.

The State Banking Departments discovered, in a routine check, that Allee had sold his interest in the bank about Feb. 6 without state knowledge. The state said the bank had been operated in an unauthorized manner. Among the irregularities were loans made to some of the new owners.

Ley said the new owners installed Homer Lee Carter, then under indictment for bank embezzlement, as president and cashier of the bank and "he apparently made loans to four persons."

Ley said $15,000 was loaned to William Van Fleet, Circle, Mont.; $15,000 to Joginder Singh, Carmichael, Calif.; $10,000 to Singh's wife, Elizabeth, and $5,000 to Robert L. Naser, Portland, Ore.

Ley identified Singh, Van Fleet, Carter and Billy Gregory, Hubbard, Ore., as the men who purchased the bank from Allee.

Ley said he doesn't yet know Naser's connection with the bank.

Ley said he had not been able to reach Carter or his probation officer in Billings, Mont. Carter pleaded guilty March 26 in Rapid City, S.D., to embezzling from the Spearfish, S.D., bank and was placed on three years probation and ordered to return $7,250 to the bank.

Ley said to the best of his knowledge, no criminal charges ever have been filed against Singh, Gregory, Van Fleet or Naser.

4-Year Power Study Cost Set At $400,000

Omaha (AP) — It will cost between $400,000 and $500,000 and take about four years to conduct a study on the advisability of providing additional power production at the main stem Missouri River dams, an official of the Omaha District of the Army Engineers said Tuesday.

The study, started by the district in January, received endorsement from state officials and from officials representing public and private power companies during a public meeting here Tuesday.

Warren Mellema, project coordinator for the study, said the effort is expected to be completed in 1975 but could take longer if the corps encounters funding problems from Congress.

However, he said all indications from federal sources are that "there won't be any problems getting funds."

Lt. Col. Walter Fred, deputy district engineer, said the corps already has received about $20,000 for the study.

The meeting was the last of six the Army Engineers held to gather information from various Missouri River Basin regions.

Officials asked during the meeting that the corps consider the effects on environment, power rates, fish and wildlife and recreation that additional power production would have in affected areas.

Mellema said similar concerns were expressed at each meeting.

He said the principal concern in Nebraska appears to be what effect additional power production would have on power rates and on agriculture.

'Terminal' Show Slated For Ak Livestock Event

Nebraska News

The 1971 Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show, "the world's largest 4-H livestock show," will be a "terminal" show for all entries in the market lamb, swine and beef divisions.

Bob Volk, Ak-Sar-Ben's director of agricultural activities, announced the decision to take the significant step at a news conference here during the University of Nebraska's annual Livestock Judging Clinic.

It is the first time in the history of major interstate livestock shows that all entries of the three species, from the grand champion to the lowest-rated animal, will be slaughtered for carcass evaluation.

"The changes we are announcing are the most sigificant in the 44-year history of the Ak-Sar-Ben show," Volk said. "Annually exhibitors have demanded more and more carcass information on their animals. We believe moving to a 'terminal' show will accommodate the majority of exhibitors.

"While all entries in the sheep and swine divisions at Ak-Sar-Ben have gone to slaughter for compilation of carcass data in recent years, only the purple ribbon group of market beef cattle have gone through carcass evaluation procedures."

The establishment of a single live animal and carcass show for beef with premiums paid on a separate basis was recommended by 32 industry leaders at a National Beef Seminar held at Ak-Sar-Ben in December, 1970.

The seminar was called to determine goals for market steer shows and to set standards to meet the needs of the livestock and meat industry. Leaders at the seminar grappled with what some observers have called "the two standard system," — one for the live steer show and one for the carcass show. Some calves that have won carcass contests in the past have not been compatible from the standpoint of the breeder or feeder in economical beef production.

Peak Cross-Examined During Murder Trial

Omaha (AP) —The defense began an effort to discredit the testimony of the prosecution's key witness Tuesday in the murder trial of David L. Rice and Edward Poindexter.

The witness, Duane Christopher Peak, 16, was on the stand for the secod day before District Judge Donald Hamilton and a jury of nine women and three men.

Peak is charged along with Rice and Poindexter with first degree murder in the booby-trap slaying of Omaha Patrolman Larry D. Minard last Aug. 17.

Thomas Kenney, assistant public defender, asked Peak, "Has your attorney ever told you that if you testify against Edward Poindexter and David Rice that you might be allowed to plead to a lesser charge?"

Peak replied: "He said there is a possibility."

Aware Of Penalty

Peak said he was aware that the penalty for first degree murder, upon conviction, is life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

Kenney and Public Defender Frank Morrison are representing Poindexter.

In response to questions from Kenney, Peak told the court he was jailed in Fremont following his arrest last Aug. 28. He said he has been allowed to have his own TV set and radio in a private cell and that "occasionally" he was brought by police into Omaha and permitted to visit relatives. He said he also was permitted to dine out in Omaha on several occasions.

Catholic School At Chadron Is Closing, Council Decides

Chadron (AP) — Assumption Academy, the only Catholic school in this northwest Nebraska community, will be closed at the end of the current school year, the Parish Council has decided.

The council acted on the recommendation of School Board Chairman Joe Kanarick.

The school presently has an enrollment of about 65 students in grades 1 through 6 and 85 students in grades 7 through 12.

Kanarick told the council the board's recommendation came as a result of the "changing attitude toward enlightened support of Catholic education" and the fact that "no teaching nuns are available" and that "to the best of our knowledge we have totally exhausted all available resources in personnel and money."

The council directed the board to review the possible reopening of all or part of the school on an annual basis.

Norfolk Awarded Grant For Home Health Care Unit

The Nebraska Hospital Association was awarded a grant to Norfolk for the construction of a home health care facility.

Burney Bouslaugh of Lincoln, coordinator for the association, said the grant is for no specific dollar amount but would include reimbursement for costs accrued in beginning the project.

Bouslaugh explained the home health care service will be a cooperative effort between the two hospitals in Norfolk.

Bouslaugh said the program would offer skilled nursing care service and physical therapists to persons still at home or returning home after having been hospitalized.

Lloyd Mattson, Ex-MUD Board Member, Is Dead

Omaha (UPI) — Lloyd M. Mattson, a Metropolitan Utilities Board member for 17 years and long active in civic affairs, died Tuesday at a hospital after a six-month illness.

He was a member of the utilities board from 1954 until he was defeated in last November's election.

Mr. Mattson, 80, was the founder and chairman of the board of the Industrial Chemical Laboratories, Inc.

Survivors include his wife, one son and one daughter.

The funeral will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Plainview Man Killed As Auto Topples On Him

Plainview (UPI) — Services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday for Eugene W. Matson, 53, of Plainview who was crushed to death Monday night when his auto fell on him.

Police said Matson had been employed in the northwest area of Pierce County as a road machine operator.

Officers said he was working on his car in the garage of his home on the edge of Plainview when the accident occurred. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Services will be at the Friends Church in Plainview.

Survivors include his wife, Thelma; two sons, Eugene and Marlin; and a daughter, Elizabeth.

Sub Is Damaged

London (UPI) — Five feet of water flooded a compartment of Britain's newest nuclear submarine during its final outfitting at a wet dock near Liverpool, a defense ministry spokesman said. Damage to the HMS Conqueror was caused by material failure, he said, but the reactor compartment was not affected by the water.

Guard Defects

Lubeck, Germany (UPI) — A 21-year-old East German border guard disarmed two other soldiers patrolling with him and fled across the border to West Germany, West German frontier officials said.

New Proposals Would Hike Federal Budget 60%—Curtis

Washington (AP) — Members of the 92nd Congress in less than 60 days have introduced measures proposing new spending that would increase the federal budget for fiscal 1972 by 60%, Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., said Tuesday.

In remarks delivered to the Senate Republican policy conference, Curtis commented on "this many-tentacled octopus of proposed new federal programs which threatens to strangle our free enterprise economy."

He made a similar speech before the Senate on Monday.

Curtis displayed a chart showing that the price tag for 85 measures analyzed in a study made at his request comes to $130,556,170,000 for one year.

A member of the Senate Finance Committee, Curtis noted that the new spending proposed by these measures would cost more than the estimated $130.4 billion in revenue which the federal government will receive during fiscal 1972 from personal and corporate taxes.

Projected beyond one fiscal year, the Nebraska senator said, the total measurable cost of the 85 proposals jumps to a figure of $245,972,887,755, which he said would exceed the entire fiscal 1972 federal budget of $229.2 billion.

Curtis said the proposals would triple the present level of spending for health and welfare, more than double the level for enviromental programs, and nearly double the amount for education.

Washington (AP) — The Defense Department reported Tuesday the death of Army Spec. 4 Allen E. Kinsman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Kinsman of Arthur, Neb., in Southeast Asia.

His death was listed as due to non-hostile causes.

Peak Cross-Examined During Murder Trial

Omaha (AP) —The defense began an effort to discredit the testimony of the prosecution's key witness Tuesday in the murder trial of David L. Rice and Edward Poindexter.

The witness, Duane Christopher Peak, 16, was on the stand for the secod day before District Judge Donald Hamilton and a jury of nine women and three men.

Peak is charged along with Rice and Poindexter with first degree murder in the booby-trap slaying of Omaha Patrolman Larry D. Minard last Aug. 17.

Thomas Kenney, assistant public defender, asked Peak, "Has your attorney ever told you that if you testify against Edward Poindexter and David Rice that you might be allowed to plead to a lesser charge?"

Peak replied: "He said there is a possibility."

Aware Of Penalty

Peak said he was aware that the penalty for first degree murder, upon conviction, is life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

Kenney and Public Defender Frank Morrison are representing Poindexter.

In response to questions from Kenney, Peak told the court he was jailed in Fremont following his arrest last Aug. 28. He said he has been allowed to have his own TV set and radio in a private cell and that "occasionally" he was brought by police into Omaha and permitted to visit relatives. He said he also was permitted to dine out in Omaha on several occasions.

Catholic School At Chadron Is Closing, Council Decides

Chadron (AP) — Assumption Academy, the only Catholic school in this northwest Nebraska community, will be closed at the end of the current school year, the Parish Council has decided.

The council acted on the recommendation of School Board Chairman Joe Kanarick.

The school presently has an enrollment of about 65 students in grades 1 through 6 and 85 students in grades 7 through 12.

Kanarick told the council the board's recommendation came as a result of the "changing attitude toward enlightened support of Catholic education" and the fact that "no teaching nuns are available" and that "to the best of our knowledge we have totally exhausted all available resources in personnel and money."

The council directed the board to review the possible reopening of all or part of the school on an annual basis.

Norfolk Awarded Grant For Home Health Care Unit

The Nebraska Hospital Association was awarded a grant to Norfolk for the construction of a home health care facility.

Burney Bouslaugh of Lincoln, coordinator for the association, said the grant is for no specific dollar amount but would include reimbursement for costs accrued in beginning the project.

Bouslaugh explained the home health care service will be a cooperative effort between the two hospitals in Norfolk.

Bouslaugh said the program would offer skilled nursing care service and physical therapists to persons still at home or returning home after having been hospitalized.

Lloyd Mattson, Ex-MUD Board Member, Is Dead

Omaha (UPI) — Lloyd M. Mattson, a Metropolitan Utilities Board member for 17 years and long active in civic affairs, died Tuesday at a hospital after a six-month illness.

He was a member of the utilities board from 1954 until he was defeated in last November's election.

Mr. Mattson, 80, was the founder and chairman of the board of the Industrial Chemical Laboratories, Inc.

Survivors include his wife, one son and one daughter.

The funeral will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Sub Is Damaged

London (UPI) — Five feet of water flooded a compartment of Britain's newest nuclear submarine during its final outfitting at a wet dock near Liverpool, a defense ministry spokesman said. Damage to the HMS Conqueror was caused by material failure, he said, but the reactor compartment was not affected by the water.

Plainview Man Killed As Auto Topples On Him

Plainview (UPI) — Services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday for Eugene W. Matson, 53, of Plainview who was crushed to death Monday night when his auto fell on him.

Police said Matson had been employed in the northwest area of Pierce County as a road machine operator.

Officers said he was working on his car in the garage of his home on the edge of Plainview when the accident occurred. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Services will be at the Friends Church in Plainview.

Survivors include his wife, Thelma; two sons, Eugene and Marlin; and a daughter, Elizabeth.

Guard Defects

Lubeck, Germany (UPI) — A 21-year-old East German border guard disarmed two other soldiers patrolling with him and fled across the border to West Germany, West German frontier officials said.

New Proposals Would Hike Federal Budget 60%—Curtis

Washington (AP) — Members of the 92nd Congress in less than 60 days have introduced measures proposing new spending that would increase the federal budget for fiscal 1972 by 60%, Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., said Tuesday.

In remarks delivered to the Senate Republican policy conference, Curtis commented on "this many-tentacled octopus of proposed new federal programs which threatens to strangle our free enterprise economy."

He made a similar speech before the Senate on Monday.

Curtis displayed a chart showing that the price tag for 85 measures analyzed in a study made at his request comes to $130,556,170,000 for one year.

A member of the Senate Finance Committee, Curtis noted that the new spending proposed by these measures would cost more than the estimated $130.4 billion in revenue which the federal government will receive during fiscal 1972 from personal and corporate taxes.

Projected beyond one fiscal year, the Nebraska senator said, the total measurable cost of the 85 proposals jumps to a figure of $245,972,887,755, which he said would exceed the entire fiscal 1972 federal budget of $229.2 billion.

Curtis said the proposals would triple the present level of spending for health and welfare, more than double the level for enviromental programs, and nearly double the amount for education.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Recently, this writer received a letter from a reader, commenting upon criticism that has appeared in this space in the past of Gov. J. James Exon. The reader asked in his letter: "Why don't you get off his back and give him a chance?"

If only it were as simple as that. We do not feel we have been "on the governor's back" but we do feel strongly about his budget proposals. To date, we have concentrated on his budget for the University of Nebraska but that is not the only issue we have with the budget.

There are a lot of issues and this is why we feel we cannot remain silent. Personally, we like Governor Exon; we think he is trying to do the best job he can; we think it is healthy for the two-party system in Nebraska that he was elected, but none of this means that we should not point out our differences with him.

Going to the budget, we would like to point out a few more things that worry us. Last week, we made a reference to the fact that the Exon budget would mean a drop from 25 per cent to 13 per cent in state matching funds of federal aid for parks and recreation development.

That, we think, is a serious mistake, especially at this time of growing interest in our environment and the quality of life of our people. The reduction will seriously curtail park and recreation developments in smaller cities of the state and be a tough blow for even Lincoln and Omaha.

And let's look at a few other things. Exon's budget eliminates the nearly $150,000-a-year operation of the State Personnel Office. The activities of the office would be transferred to the Department of Administrative Services (DAS).

In DAS, personnel would have a $16,000 budget for two people, $35,000 for data processing and nearly $5,000 for printing, postage, etc. Now, the State Personnel Department has 11 employes out of an authorized strength of 14.

Recently completed was a $60,000 classification and equal pay study, with the pay end of things still to be implemented. In our opinion, this study would soon end up as wasted money because the niggardly DAS personnel operation could not handle it.

Other personnel matters, we feel, would go down the drain, too. The net effect would be to enhance the empire building within departments and to increase inequities and inefficiencies that a good personnel department would eliminate.

Under the present personnel operation in the state are 15,200 employes. Yet, under DAS and Exon's budget, Nebraska would have no personnel department. Omaha has a personnel department with a $21,000-a-year director and Lincoln has such a department with a $17,243-a-year director.

Fortunately, the Budget Committee of the Legislature has not seen fit to go along with the Exon budget in this area, although it will probably recommend a reduced figure for the department.

Staying with DAS, it is one department with a larger budget than the last biennium. Biggest increase in the department is an approximate $3.3 million hike in revolving funds.

★

For the most part, these funds will increase by charging all other state departments more for such things as data processing, central billing, central purchasing, etc. We suspect that this means even tighter budgets in many state agencies than their already stringent figures from the governor's office would show.

In DAS, too, are two other new things. The $1.1 million per biennium operations of state planning are transferred to DAS at the paltry level of $98,000.

Part of the reason for this is that DAS, also, gets from the Department of Economic Development the $514,000 per biennium operation of the communities affairs section. This is the state agency helping small cities and towns in the state with federal programs in a multitude of areas such as housing, transportation, education, sewage treatment, etc.

But with a good supply of planners, communities affairs can assist with state planning. Thus, both state planning and communities affairs planning are weakened.

These are a few of the mistakes we believe Exon is making — mistakes that will haunt this state for a long time in the future. It's the welfare of the state that concerns us, not the pleasure of the governor, and that's why we intend to keep telling people what the Exon budget is doing to Nebraska.

'We'll Keep Getting Our Aid Direct'

Politicians Not Helping

State senators, no different than members of other representative political bodies, in addition to discharging their constitutional responsibilities are given to expressing collective opinions on great issues of the day, as well as giving weight to resolutions dealing with events or issues of relatively little importance.

Resolutions dealing with emotion-filled national or international events oftentimes are born of knee-jerk reactions from the gut and are often better left unspoken. And, at times, the sense of the legislative body is given without any thought given to the contents of the resolution, at all.

A news item a few days ago told of a legislature — we forget which state — which approved among a long list of such nonsense a resolution that commended Albert DeSalvo for his dedicated work in the field of population control. The lawmakers were then reminded that DeSalvo allegedly is the notorious Boston Strangler, whose technique is considered less than desirable in a civilized society. The point made, co-sponsors of the resolution, weary of the lack of attention given to such matters, asked that it be withdrawn.

There is no comparison between a legislative resolution regarding the Lt. Calley case and the one commending DeSalvo except perhaps for a lack of thought. We are wondering, therefore, if the Nebraska Legislature should have involved itself in the Calley case and its aftermath at this time. Two resolutions were before the Unicameral, one which would commend President Nixon for his decision to review the case and one urging clemency for Calley. Tuesday, the two resolutions were combined into one commending the president and it was passed.

The My Lai affair has divided this country — although along somewhat different lines — almost as much as the larger issue, the war itself. If a majority of Americans feel that Lt. Calley is a hero, then this country has changed. It is not the same country that most of us have grown up in.

"The country must retain its senses," Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, D-Ill., said Monday. "And it's getting precious little help from the politicians." Which is why we feel that it would have been better that the Legislature keep from commenting on the issue until the hue and cry subsides and the country regains its perspective.

Controversy Stirs Anew

The controversy surrounding FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover is bound to continue unabated and the "political dialogue" between defenders and opponents will reach new lows as long as the 76-year-old director remains in office.

Hoover's defenders, from the President and Atty. Gen. Mitchell on down, are jealously guarding a national institution whose past record is still highly regarded in the minds of many Americans. But it is this bulldoggish attitude of looking the other way, or not wanting to realize that Hoover's time has come, that causes the frustration on the part of people who care a little bit about dangers to civil liberties. The intractable quality possessed by both sides will breed more wildly irresponsible statements as time goes on.

The latest round in the escalating controversy came Monday when Hale Boggs of Louisiana, Democratic floor leader in the House, accused the FBI of tapping congressmen's telephones, putting agents on college campuses and "adopting the tactics of Hitler's Germany and the Soviet Union." Boggs declared: "The time has come for the attorney general of the United States to ask for the resignation of J. Edgar Hoover."

Mitchell immediately responded by saying that Boggs "has reached a new low in political dialogue" and that he should "recant at once and apologize to a great and dedicated American." Boggs replied that "not only will I not apologize but I am astonished that the attorney general has so little regard for the Bill of Rights that he continues to defend this incompetent man."

Hoover, who admits that he holds some attorney generals in such low regard that he refused to talk to one of his bosses for six months, described another as a "jellyfish" in an earlier controversy.

The situation becomes more ridiculous as time passes. President Nixon is doing no service to the country by looking to the past.

MARQUIS CHILDS

The Task Of Convincing

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — In the decade beginning so promisingly with the inauguration of a young, buoyant president that saw such a long succession of horrors, one of the chief casualties has been an almost total erosion of confidence and trust. This is the blank wall which President Nixon's principal advisers confront as they put together the facts and figures — the raw material — that will go into the President's speech tonight.

Rarely has there been such a thorough, exacting analysis as went into the appraisal of the Laos operation. Under the direction of that demanding taskmaster, Henry A. Kissinger, the President's adviser on national security affairs, hundreds of hours went into winnowing every scrap of information.

A team was sent to Vietnam for a private inquiry independent of the American military related to the operation. Each intelligence agency was called on for a separate judgment, and then the intelligence chiefs were assembled collectively to confront their respective differences. During a good bit of the past week at the Western White House, Kissinger has been poring over six fat volumes containing estimates, figures, projections related to Laos.

Out of all this has come the following conclusion: The objectives of the Laos operation were 75 to 80 percent achieved. It means that for 1971 and into 1972, the communists will be held to the level of warfare of the past year; that is, to the tactics of hit-and-run terror. They will be unable to mount a battalion attack. Both in losses in battle-hardened manpower and in disruption of the supply trails, they simply will not have the capacity in the foreseeable future to wage anything like conventional warfare.

If this is true, then why should the President not announce a fixed date for the withdrawal of all American forces? This question inevitably arises in discussion of the Indochina balance sheet. Since the situation is so well in hand — "The war in Vietnam is all but at an end" — there would seem to be no possible harm resulting from announcement of a terminal date. It should take the heat off the rapidly escalating pressures both in Congress and the country to set, as in the resolution adopted by the Demoratic caucus of the House, a time certain.

The answer of the President's closest advisers is that this would shut the door on any possibility of negotiation at Paris. That door, as seen from White House perspective, is still open a crack. Moreover, since the communists have failed to respond to any of the overtures, such as the promise of phased withdrawal in the Nixon speech of last October, there is no reason to believe advance notice of departure would produce results.

Yet, so the reasoning goes, if they come face to face with the hard facts of their post-Cambodian-Laotian dilemma, they may decide to move to the conference table. They surely know that with a peace settlement, or even serious overtures in that direction from Hanoi, the homeward bound movement would be irresistible.

But how to convince the public that Laos was a success — a qualified success but nevertheless a success — and that with a little more patience Vietnamization will be carried to a conclusion? The President's advisers have no illusions about the wall of skepticism, doubt, fear, hostility in the path.

Richard Nixon, who has reduced the number of ground troops in Vietnam by nearly half, is not credible, whereas Lyndon Johnson, when he was expanding the force to a total of 549,000, seems to have had if not acceptance at least a tolerance that was in part ignorance. This is what the Nixon men find so baffling and frustrating.

Stopping short of the luxury of despair, they know the country is being torn apart not only by the war but by all the dire events of the decade of the '60s. Three assassinations, the burning of the cities, the rioting and disorders — this is the heritage of an administration that pleads for belief and yet by both word and act falls short of the rising tide of expectations.

The spring will see more demonstrations, angrier voices raised. The more sensitive and aware men around the President know that this arises only in the smallest degree from ideologies bent on tearing the system down. It comes mainly from men and women, and above all the young, who can endure no more war, no more killing, no more mass bombing. They are as remote from the President's words as though they lived on another planet, as in a sense they do.

Good Leadership

Lincoln, Neb.

In regard to your editorial of March 19, I must agree with you when you state that housing for all the "low-income" citizens is a frustrating, sometimes seemingly unsolvable problem. Homebuilders, as a group, have long recognized that there have developed some imbalances in our society that tend to make it difficult or impossible for some to "have the opportunity" to obtain adequate housing. The home-building industry has been a leader in cooperating with and encouraging the Department of HUD in programs to improve this situation. Improvements in FHA and VA programs and more recently, the 23% program, are examples of private industry plus government assistance providing a respectable answer to those temporarily caught in this imbalance squeeze. These programs need to be expanded if we are to make meaningful progress.

You do state that special interest groups (builders included) have blocked "public housing" in the past. This may be somewhat unfair and misleading. Recently, several local builders have—on their own—built projects for local citizens under what could be called a form of public housing and about 1965 the Homebuilders Association initiated a low-income housing program that was killed for lack of workable program in the city.

You also seem to infer that an easy answer is almost within reach. That the ability to obtain a program with 100% government funds and 100% government-administrated housing units would do it all if only authority could be obtained for this. There are too many examples of failure and far too few of success of this kind of program to give it too much consideration.

One example that housing is a very complex problem is Secretary Romney's (HUD) plan called "Operation Breakthrough"—a proposal open to any corporation in the whole U.S. to design housing and housing projects with any methods available to bring costs down to a level and design up to a level that would be a compatible answer for the low-income part of our society —to date—no clear results are apparent.

The Housing Authority has certainly contributed much to this problem in recent years. More progress will come but this problem does need leadership. I don't subscribe to the lament that if we don't get government funds, we will be lost forever. Good leadership that would bring together all the interested forces, including builders, would be a surprisingly powerful tool.

Asks Protection

Ord, Neb.

It is with regret that I see we have the selfish and greedy people with us again. They seem to assume the attitude that "what is mine is mine and what is yours is mine, too."

The farmers feed these birds and animals the whole year but have no right to protect them. They leave corn and other food in the field for them during the winter. I know some who have even pulled the husks off for them.

Just how much have the sportsmen put in the "kitty" to feed them? They don't want us to have one thing to enjoy.

As for Mr. Lambert's saying there would be more doves if they had them on the list, he evidently has not done much research on them, as Massachusetts tried that and they were almost decimated and since 1908 they have been on the Massachusetts perpetual protection list.

It seems needless that every two years we must go through this hassle with a few greedy people who want to take charge of the world. I don't see how the senators could be for something that 90 or 95 per cent of their constituents are against. Let's have what we should have had long ago — perpetual protection.

Forgiveness

York, Neb.

I've been shocked to see how many law-abiding citizens of this country have jumped to the side of a soldier representing our country, Lt. Calley, who despite what he says did ruthlessly murder little children and old people.

Are we trying to say that what he did was right? Isn't there anyone who can see anything wrong with what he did? True, he was taught to kill, but to kill enemy soldiers. How could it be possible that he could have convinced himself that those little children were enemy soldiers?

War is horrible for everyone involved, but should we add to the monstrosities that occur by upholding a murderer of old people and little children?

We all have to take the blame for what he did. In a way, each one of us was there holding the machine - gun and shooting down those people. Perhaps we are trying to excuse ourselves from guilt by excusing what he did under the name of war. We should ask forgiveness if we don't stand up now and condemn the slaughter of innocent people.

Our Nostalgia Binge Is For The Mothballs

NEW YORK — Come on, fellas, enough is enough. Nostalgia is all right for reading old love letters . . . in the attic . . . on a rainy day. But as a way of life, it can get to be a drag.

The same affliction seems to have hit the older generation. Why else would Ruby Keeler's revival of "No, No, Nanette" be the hottest show on Broadway? It must be nostalgia; I just don't know whether "Tea for Two" or Miss Keeler would make it if this were the first time around for either.

This hankering for things past could backfire on us, you know. Even now, with apologies to any historians in the house, it's beginning to turn into a national cop-out.

☆ ☆ ☆

Maybe it's just laziness . . . or a sign of the bewilderment everybody feels these days. But—at a time when we need fresh thinking and original inspiration—our creative people are turning their backs on the future to imitate styles we've already put behind us.

And styles that weren't all that great in the first place.

Football shoulder pads, sausage curls and floozie furs looked terrible in the '40s—and they look terrible now. But they're back. Along with granny glasses, pioneer dresses and throat chokers.

Men aren't getting off so easy, either. Remember how you used to giggle over Grandpa's knickers and high laced boots in the family album? Well, that's one of the getups the designers are pushing now.

Old-fashioned cars are in, too. You can order up a replica of the old Model A for around $7,000. (Or a miniature Model T for a little less. It cost something like $295 in 1925.)

An imitation 1926 Mercedes is a little more. But if you want the revived Dusenberg, now, that's going to set you back $30,000 or so.

☆ ☆ ☆

Remember when Pop used to roll his own cigarettes? Sonny's doing the same thing today, only it may not always be tobacco he's rolling.

Many a consumer, weary with battling the high cost of everything, has ordered up one of those turn-of-the-century mail-order catalogues. Somehow, it seems to soothe his psyche to turn the pages and drool over $12 suits and $2 shoes.

What he forgets in his nostalgia kick is that pay checks back then matched those prices. An old newspaper clipping, dated April 2, 1903, reports "15,000 building workers on strike for a 20 per cent wage increase."

That may sound like today's headline, but read on: "Painters and carpenters demanded increases from $3 to $3.28 . . . masons from $3.50 to $4.20 . . . plumbers from $3.50 to $4 . . . and hod carriers from $2 to $2.94."

That's per day, folks, per day.

Maybe the present isn't all that much fun to live with. But the future could be. The only thing is that we'll never find it mooning around the attic.

Nixon 'New American Revolution' Of 1971 Resembles Many Of The Old Taft Doctrines

NEW YORK — For a reporter who remembers the days of Robert A. Taft, the Nixon "New American Revolution" of 1971 sounds remarkably like orthodox Republican doctrine of 1952.

Taft, who died in 1953 after three times seeking his party's presidential nomination unsuccessfully, was the "Mr. Republican" of his era because he combined ideological passion and intelligent, serious-minded concern for public problems. Nineteen years ago this spring as he campaigned in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and other state primaries, Taft stressed the same themes which Nixon is now developing for next year's campaign.

Nixon assails the federal government as too big and "musclebound." He urges returning power to state and local government because "local government is the government closest to the people and it is most responsive to the individual person."

Taft defined the same issue as liberty vs. "creeping socialism." He said, "Liberty means the liberty of local self-government: the right of every community to decide on its local institutions, how its children shall be educated, what local services shall be rendered and how, the form of local governments, all without direction by some federal bureau in Washington; the rights of states to run their own affairs."

☆ ☆ ☆

President Nixon assails inflation and has vetoed education and housing bills on the ground that excessive public expenditures are inflationary. The Korean war produced inflation in 1951-52 and Senator Taft denounced it, promising to end it by reducing federal expenditures. He, too, proposed to reorganize the federal bureaucracy to achieve lower costs and greater efficiency.

A generation ago, Taft attacked the draft and urged a return as soon as militarily possible to a volunteer army.

"Surely," he said, "we can make the army sufficiently attractive as an occupation for (young men) to be willing to volunteer. With good pay, reasonable treatment for men and their families, and provisions for retraining and retirement when a man is too old to say in the army, I don't see why army life cannot be made just as attractive as working daily on a machine or mining coal."

☆ ☆ ☆

Taft was well ahead of Nixon or Rep. Wilbur Mills in seeing the need for a family assistance plan. "There are many families who, because of misfortune or their own faults, fall below the standard we would like to see all attain," Taft said. "I believe we should make a deliberate effort to put a floor under the essential requirements of our lowest income families so that extreme hardship and poverty may be eliminated."

Taft even had his own version of revenue-sharing, but he came at the problem from the opposite direction. Nixon wants the federal government to continue collecting tax revenue but turn a share of it over to the states. Taft thought it might be possible for the federal government to forego certain taxes and let the states collect them instead.

That was an idea which President Eisenhower took up. He appointed two different commissions to study it. At one point, he tried unsuccessfully to persuade the governors that it would be in their interest if the federal government stopped financing a particular grant-in-aid program such as vocational education and at the same time the states instead of the federal government began levying the excise tax on telephones.

If he were alive today, Robert Taft, who had no flair for public relations and even had a certain contempt for that peculiar art, would be startled to hear many of his conservative ideas dressed up as a "New American Revolution." But Taft also had a pragmatist's respect for success. He would be fascinated to see if a Republican president could lead a successful political attack against the federal bureaucracy while presiding over it.

He would be delighted if Nixon could sell good Ohio Republican ideas — such as opposition to big government, defense of state's rights, a volunteer army, and the need for local and individual responsibility — as a cure for the restlessness of the young and the frustrations of their parents.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Recently, this writer received a letter from a reader, commenting upon criticism that has appeared in this space in the past of Gov. J. James Exon. The reader asked in his letter: "Why don't you get off his back and give him a chance?"

If only it were as simple as that. We do not feel we have been "on the governor's back" but we do feel strongly about his budget proposals. To date, we have concentrated on his budget for the University of Nebraska but that is not the only issue we have with the budget.

There are a lot of issues and this is why we feel we cannot remain silent. Personally, we like Governor Exon; we think he is trying to do the best job he can; we think it is healthy for the two-party system in Nebraska that he was elected, but none of this means that we should not point out our differences with him.

Going to the budget, we would like to point out a few more things that worry us. Last week, we made a reference to the fact that the Exon budget would mean a drop from 25 per cent to 13 per cent in state matching funds of federal aid for parks and recreation development.

That, we think, is a serious mistake, especially at this time of growing interest in our environment and the quality of life of our people. The reduction will seriously curtail park and recreation developments in smaller cities of the state and be a tough blow for even Lincoln and Omaha.

And let's look at a few other things. Exon's budget eliminates the nearly $150.000-a-year operation of the State Personnel Office. The activities of the office would be transferred to the Department of Administrative Services (DAS).

In DAS, personnel would have a $16,000 budget for two people, $35,000 for data processing and nearly $5,000 for printing, postage, etc. Now, the State Personnel Department has 11 employes out of an authorized strength of 14.

Recently completed was a $60,000 classification and equal pay study, with the pay end of things still to be implemented. In our opinion, this study would soon end up as wasted money because the niggardly DAS personnel operation could not handle it.

Other personnel matters, we feel, would go down the drain, too. The net effect would be to enhance the empire building within departments and to increase inequities and inefficiencies that a good personnel department would eliminate.

Under the present personnel operation in the state are 15,200 employes. Yet, under DAS and Exon's budget, Nebraska would have no personnel department. Omaha has a personnel department with a $21,000-a-year director and Lincoln has such a department with a $17,243-a-year director.

Fortunately, the Budget Committee of the Legislature has not seen fit to go along with the Exon budget in this area, although it will probably recommend a reduced figure for the department.

Staying with DAS, it is one department with a larger budget than the last biennium. Biggest increase in the department is an approximate $3.3 million hike in revolving funds.

★

For the most part, these funds will increase by charging all other state departments more for such things as data processing, central billing, central purchasing, etc. We suspect that this means even tighter budgets in many state agencies than their already stringent figures from the governor's office would show.

In DAS, too, are two other new things. The $1.1 million per biennium operations of state planning are transferred to DAS at the paltry level of $98,000.

Part of the reason for this is that DAS, also, gets from the Department of Economic Development the $514,000 per biennium operation of the communities affairs section. This is the state agency helping small cities and towns in the state with federal programs in a multitude of areas such as housing, transportation, education, sewage treatment, etc.

But with a good supply of planners, communities affairs can assist with state planning. Thus, both state planning and communities affairs planning are weakened.

These are a few of the mistakes we believe Exon is making — mistakes that will haunt this state for a long time in the future. It's the welfare of the state that concerns us, not the pleasure of the governor, and that's why we intend to keep telling people what the Exon budget is doing to Nebraska.

'We'll Keep Getting Our Aid Direct'

Politicians Not Helping

State senators, no different than members of other representative political bodies, in addition to discharging their constitutional responsibilities are given to expressing collective opinions on great issues of the day, as well as giving weight to resolutions dealing with events or issues of relatively little importance.

Resolutions dealing with emotion-filled national or international events oftentimes are born of knee-jerk reactions from the gut and are often better left unspoken. And, at times, the sense of the legislative body is given without any thought given to the contents of the resolution, at all.

A news item a few days ago told of a legislature — we forget which state — which approved among a long list of such nonsense a resolution that commended Albert DeSalvo for his dedicated work in the field of population control. The lawmakers were then reminded that DeSalvo allegedly is the notorious Boston Strangler, whose technique is considered less than desirable in a civilized society. The point made, co-sponsors of the resolution, weary of the lack of attention given to such matters, asked that it be withdrawn.

There is no comparison between a legislative resolution regarding the Lt. Calley case and the one commending DeSalvo except perhaps for a lack of thought. We are wondering, therefore, if the Nebraska Legislature should have involved itself in the Calley case and its aftermath at this time. Two resolutions were before the Unicameral, one which would commend President Nixon for his decision to review the case and one urging clemency for Calley. Tuesday, the two resolutions were combined into one commending the president and it was passed.

The My Lai affair has divided this country — although along somewhat different lines — almost as much as the larger issue, the war itself. If a majority of Americans feel that Lt. Calley is a hero, then this country has changed. It is not the same country that most of us have grown up in.

"The country must retain its senses," Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, D-Ill., said Monday. "And it's getting precious little help from the politicians." Which is why we feel that it would have been better that the Legislature keep from commenting on the issue until the hue and cry subsides and the country regains its perspective.

Controversy Stirs Anew

The controversy surrounding FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover is bound to continue unabated and the "political dialogue" between defenders and opponents will reach new lows as long as the 76-year-old director remains in office.

Hoover's defenders, from the President and Atty. Gen. Mitchell on down, are jealously guarding a national institution whose past record is still highly regarded in the minds of many Americans. But it is this bulldoggish attitude of looking the other way, or not wanting to realize that Hoover's time has come, that causes the frustration on the part of people who care a little bit about dangers to civil liberties. The intractable quality possessed by both sides will breed more wildly irresponsible statements as time goes on.

The latest round in the escalating controversy came Monday when Hale Boggs of Louisiana, Democratic floor leader in the House, accused the FBI of tapping congressmen's telephones, putting agents on college campuses and "adopting the tactics of Hitler's Germany and the Soviet Union." Boggs declared: "The time has come for the attorney general of the United States to ask for the resignation of J. Edgar Hoover."

Mitchell immediately responded by saying that Boggs "has reached a new low in political dialogue" and that he should "recant at once and apologize to a great and dedicated American." Boggs replied that "not only will I not apologize but I am astonished that the attorney general has so little regard for the Bill of Rights that he continues to defend this incompetent man."

Hoover, who admits that he holds some attorney generals in such low regard that he refused to talk to one of his bosses for six months, described another as a "jellyfish" in an earlier controversy.

The situation becomes more ridiculous as time passes. President Nixon is doing no service to the country by looking to the past.

MARQUIS CHILDS

The Task Of Convincing

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. — In the decade beginning so promisingly with the inauguration of a young, buoyant president that saw such a long succession of horrors, one of the chief casualties has been an almost total erosion of confidence and trust. This is the blank wall which President Nixon's principal advisers confront as they put together the facts and figures — the raw material — that will go into the President's speech tonight.

Rarely has there been such a thorough, exacting analysis as went into the appraisal of the Laos operation. Under the direction of that demanding taskmaster, Henry A. Kissinger, the President's adviser on national security affairs, hundreds of hours went into winnowing every scrap of information.

A team was sent to Vietnam for a private inquiry independent of the American military related to the operation. Each intelligence agency was called on for a separate judgment, and then the intelligence chiefs were assembled collectively to confront their respective differences. During a good bit of the past week at the Western White House, Kissinger has been poring over six fat volumes containing estimates, figures, projections related to Laos.

Out of all this has come the following conclusion: The objectives of the Laos operation were 75 to 80 per cent achieved. It means that for 1971 and into 1972, the communists will be held to the level of warfare of the past year; that is, to the tactics of hit-and-run terror. They will be unable to mount a battalion attack. Both in losses in battle-hardened manpower and in disruption of the supply trails, they simply will not have the capacity in the foreseeable future to wage anything like conventional warfare.

If this is true, then why should the President not announce a fixed date for the withdrawal of all American forces? This question inevitably arises in discussion of the Indochina balance sheet. Since the situation is so well in hand — "The war in Vietnam is all but at an end" — there would seem to be no possible harm resulting from announcement of a terminal date. It should take the heat off the rapidly escalating pressures both in Congress and the country to set, as in the resolution adopted by the Demoratic caucus of the House, a time certain.

The answer of the President's closest advisers is that this would shut the door on any possibility of negotiation at Paris. That door, as seen from White House perspective, is still open a crack. Moreover, since the communists have failed to respond to any of the overtures, such as the promise of phased withdrawal in the Nixon speech of last October, there is no reason to believe advance notice of departure would produce results.

Yet, so the reasoning goes, if they come face to face with the hard facts of their post-Cambodian-Laotian dilemma, they may decide to move to the conference table. They surely know that with a peace settlement, or even serious overtures in that direction from Hanoi, the homeward bound movement would be irresistible.

But how to convince the public that Laos was a success — a qualified success but nevertheless a success — and that with a little more patience Vietnamization will be carried to a conclusion? The President's advisers have no illusions about the wall of skepticism, doubt, fear, hostility in the path.

Richard Nixon, who has reduced the number of ground troops in Vietnam by nearly half, is not credible, whereas Lyndon Johnson, when he was expanding the force to a total of 549,000, seems to have had if not acceptance at least a tolerance that was in part ignorance. This is what the Nixon men find so baffling and frustrating.

Stopping short of the luxury of despair, they know the country is being torn apart not only by the war but by all the dire events of the decade of the '60s. Three assassinations, the burning of the cities, the rioting and disorders — this is the heritage of an administration that pleads for belief and yet by both word and act falls short of the rising tide of expectations.

The spring will see more demonstrations, angrier voices raised. The more sensitive and aware men around the President know that this arises only in the smallest degree from ideologies bent on tearing the system down. It comes mainly from men and women, and above all the young, who can endure no more war, no more killing, no more mass bombing. They are as remote from the President's words as though they lived on another planet, as in a sense they do.

Good Leadership

Lincoln, Neb.

In regard to your editorial of March 19, I must agree with you when you state that housing for all the "low-income" ciitizens is a frustrating, sometimes seemingly unsolvable problem. Homebuilders, as a group, have long recognized that there have developed some imbalances in our society that tend to make it difficult or impossible for some to "have the opportunity" to obtain adequate housing. The home-building industry has been a leader in cooperating with and encouraging the Department of HUD in programs to improve this situation. Improvements in FHA and VA programs and more recently, the 235 program, are examples of private industry plus government assistance providing a respectable answer to those temporarily caught in this imbalance squeeze. These programs need to be expanded if we are to make meaningful progress.

You do state that special interest groups (builders included) have blocked "public housing" in the past. This may be somewhat unfair and misleading. Recently, several local builders have—on their own—built projects for local citizens under what could be called a form of public housing and about 1965 the Homebuilders Association initiated a low-income housing program that was killed for lack of workable program in the city.

You also seem to infer that an easy answer is almost within reach. That the ability to obtain a program with 100% government funds and 100% government-administrated housing units would do it all if only authority could be obtained for this. There are too many examples of failure and far too few of success of this kind of program to give it too much consideration.

One example that housing is a very complex problem is Secretary Romney's (HUD) plan called "Operation Breakthrough"—a proposal open to any corporation in the whole U.S. to design housing and housing projects with any methods available to bring costs down to a level and design up to a level that would be a compatible answer for the low-income part of our society —to date—no clear results are apparent.

The Housing Authority has certainly contributed much to this problem in recent years. More progress will come but this problem does need leadership. I don't subscribe to the lament that if we don't get government funds, we will be lost forever. Good leadership that would bring together all the interested forces, including builders, would be a surprisingly powerful tool.

Asks Protection

Ord, Neb.

It is with regret that I see we have the selfish and greedy people with us again. They seem to assume the attitude that "what is mine is mine and what is yours is mine, too."

The farmers feed these birds and animals the whole year but have no right to protect them. They leave corn and other food in the field for them during the winter. I know some who have even pulled the husks off for them.

Just how much have the sportsmen put in the "kitty" to feed them? They don't want us to have one thing to enjoy.

As for Mr. Lambert's saying there would be more doves if they had them on the list, he evidently has not done much research on them, as Massachusetts tried that and they were almost decimated and since 1908 they have been on the Massachusetts perpetual protection list.

It seems needless that every two years we must go through this hassle with a few greedy people who want to take charge of the world. I don't see how the senators could be for something that 90 or 95 per cent of their constituents are against. Let's have what we should have had long ago — perpetual protection.

Forgiveness

York, Neb.

I've been shocked to see how many law-abiding citizens of this country have jumped to the side of a soldier representing our country, Lt. Calley, who despite what he says did ruthlessly murder little children and old people.

Are we trying to say that what he did was right? Isn't there anyone who can see anything wrong with what he did? True, he was taught to kill, but to kill enemy soldiers. How could it be possible that he could have convinced himself that those little children were enemy soldiers?

War is horrible for everyone involved, but should we add to the monstrosities that occur by upholding a murderer of old people and little children?

We all have to take the blame for what he did. In a way, each one of us was there holding the machine - gun and shooting down those people. Perhaps we are trying to excuse ourselves from guilt by excusing what he did under the name of war. We should ask forgiveness if we don't stand up now and condemn the slaughter of innocent people.

Our Nostalgia Binge Is For The Mothballs

NEW YORK — Come on, fellas, enough is enough. Nostalgia is all right for reading old love letters . . . in the attic . . . on a rainy day. But as a way of life, it can get to be a drag.

The same affliction seems to have hit the older generation. Why else would Ruby Keeler's revival of "No, No, Nanette" be the hottest show on Broadway? It must be nostalgia; I just don't know whether "Tea for Two" or Miss Keeler would make it if this were the first time around for either.

This hankering for things past could backfire on us, you know. Even now, with apologies to any historians in the house, it's beginning to turn into a national cop-out.

☆ ☆ ☆

Maybe it's just laziness . . . or a sign of the bewilderment everybody feels these days. But—at a time when we need fresh thinking and original inspiration—our creative people are turning their backs on the future to imitate styles we've already put behind us.

And styles that weren't all that great in the first place.

Football shoulder pads, sausage curls and floozie furs looked terrible in the '40s—and they look terrible now. But they're back. Along with granny glasses, pioneer dresses and throat chokers.

Men aren't getting off so easy, either. Remember how you used to giggle over Grandpa's knickers and high laced boots in the family album? Well, that's one of the getups the designers are pushing now.

Old-fashioned cars are in, too. You can order up a replica of the old Model A for around $7,000. (Or a miniature Model T for a little less. It cost something like $295 in 1925.)

An imitation 1926 Mercedes is a little more. But if you want the revived Dusenberg, now, that's going to set you back $30,000 or so.

☆ ☆ ☆

Remember when Pop used to roll his own cigarettes? Sonny's doing the same thing today, only it may not always be tobacco he's rolling.

Many a consumer, weary with battling the high cost of everything, has ordered up one of those turn-of-the-century mail-order catalogues. Somehow, it seems to soothe his psyche to turn the pages and drool over $12 suits and $2 shoes.

What he forgets in his nostalgia kick is that pay checks back then matched those prices. An old newspaper clipping, dated April 2, 1903, reports "15,000 building workers on strike for a 20 per cent wage increase."

That may sound like today's headline, but read on: "Painters and carpenters demanded increases from $3 to $3.28 . . . masons from $3.50 to $4.20 . . . plumbers from $3.50 to $4 . . . and hod carriers from $2 to $2.94."

That's per day, folks, per day.

Maybe the present isn't all that much fun to live with. But the future could be. The only thing is that we'll never find it mooning around the attic.

Nixon 'New American Revolution' Of 1971 Resembles Many Of The Old Taft Doctrines

NEW YORK — For a reporter who remembers the days of Robert A. Taft, the Nixon "New American Revolution" of 1971 sounds remarkably like orthodox Republican doctrine of 1952.

Taft, who died in 1953 after three times seeking his party's presidential nomination unsuccessfully, was the "Mr. Republican" of his era because he combined ideological passion and intelligent, serious-minded concern for public problems. Nineteen years ago this spring as he campaigned in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and other state primaries, Taft stressed the same themes which Nixon is now developing for next year's campaign.

Nixon assails the federal government as too big and "musclebound." He urges returning power to state and local government because "local government is the government closest to the people and it is most responsive to the individual person."

Taft defined the same issue as liberty vs. "creeping socialism." He said, "Liberty means the liberty of local self-government: the right of every community to decide on its local institutions, how its children shall be educated, what local services shall be rendered and how, the form of local governments, all without direction by some federal bureau in Washington; the rights of states to run their own affairs."

☆ ☆ ☆

President Nixon assails inflation and has vetoed education and housing bills on the ground that excessive public expenditures are inflationary. The Korean war produced inflation in 1951-52 and Senator Taft denounced it, promising to end it by reducing federal expenditures. He, too, proposed to reorganize the federal bureaucracy to achieve lower costs and greater efficiency.

A generation ago, Taft attacked the draft and urged a return as soon as militarily possible to a volunteer army.

"Surely," he said, "we can make the army sufficiently attractive as an occupation for (young men) to be willing to volunteer. With good pay, reasonable treatment for men and their families, and provisions for retraining and retirement when a man is too old to say in the army, I don't see why army life cannot be made just as attractive as working daily on a machine or mining coal."

☆ ☆ ☆

Taft was well ahead of Nixon or Rep. Wilbur Mills in seeing the need for a family assistance plan. "There are many families who, because of misfortune or their own faults, fall below the standard we would like to see all attain," Taft said. "I believe we should make a deliberate effort to put a floor under the essential requirements of our lowest income families so that extreme hardship and poverty may be eliminated."

Taft even had his own version of revenue-sharing, but he came at the problem from the opposite direction. Nixon wants the federal government to continue collecting tax revenue but turn a share of it over to the states. Taft thought it might be possible for the federal government to forego certain taxes and let the states collect them instead.

That was an idea which President Eisenhower took up. He appointed two different commissions to study it. At one point, he tried unsuccessfully to persuade the governors that it would be in their interest if the federal government stopped financing a particular grant-in-aid program such as vocational education and at the same time the states instead of the federal government began levying the excise tax on telephones.

If he were alive today, Robert Taft, who had no flair for public relations and even had a certain contempt for that peculiar art, would be startled to hear many of his conservative ideas dressed up as a "New American Revolution." But Taft also had a pragmatist's respect for success. He would be fascinated to see if a Republican president could lead a successful political attack against the federal bureaucracy while presiding over it.

He would be delighted if Nixon could sell good Ohio Republican ideas — such as opposition to big government, defense of state's rights, a volunteer army, and the need for local and individual responsibility — as a cure for the restlessness of the young and the frustrations of their parents.

E-Week Program Announced By NU

A brown-haired coed from Harvard, Barbara K. Kreutz, will reign over the 1971 Engineer Week activities at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln April 26-30.

Miss Kreutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo R. Kreutz of Harvard and a junior majoring in interior design in the College of Home Economics, was selected from 10 finalists to be Miss E-Week.

BARBARA KREUTZ
Miss E-Week

She is president of the student chapter of National Society of Interior Designers, a member of the Montage Design Club, the Gymnastics Club, and is a student assistant in Women's Residence Hall.

First runnerup in the Miss E-Week competition was Linda Brown, daughter of Mrs. June D. Brown of Omaha. She is a junior majoring in elementary education in the Teachers College.

Sally Fangman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard J. Fangman of Omaha is second runnerup. She is also a junior majoring in elementary education in the Teachers College.

Gail Fliesbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Fliesbach of Scottsbluff, was third runnerup. She is a sophomore majoring Spanish in the College of Arts and Science.

Brian Williams a senior from Holdrege and Rod Moseman a junior from Fremont are co-chairmen for the E-Week celebration.

The NU College of Engineering and Architecture annually puts on a week-long program to familiarize Nebraskans with the accomplishments of engineers and engineering.

Highlight of the program will be an Open House where demonstrations and working models of student built projects are on display. The open house will be held from 6 to 10 p.m. on April 28 and 1 to 5 and 6 to 10 p.m. on April 29.

Theme of this year's E-Week is "Progress with a Purpose-Nebraska and Beyond". It will depict how progress in our lives is often spearheaded by the engineering community.

Other officers are: Norm Newhouse of Lincoln, secretary, and Brad Bartak of Merna, treasurer.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

Forecast For Wednesday

Aries can be abrupt. Individuals born under this zodiacal sign want to get to the point of any story — in a hurry. It would not be wise to choose a long anecdote if trying to interest an Aries person. Make it short-and-sweet and you are most likely to succeed with members of this zodiacal family.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Enlarge scope of current activities. Means realize that little things can add up to something of significance. Don't underestimate your own efforts. Stress versatility, imagination

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)· Good lunar aspect now coincides with love, creative endeavors, activity connected with children. Tendency is to speculate. Be sure you have facts, not mere rumors. Then you can succeed.

GEMINI (May 21- June 20: Accent on home, end of matter You complete, decide, set mental policy. You finish concept relating to where you are going and where you will be. Family member is much involved.

CANCER (June 21- July 22). Relatives are restless. Best to entertain at home. Promote harmonious atmosphere Appreciate assets. Pay compliment to loved one You make significant gain through diplomatic approach

LEO (July 23- August 22)· Money looms large as consideration; don't waste assests. See persons, situations in realistic light. A Pisces individual may be daydreaming Realize this and plan accordingly—you'll be happier.

VIRGO (August 23- September 22) Lunar cycle is favorable; means new contacts, projects should be encouraged. Your personality sparkles. Opposite sex is drawn to you. Stress independence, humor and originality.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)· Some activities are restricted. You may have feeling of confinement. Key is to keep long-range view in focus. Hold off on new projects. Be considerate toward one who is handicapped

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Spark can be transformed into fire of romantic interest. You receive meaningful compliments Social activity is emphasized. Accept invitations. Some hopes, wishes are fulfilled.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Don't stake reputation on word of one who constantly changes mind. Survey situation. Stick to standards. Compromise now would be error. Stress quality. Advancement is indicated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Let others know that you do have plans, objectives Spread influence through writing, advertising. Keep communication lines open. Be in touch with those at a distance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Accent on money associated with mate or business partner. Some delay is to be expected. Plan accordingly. Be ready to make intelligent concession. Tax, insurance matters are reviewed.

PISCES (Feb 19-March 20)· Lie low Do more listening than talking. Let competition make move. Permit mate or business partner to set pace. Be a keen observer. Concentrate on public relations. Be aware.

Sally Fangman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard J. Fangman of Omaha is second runnerup. She is also a junior majoring in elementary education in the Teachers College.

Gail Fliesbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Fliesbach of Scottsbluff, was third runnerup. She is a sophomore majoring Spanish in the College of Arts and Science.

Brian Williams a senior from Holdrege and Rod Moseman a junior from Fremont are co-chairmen for the E-Week celebration.

The NU College of Engineering and Architecture annually puts on a week-long program to familiarize Nebraskans with the accomplishments of engineers and engineering.

Highlight of the program will be an Open House where demonstrations and working models of student built projects are on display. The open house will be held from 6 to 10 p.m. on April 28 and 1 to 5 and 6 to 10 p.m. on April 29.

Theme of this year's E-Week is "Progress with a Purpose-Nebraska and Beyond". It will depict how progress in our lives is often spearheaded by the engineering community.

Other officers are: Norm Newhouse of Lincoln, secretary, and Brad Bartak of Merna, treasurer.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

☆ By SIDNEY OMARR ☆

Forecast For Wednesday

Aries can be abrupt. Individuals born under this zodiacal sign want to get to the point of any story — in a hurry. It would not be wise to choose a long anecodote if trying to interest an Aries person. Make it short-and-sweet and you are most likely to succeed with members of this zodiacal family.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Enlarge scope of current activities. Means realize that little things can add up to something of significance. Don't underestimate your own efforts. Stress versatility, imagination.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Good lunar aspect now coincides with love, creative endeavors, activity connected with children. Tendency is to speculate. Be sure you have facts, not mere rumors. Then you can succeed.

GEMINI (May 21- June 20: Accent on home, end of matter. You complete, decide, set mental policy. You finish concept relating to where you are going and where you will be. Family member is much involved.

CANCER (June 21- July 22): Relatives are restless. Best to entertain at home. Promote harmonious atmosphere. Appreciate assets. Pay compliment to loved one. You make signifcant gain through diplomatic approach.

LEO (July 23- August 22): Money looms large as consideration; don't waste assests. See persons, situations in realistic light. A Pisces individual may be daydreaming. Realize this and plan accordingly—you'll be happier.

VIRGO (August 23- September 22): Lunar cycle is favorable; means new contacts, projects should be encouraged. Your personality sparkles. Opposite sex is drawn to you. Stress independence, humor and originality.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Some activities are restricted. You may have feeling of confinement. Key is to keep long-range view in focus. Hold off on new projects. Be considerate toward one who is handicapped.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Spark can be transformed into fire of romantic interest. You receive meaningful compliments. Social activity is emphasized. Accept invitations. Some hopes, wishes are fulfilled.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Don't stake reputation on word of one who constantly changes mind. Survey situation. Stick to standards. Compromise now would be error. Stress quality. Advancement is indicated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Let others know that you do have plans, objectives. Spread influence through writing, advertising. Keep communication lines open. Be in touch with those at a distance.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Accent on money associated with mate or business partner. Some delay is to be expected. Plan accordingly. Be ready to make intelligent concession. Tax, insurance matters are reviewed.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Lie low. Do more listening than talking. Let competition make move. Permit mate or business partner to set pace. Be a keen observer. Concentrate on public relations. Be aware.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are more spiritual than many might imagine. You tend to give impression of being carefree. But, if truth be known, you are a searcher. You attempt to find your place in scheme of current events. By June, you will be on more solid ground in emotional and financial sense.

Faculties Reassessing Positions

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third and last in a series of articles on the University of Nebraska faculty.)

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

Confronted by pressures and challenges from virtually all sides, faculties of modern universities are pausing to reassess their positions

Spurred by the campus disorders of last spring, criticism has centered largely on university faculty members.

And amid the furor, the faculties are taking a hard look at themselves to see what can be done to "set their house in order."

The University of Nebraska faculty has not remained isolated from the battle.

From the state's citizens came an indignation which lingered long after students occupied a campus building last May to protest American foreign policy.

New Attacks

From a new legislature came attacks on the faculty's right to design curriculum and criticism of tenure, the hallowed tradition of continuous apointment.

From a new governor came challenges to budget requests.

And from inside the institution, regents were questioning faculty responsibilities, students the relevance of their educational experience.

But long before 1970-71, the faculty had begun a reassessment which was only speeded up by the events reaching the headlines.

Endorsed Evaluation

In 1969, for example, the NU faculty senate had endorsed the principle of faculty evaluation by students, and a committee of students and teachers set to work to draw up a proposal.

A faculty responsibilities statement, brewing for some time, was hurried along by the events of May.

An "academic constitutional convention" has been called for this summer in response to the disagreements surrounding a Board of Regents' decision not to reappoint a nontenured professor.

And NU, along with other universities, began to look "very self-consciously" at the criteria for awarding tenure, according to Dean of Faculties C. Peter Magrath.

Intensified

The attack on tenure, which saw introduction of a bill which would have required legislative approval for such plans, was intensified as recently as last weekend when a regent criticized tenure as protecting "incompetency in the name of academic freedom."

But NU faculty members point out that tenure is granted only after a probationary period, accompanied by constant evaluation, which may run as long as 10 years.

"The presumption is that you bring a person here with good qualifications and potential," explained Magrath.

If the faculty member does not perform up to expectations, he added, first efforts are to help him improve.

"That's what we're supposed to be good at," he noted.

Still 10 to 15 untenured faculty members leave each year, usually through a resignation by mutual agreement.

"It's rarely scandalous," Magrath said.

As a rule, about half of the faculty at any one time is on continuous appointment, which NU contends provides tested professors relative freedom from political pressure and economic security.

Tenured professors can be fired for "adequate cause," which may include incompetence, moral turpitude or insubordination.

He said although he could not recall a case where a professor was stripped of the privilege, there have been "many cases where they leave because their performance was not adequate."

Growing Efforts

Efforts to improve the quality of teaching of all faculty members are also growing, he added.

"Teaching evaluation has spread like wildfire during the last year."

The faculty senate Tuesday adopted a proposal from the faculty evaluation committee to establish an assessment procedure.

The faculty committee, after a year-long study, recommended a system whereby students would evaluate the teaching performance of their instructors for such criteria as use of time, interest in students, fairness of grading and command of the subject.

The proposal calls upon departments to provide detailed descriptions of all courses offered, along with a statement of purpose by the instructor.

Not Immunity

"Academic freedom," the committee concluded, "should not be interpreted as a granting to a professor immunity from orderly and responsible appraisal of his competence in so major an area of his professional activity as teaching"

The hope, the committee said, is that professors may gauge their own effectiveness and that "teaching may achieve greater prominence in tenure and promotion considerations."

Magrath, who heads a teaching council which aims at improving the quality of instruction through experimental efforts, also said NU hopes to have a full-time staff member working next fall to improve teaching and learning.

"I'm absolutely convinced," he said, "we've got to evaluate the effectiveness of teaching for positive rather than punitive reasons"

Aimed At Improving

Most of the efforts are aimed mainly at improving undergraduate teaching, after many years' emphasis on the quality of graduate programs.

That does not mean, however, that graduate education, which is tied more directly to research, will be ignored.

The faculty evaluation committee, in its report to the faculty senate, said it "is of the opinion that research and teaching should enjoy equally high priorities in the university community."

Daley Wins Fifth Term

Chicago (UPI) — Richard J. Daley swept to an unprecedented fifth four-year term as mayor of Chicago Tuesday.

The steamrolling Chicago Democratic organization shot Daley into an early and insurmountable lead over Richard E. Friedman, the man carrying the Republican mantle, within 60 minutes after the polls closed at 6 p.m. CST.

Complete returns from Chicago's 3,412 precincts showed Daley had captured just a fraction less than 70% of the 1,053,846 of the votes cast — 735,787 to 318,059 for Friedman.

'1776' Draws Generous Applause

By EARL DYER
Star Staff Writer

Lincolnites filled Pershing Auditorium to the rafters Tuesday night and applauded generously a road-show performance of the musical "1776" — a sprightly but not very musical recounting of the passage by the Continental Congress of the Declaration of Independence.

The play turned out to be a very talky musical which could have used more music. It was an evening of words that weren't always either very dramatic or very funny, though the work is laced with mildly funny jokes and naughty words (although rather mild naughty words for this day and age).

The comedy was sometimes witty — particularly when the wit was Dr. Benjamin Franklin. In one exchange John Adams asked "What will people think?" and Franklin responded, "Don't worry, John. The history books will clean it up."

But most of the comedy was slapstick.

The music of the play proved not particularly engaging. Nicest musical work of the evening was done by Gary Beach, playing South Carolina's Edward Rutledge, in a song about molasses to rum to slaves which seemed the best song in the play.

Either the drama or the music might have held together better in a small theater (there were 6,750 seats, most of them filled, Tuesday night). And the problems of amplification for an audience of that size have not been solved completely.

But it was a memorable evening for an audience that all too seldom gets to see any musical comedy at all and that was grateful both to the Community Concert Association for bringing the performance here.

All members of the cast won warm applause, but especially Paul Tripp for his performance of Benjamin Franklin and Don Perkins who played John Adams.

Lower Midwest Is Hard Hit By Heavy April Snowstorm

By United Press International

An April snowstorm dropped a mantle of white over blooming daffodils, forsythia and apricot trees in the lower Midwest Tuesday.

Up to 13 inches of heavy, wet snow bogged southern Illinois. St. Louis area expressways were clogged with slipping, sliding, slow-moving or stalled automobiles.

Ed Grasser of Ferguson, Mo., who took the snow tires off his car last week, put them back on when he found his car was virtually immobilized in the record April snowfall

Officials of Marion, Ill., schools looked like weather prognosticators. The officials added three days to Easter vacation this week because of "snow days" that went unused last winter. Marion children gamboled Tuesday in six inches of snow

The storm swept eastward up the Ohio Valley and over the Appalachians. Eight inches of snow fell at Mountain Lake Resort in Virginia. Clingman's Dome in Great Smoky Mountains National Park received six inches.

Storm warnings were hoisted over the southern end of Chesapeake Bay and along the coast from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to Cape May, N.J. Gale warnings were in effect elsewhere along the coast from Charleston, S.C., to Eastport, Maine. Gusts up to 68 miles per hour lashed the coast.

The unspringlike weather — heavy rain and temperatures in the mid 40s — kept cherry blossoms from reaching their peak in Washington, a full three days after the end of the capital's annual Cherry Blossom Festival.

Cairo, at the southern tip of Illinois, had an inch — its first April snowfall in 61 years. Centralia's 13 inches was the heaviest there so late in the season since 1929.

St. Louis' 6.2 inch accumulation was the heaviest April snowfall there since weather records began in 1886. Lincoln Woman Claims She Was Deprived Of Her Rights

A Lincoln woman has filed a civil suit in U.S District Court charging three Lancaster County officials and two Lincoln residents deprived her of her constitutional rights to be secure in her home, property and privacy.

The suit was filed by Marjorie Czaplewski of Lincoln and named Lancaster County Deputy Sheriffs Paul N. Spahn and William H. Coleman as defendants, along with Deputy County Atty. Robert Gibson, Gertrude Chase and Claude V. Hall.

The suit was filed in connection with an alleged December 1970 incident in which Mrs. Chase, along with Hall, Spahn and Coleman removed some personal items from a Lincoln home which Mrs Czaplewski was renting from Mrs. Chase.

The petition alleges that Mrs. Czaplewski had been renting the home for two months when she was given notice that Mrs. Chase planned to sell the home, and told that she would have to move within five days.

A few days later, according to the petition, she was given notice to move for failure to pay the December rent and charges were filed against her in court for unlawful and forcible detention of the house.

Mrs. Czaplewski states that as of Dec. 11, 1970, she had not moved, and while she was away Mrs. Chase, Spahn, Coleman and Hall forcibly entered her home and removed some of her and her 3-month-old son's clothing and other items, leaving the majority of their belongings still in the house.

The defendants then boarded up the house with the bulk of Mrs. Czaplewski's belongings in the home and the others on the front yard.

Gibson was named as defendant in the suit because he allegedly recommended that Mrs. Chase secure the services of police officers in aiding Mrs. Chase to remove Mrs. Czaplewski's belongings from the home, according to the petition.

Hair Spray Ignites

Willoughby, Ohio (UPI) — Mrs. Ruth Collins, 48, was reported in fair condition at Lake County West Hospital with first and second degree burns suffered when her hair spray ignited. Authorities said Mrs. Collins was spraying her hair when one of her children ignited a match near her touching off the spray.

Faculties Reassessing Positions

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third and last in a series of articles on the University of Nebraska faculty.)

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

Confronted by pressures and challenges from virtually all sides, faculties of modern universities are pausing to reassess their positions.

Spurred by the campus disorders of last spring, criticism has centered largely on university faculty members.

And amid the furor, the faculties are taking a hard look at themselves to see what can be done to "set their house in order."

The University of Nebraska faculty has not remained isolated from the battle.

From the state's citizens came an indignation which lingered long after students occupied a campus building last May to protest American foreign policy.

New Attacks

From a new legislature came attacks on the faculty's right to design curriculum and criticism of tenure, the hallowed tradition of continuous apointment.

From a new governor came challenges to budget requests.

And from inside the institution, regents were questioning faculty responsibilities, students the relevance of their educational experience.

But long before 1970-71, the faculty had begun a reassessment which was only speeded up by the events reaching the headlines.

Endorsed Evaluation

In 1969, for example, the NU faculty senate had endorsed the principle of faculty evaluation by students, and a committee of students and teachers set to work to draw up a proposal.

A faculty responsibilities statement, brewing for some time, was hurried along by the events of May.

An "academic constitutional convention" has been called for this summer in response to the disagreements surrounding a Board of Regents' decision not to reappoint a nontenured professor.

And NU, along with other universities, began to look "very self-consciously" at the criteria for awarding tenure, according to Dean of Faculties C. Peter Magrath.

Intensified

The attack on tenure, which saw introduction of a bill which would have required legislative approval for such plans, was intensified as recently as last weekend when a regent criticized tenure as protecting "incompetency in the name of academic freedom."

But NU faculty members point out that tenure is granted only after a probationary period, accompanied by constant evaluation, which may run as long as 10 years.

"The presumption is that you bring a person here with good qualifications and potential," explained Magrath.

If the faculty member does not perform up to expectations, he added, first efforts are to help him improve.

"That's what we're supposed to be good at," he noted.

Still 10 to 15 untenured faculty members leave each year, usually through a resignation by mutual agreement.

"It's rarely scandalous," Magrath said.

As a rule, about half of the faculty at any one time is on continuous appointment, which NU contends provides tested professors relative freedom from political pressure and economic security.

Tenured professors can be fired for "adequate cause," which may include incompetence, moral turptitude or insubordination.

He said although he could not recall a case where a professor was stripped of the privilege, there have been "many cases where they leave because their performance was not adequate."

Growing Efforts

Efforts to improve the quality of teaching of all faculty members are also growing, he added.

"Teaching evaluation has spread like wildfire during the last year."

The faculty senate Tuesday adopted a proposal from the faculty evaluation committee to establish an assessment procedure.

The faculty committee, after a year-long study, recommended a system whereby students would evaluate the teaching performance of their instructors for such criteria as use of time, interest in students, fairness of grading and command of the subject.

The proposal calls upon departments to provide detailed descriptions of all courses offered, along with a statement of purpose by the instructor.

Not Immunity

"Academic freedom," the committee concluded, "should not be interpreted as a granting to a professor immunity from orderly and responsible appraisal of his competence in so major an area of his professional activity as teaching."

The hope, the committee said, is that professors may gauge their own effectiveness and that "teaching may achieve greater prominence in tenure and promotion considerations."

Magrath, who heads a teaching council which aims at improving the quality of instruction through experimental efforts, also said NU hopes to have a full-time staff member working next fall to improve teaching and learning.

"I'm absolutely convinced," he said, "we've got to evaluate the effectiveness of teaching for positive rather than punitive reasons."

Aimed At Improving

Most of the efforts are aimed mainly at improving undergraduate teaching, after many years' emphasis on the quality of graduate programs.

That does not mean, however, that graduate education, which is tied more directly to research, will be ignored.

The faculty evaluation committee, in its report to the faculty senate, said it "is of the opinion that research and teaching should enjoy equally high priorities in the university community."

Gore Says Calley's Conviction 'Undermines Morality Of War'

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

Former U.S. Sen. Albert Gore told a University of Nebraska audience Tuesday he believes the conviction of Lt. William Calley has "undermined the morality of the war."

"How do you explain the widespread condolence of the merciless murder of babies?" Gore asked.

The "best rationale," Gore suggested in the keynote speech of the 1971 Montgomery Lectures, is that it stems from an "American folklore that our country must always be right."

Calley 'Folk Hero'

He noted that Calley has "somehow become a folk hero" for his conviction on murder charges for killings at the South Vietnamese village of My Lai in 1968.

"It's a basic tribal reaction," the former lawmaker suggested. "Our boy killed them, so we support our boy."

Noting that George Washington had warned "the country against becoming an inveterate slave to our prejudices," Gore said he believes the U.S. has become a slave to an ideology.

'Automatically Bad'

That ideology, he said, encompasses a "hostility to communism," which suggests that "anything denounced or branded as communist is automatically bad and must be destroyed."

"I doubt if those babies know they are communist," he added.

"What is mankind coming to in this 'panorama of change?'" Gore asked. The nation's leaders "keep looking" for a moral rationality, but he suggested there is none.

Gore's speech, delivered Tuesday afternoon to a sparse audience, kicked off this year's Montgomery Lectures, which are focusing on the "nation outside the cities."

All One Problem

Suggesting that the problems of rural areas and small towns are tied to the problems of the cities, Gore said he believes politics should be the "instrument by which society works its will" to solve problems.

Noting that there are only 537 popularly elected officials at the federal level, Gore said "it's fantastic" that "public office is now almost up to the highest bidder."

Calling for federal regulation and financing of federal election campaigns, Gore said the "election of such a small group of men should be a matter of such extreme importance as to be safeguarded against the power of special interests" and "money."

Defeated Last Year

Gore, a Democrat who served in the U.S. House and the Senate for 32 years, was defeated last year in his bid for re-election.

A second speaker, conservationist David Brower, told the audience "the time has come for the 'big' plan" to save the environment.

He said the world needs a "thousand year plan with an option to renew."

Brower, now president of Friends of the Earth, was executive director of the Sierra Club for 17 years.

Saying "we've been treating this planet as if we had a spare," Brower told the NU audience he believes "there is barely time for change."

'New Renaissance'

But "we can," he said, "if we strive for it, have a new renaissance."

Too many people are "counting on technological magic" to solve the pollution problem, he suggested.

Scoring continued demands for new forms of energy, Brower said those demands are "probably the biggest mistake we are making."

"The time has gone for undertaking vast projects without asking what happens to earth."

The lectures will continue Wednesday afternoon with speeches by Dr. Fred Schroeder of Princeton, N.J., and Sen. Mike Gravel of Alaska and panel discussions on culture and public policy.

Bids Top $1 Million On School

Low bids totaling slightly more than $1 million were received by Lincoln school officials Tuesday on plans for construction of a new elementary school at 76th and Leighton.

Apparent low bidders included Kingery Construction Co. on the general contract with a bid of $650,616, Morrissey Plumbing for mechanical work with a bid of $285,146, and Brite-Way Electric for the electrical work with a bid of $109,975.

Total for the low bids, which will be considered by the Board of Education April 13, was $1,045,737.

The new building, set for completion by the fall of 1972, will be built on the "open school" plan with removable partitions.

The air-conditioned and carpeted structure will be designed for a maximum of 660 students.

Other bids opened Tuesday included:

General — Walter J. Broer, $669,900; M. W. Anderson, $663,991; Geo. Cook, $653,888; Dwight Nelson, $679.722; Olson, $729.855.

Mechanical — Natkin, $301.800; E. O. Peters, $294,978; Reinhardt Bros., $289,700; Wentz, $311.111

Electrical — ABC, $111,000; Energy Enterprises, $132,060; OK Electric, $112,000; Action, $111,365; Ad-A-Lite, $121,287; Gregg, $114,600.

Industrial Park Solicitation Urged At Beatrice

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Beatrice — A $300,000 solicitation to develop a county-oriented industrial park was proposed to some 35 business leaders here Tuesday night.

Myron Hockenbury of Harrisburg, Pa., president of an industrial fund-raising firm, urged an immediate eight-week campaign and the erection of a "building shell" as soon as possible.

His recommendation followed a company survey financed by the Beatrice Development Corp. Members of that group, as well as the Gage County Economic Development Organization, were presented the results at a joint dinner meeting.

"The community that wins is the one that has a program and facilities to back it up," Hockenbury said.

He noted that some 20,000 industrial organizations compete for approximately 1,500 industrial relocations occurring annually over the nation.

Immediate reaction to the proposal was mixed, with some men questioning the timing because of recent solicitations for now-defunct Pershing College.

Some doubt was also expressed as to how much support the effort would receive throughout the county.

Several persons expressed optimism, however, of raising at least $165,000, which Hockenbury termed "a rock-bottom minimum for success." No decision was made immediately on whether to attempt the drive.

The consultant said his firm had experienced considerable success recently with similar drives in eight other cities throughout the country.

Presiding at the dinner were BDC Vice Presidents Harley Kollekowski and Lee Leigh Coffin.

Mayor OKs University Place Rezoning

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf announced Tuesday that he has approved the massive University Place rezoning recently passed by the City Council on a 5-2 vote with mixed emotions.

Schwartzkopf said that "this experiment should be very carefully watched by future administration and council as to its success or failure."

He said that although he has questions of the benefits that may be derived from this zoning, "I feel the University Place business people should have the opportunity to try under the council-approved compromise plan."

He said, however, that "this zoning change very decisively could, because of the basic tax and land escalation, detour the very thing it was purported to do — and that is to redevelop the area of economic growth."

"It goes without saying, if land values became exceedingly high, developers of commercial property and housing units will be unable to stand the tremendous escalation costs," Schwartzkopf contended.

Moon Soil Given

Moscow (UPI) — The Soviet Union presented France with samples of Moon soil brought back to earth by the spacecraft Luna 16, the Soviet news agency Tass said. It said the samples were turned over to the French embassy in Moscow for transfer to the French National Center for Space Studies.

Housing Unit Urges Change In Licensing

The Housing Appeals Board recommended Tuesday that the city's licensing of multiple dwelling units include those with three or more units.

Presently only those with five or more units are required to be licensed.

The board also recommended that any person desiring to maintann or operate such a place name a reprresentative for the owner who would be in direct charge of the property and who would be authorized to transact business for the owner.

The idea behind the proposal is to have someone who city officials could get together with regarding defects of the premises and for receiving legal notices.

Discussion centered on whether the agent for the owner would have to be a city resident or could be a resident of the county or state.

The provision is largely aimed at out-of-state persons owning local property.

Nixon Requests Additional Funds For SST Cleanup

Washington (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress Tuesday to appropriate an extra $97 3 million to finance cleanup costs of winding up the supersonic transport (SST) plane program.

Of the total, $52.1 million would go to the Boeing Company of Seattle, the contractor for the air frame of the abandoned SST, and $33.3 million to General Electric Co., which got the engine contract.

The remaining $12 million would pay salaries of people who have worked on the SST program in the Department of Transportation, and take care of some contingency exenses.

NU Budget Plans Disturb Tiemann

By LINDA SULLIVAN
Star Staff Writer

Sentiments regarding the proposed budget for the University of Nebraska were expressed on the Lincoln Campus Tuesday night — this time by former governor Norbert Tiemann.

"I will not make any secret of the fact that I am disturbed by what has happened to the University of Nebraska budget since it arrived at the statehouse. My administration tried hard to upgrade education at every level in the state of Nebraska."

"Some people apparently felt we tried too hard, but I will not concede that point — I do not believe that you can do too much to furnish today's youth a quality education."

Tiemann's comments came during his address as part of the University of Nebraska Montgomery Lectures.

Money saved by slighting education may prove to be money wasted, Tiemann noted. The university serves the state not only through classes but research programs, he said.

"Our research in grain, in meat, in medicine, has done much to better the lot of the farmer, the consumer, the average citizen Funds to maintain these programs must be forthcoming or the skilled heads and hands that conceived and implemented the ideas which bore the fruit will move on to more salutary climates."

Tiemann also noted that "fine minds for consultation" at a university often draw industry to an area. "Such an industrial input offers the jobs necessary to keep the cream of our young people at home where they can lend their skills for the betterment of us all."

The election results of 1970 were disappointing to him, he said, "not only because of any repudiation of what I had tried to do, but also and more importantly because to me they signified an acceptance on the part of Nebraskans of the second-rate."

The proposed budget for the University of Nebraska is already showing ill effects, Tiemann noted, citing the example of a California educator who recently decided not to take a position in the NU engineering department, giving the budget cut as his reason.

"And I know that many people will always wonder what part the budgetary vise had upon Joe Soshnik's decision to go into private business after a lifetime in education."

Tiemann was referring to the recent resignation of NU Lincoln Campus President Joseph Soshnik, who has taken a position with an Omaha investment banking firm.

Speaking directly to Soshnik, who was seated next to him at the speaker's table, Tiemann quipped: "In the field of politics and education, when you're really doing a good job you either get thrown out, fired or have your salary reduced. You don't have to worry about that, Joe, in the field of investment banking."

Gore Says Calley's Conviction 'Undermines Morality Of War'

By MILAN WALL
Star Staff Writer

Former U.S. Sen. Albert Gore told a University of Nebraska audience Tuesday he believes the conviction of Lt. William Calley has "undermined the morality of the war."

"How do you explain the widespread condolence of the merciless murder of babies?" Gore asked.

The "best rationale," Gore suggested in the keynote speech of the 1971 Montgomery Lectures, is that it stems from an "American folklore that our country must always be right."

Calley 'Folk Hero'

He noted that Calley has "somehow become a folk hero" for his conviction on murder charges for killings at the South Vietnamese village of My Lai in 1968.

"It's a basic tribal reaction," the former lawmaker suggested. "Our boy killed them, so we support our boy."

Noting that George Washington had warned "the country against becoming an inveterate slave to our prejudices," Gore said he believes the U.S. has become a slave to an ideology.

'Automatically Bad'

That ideology, he said, encompasses a "hostility to communism," which suggests that "anything denounced or branded as communist is automatically bad and must be destroyed."

"I doubt if those babies know they are communist," he added.

"What is mankind coming to in this 'panorama of change?' " Gore asked. The nation's leaders "keep looking" for a moral rationality, but he suggested there is none.

Committee Okays Change In Distribution Of Gas Tax

By The Associated Press

The Legislature's Revenue Committee Tuesday approved a change — beneficial to counties and disadvantageous to cities — in the 1969 formula for distribution of gasoline tax and other highway user revenue funds.

The committee sent to the floor an amended LB844 which freezes the formula at the present level. This gives 53 1-3% of the funds to the State Department of Roads, 25 1-3% to counties and 21 1-3% to municipalities.

The 1969 legislation had called for the county share to drop to 24 1-3% for 1972 and 1973, and to 23 1-3% thereafter. Simultaneously, the city share would be raised so that in 1974 and thereafter, cities and counties each would get 23 1-3%.

The action to rewrite Lincoln Sen. Jerome Warner's LB844 came at an executive session of the committee at which a related measure, LB482, was killed. LB482 was designed to assure that counties suffer no drop-off in dollar allocations.

Lending background to the action was the Legislature's passage earlier Tuesday of a bill, LB74, which makes it easier for second class cities and villages to claim their allocations, by reducing matching requirements. Money which these municipalities have not claimed has been going to the counties. Warner said passage of LB74 has the effect of reducing money available to counties.

In other major action, the Revenue Committee reconsidered and rewrote a previously approved LB776, which proposed to increase gasoline taxes on leaded gasoline and gasoline which does not include a grain alcohol additive. The objective was to increase the market for grain.

The committee amended the bill to provide that after Jan. 1, 1973, the present 8½-cent per gallon gasoline tax advances to 8¾ cents, except that on unleaded gasoline with grain alcohol blended in, the tax becomes 5¾ cents.

Committee members killed 7-1A bill, LB624, changing the formula for reimbursement of tax paid on aircraft fuel.

Initial OK Is Given To 31 'Non-Controversial' Bills

By United Press International

As it entered the final 30 days of the 1971 session, the Legislature cleared the board of some 31 "non-controversial" bills up for first round consideration Tuesday afternoon.

All the proposals received initial backing, including one (LB427) sponsored by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter.

The bill would change the dividing line between a felony insufficient fund check charge and a misdemeanor charge. Under present law a check over $35 results in a felony charge while under is a misdemeanor.

The Carpenter proposal would establish $100 as the cutting off point.

While it would not affect cases which have already been heard and decided by the courts, Carpenter said it would probably mean many now serving prison sentences would face early paroles if the proposal is enacted.

The lawmakers also gave first round aproval to a bill (LB579) which would require juvenile courts to follow the same rules of evidence in reaching a verdict as do adult courts.

Another bill (LB912) given initial approval would provide for state regulation and control of private drug and alcohol treatment centers.

Sponsor of the bill, Sen. Harold Moylan of Omaha, said the bill was introduced at the request of the Omaha Salvation Army, which operates such centers.

Barbering Rules Change Rejected

The Legislature's Public Health and Welfare committee voted 5-2 Tuesday to kill a bill which would have revised the state's barbering rules.

The bill was LB952 sponsored by Omaha Sen. Ernest Chambers.

Under provisions of the bill, the rules would have revised relating to the number of apprentice barbers required in a shop.

Bill To Loosen Bank Rules Dies

The Legislature's Banking, Commerce and Insurance Committee decided Tuesday to kill a bill aimed at loosening branch banking restrictions.

During a special executive session, the committee voted 6-1 to kill the proposal (LB946), sponsored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Resolution Calls For Improvement Of Environment

Sen. Duke Snyder of Omaha introduced a resolution in the Legislature Tuesday afternoon, calling on Nebraskans to join in efforts to improve the environment. Action on the resolution was deferred.

The resolution notes that Gov. J.J. Exon has proclaimed April as Nebraska Environmental Action Month.

The resolution invites Nebraskans to plant trees, engage in widespread cleanup activity, make Arbor Day meaningful and otherwise help improve the environment.

Mysterious Tire Tracks Explained

The S-like rubber marks pictured in Tuesday morning's Lincoln Star are not an infrequent sight at drag strips, according to a Lincolnite who said he used to participate in drag races.

Jerry Beals of 625 So. 14th said the effect can be accomplished by operating a car in reverse at about 30 miles an hour, and then slamming it into forward gear and accelerating rapidly.

The result, said Beals is that when the driver "jumps on it" the tires spin forward for a time while the car continues to move backwards.

"It's used at the drags to clean tires off," he said.

Another caller told The Star that the practice is not recommended for the normal car, since it requires a finely tuned transmission assembly.

Lincoln Catholic Diocese Launches New School Fund-Raising Scheme

A new fund-raising program which officials say will help alleviate the critical financial problems facing Roman Catholic schools has been launched by the Lincoln diocese.

Officials hope the "diocesan development program," while raising funds for diocesan-wide needs, will also generate "at least $100,000" for "immediate educational needs."

The Lincoln diocese, which includes that portion of Nebraska generally south of the Platte River to the Kansas border, has some 28 elementary schools and six high schools.

Under the plan, explained Diocesan School Supt. James Dawson, parishes with schools will be returned a portion of the funds raised in the development program.

"Every parish has a goal," Father Dawson said, although each "need not meet its goal."

"Once a parish with one school meets 60% of its goal," he said, "everything over returns to the parish" for the support of the school.

If the parish has two schools, all funds over 20% of the goal is returned.

Rest To Be Split

All of the parishes which have no schools will contribute the full amount of their goals to the diocesan-wide program, and the monies will be split for distribution to several projects.

In the first year, $100,000 will go to beef up the diocese's revolving fund, from which parishes can borrow at low interest for capital improvements.

Some $800,000 is presently on loan to some of the 90 parishes in the diocese.

In addition, the development program is designed to raise $25,000 each for the University of Nebraska student Newman Center and Catholic Charities and $25,000 to be spread among the Catholic University of America, the home missions and the Latin American missions.

Data Processing System

A first-year-only cost of $25,000 has also been tabbed for a computerized data processing system for development program record-keeping.

The initial year will serve as a "prototype" for each succeeding year's program, officials said, although the program will remain flexible for adaptation to annual needs.

Father Dawson said the program has also been designed to help those parishes with schools, since they "carry a heavier burden."

Parishes with one school, he said, require an average of $41 more per contributor per year, while those with two schools require $87 more.

All seven parishes in Lincoln fall into the two-school category, he said.

Draft Board Consolidation Is 'In Limbo'

State Selective Service Director Lee Liggett admitted Tuesday to being "in limbo" regarding a previously announced consolidation of Selective Service sites in Nebraska.

He explained an amendment to a bill in the House of Representatives on March 31 prevents the envisioned consolidation of local boards. Until the draft bill has gone through both houses of Congress, Selective Service officials won't know where they stand, Liggett said.

He added for the time being operations will continue as in the past.

Nebraska has 89 county Selective Service sites, which would have been consolidated into 23 for administrative purposes. The local boards would have continued functioning as in the past.

Liggett said the reorganization would have resulted in the layoff of about 52 employes. He said about 90% of the Selective Service budget in Nebraska is spent on salaries.

ETV Commission Meet Scheduled

A public meeting of the Nebraska Educational Television Commission is scheduled Thursday at the Nebraska Center in Lincoln, commission Secretary Jack McBride announced Tuesday.

He said items to be considered include acceptance of a $207,000 federal equipment grant and the awarding of contracts for equipment in the new Nebraska educational telecommunications building.

Guards Exchange Pistols For Mace

Omaha (AP) — Security officers on the two Omaha campuses of the University of Nebraska have traded in their revolvers for canisters of chemical mace.

Mace "is just as effective" as a pistol in the officers duties, Michael T. Loftus, director of security on the two campuses, said.

Hearing Set For Lincolnite Charged With Cattle Stealing

An April 26 preliminary hearing date has been set in Lancaster County Court and $10,000 bond set for a 50-year-old Lincoln man in connection with the theft of 11 head of cattle from the Lincoln Livestock Yards.

John Harris, of Lincoln, was charged with cattle stealing and being a habitual criminal.

Lincoln Police Capt. Robert Butcher said that Harris was arrested at an Omaha motel Monday, after he had had an unsuspecting cab driver pick up a check for the sale of the cattle at an Omaha cattle market and deliver the check to him at the motel.

Butcher reported that Harris had phoned an independent trucker Sunday night and hired him to pick up the cattle from the livestock pens southwest of downtown Lincoln.

Due to a recent similar incident at the livestock yards, the trucker became suspicious and contacted authorities who arranged for the trucker to pick up the cattle and deliver them to the Omaha market.

Lincoln Det. Frank Valentine and State Patrol Sgts. George Fauver and Stu Halpin staked out the Omaha market where the trucker took the cattle and were informed that Harris had called and said that he would be unable to pick up the check but would send someone else.

When the cab driver arrived for the check, he was met by the three police officers and he led them to the motel where Harris was then arrested, according to Butcher.

Easter Egg Hunt Planned By VFW

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 131 will hold its 22nd annual Easter egg hunt at the Antelope Park Pavillion Easter Sunday at 8 a.m.

More than 3,000 candy eggs will be hidden, with over one thousand winners. Prizes will be given away at the hunt including bicycles, wagons, radios and wrist watches.

The hunt is open to all school children up to the sixth grade. There will be two areas of competition, one for third grade and under, and one for fourth through sixth grades.

Committee Okays Change In Distribution Of Gas Tax

By The Associated Press

The Legislature's Revenue Committee Tuesday approved a change — beneficial to counties and disadvantageous to cities — in the 1969 formula for distribution of gasoline tax and other highway user revenue funds.

The committee sent to the floor an amended LB844 which freezes the formula at the present level. This gives 53 1-3% of the funds to the State Department of Roads, 25 1-3% to counties and 21 1-3% to municipalities.

The 1969 legislation had called for the county share to drop to 24 1-3% for 1972 and 1973, and to 23 1-3% thereafter. Simultaneously, the city share would be raised so that in 1974 and thereafter, cities and counties each would get 23 1-3%.

The action to rewrite Lincoln Sen. Jerome Warner's LB844 came at an executive session of the committee at which a related measure, LB482, was killed. LB482 was designed to assure that counties suffer no drop-off in dollar allocations.

Lending background to the action was the Legislature's passage earlier Tuesday of a bill, LB74, which makes it easier for second class cities and villages to claim their allocations, by reducing matching requirements. Money which these municipalities have not claimed has been going to the counties. Warner said passage of LB74 has the effect of reducing money available to counties.

In other major action, the Revenue Committee reconsidered and rewrote a previously approved LB776, which proposed to increase gasoline taxes on leaded gasoline and gasoline which does not include a grain alcohol additive. The objective was to increase the market for grain.

The committee amended the bill to provide that after Jan. 1, 1973, the present 8½-cent per gallon gasoline tax advances to 8¾ cents, except that on unleaded gasoline with grain alcohol blended in, the tax becomes 5¾ cents.

Committee members killed 7-1A bill, LB624, changing the formula for reimbursement of tax paid on aircraft fuel.

Automobiles in Nebraska may blossom next year with license plates carrying such out-of-the-ordinary inscriptions as "Harry," "Mabel," "Love U," "Peace."

A bill authorizing the issuance of personalized or prestige license plates at an initial cost of $50 was passed 34-12 on final reading in the Legislature Tuesday.

The same bill provides that license plates shall be issued annually instead of each three years as is now the case, and directs that plates be purchased by competitive bidding instead of being manufactured at the Nebraska Penal Complex. The prison still could bid on the job, however.

Bill's Sponsors

The measure, LB376, was sponsored by Sens. P. J. Morgan of Omaha and Richard D. Marvel of Hastings.

During recent floor debate, Sen. Morgan told the Legislature 32 states already authorize prestige plates. He estimted the device in Nebraska would bring in $250,000 the first year.

The prestige plate will not carry the county identification number. It will have a maximum of six characters, and no more than one numeral. The license plate "shall not express, connote or imply any obscene or objectional words or abbreviations," the bill states.

Costs $50

An auto owner, after paying $50 for his first set of prestige plates, can get them renewed annually thereafter at a cost of $25.

Annual issuance of license plates was advocated as a money saver inasmuch as a lighter gauge of steel may be used for plates which are required to last only 12 months, instead of 36. Sen. Morgan estimated a saving of $65,000 per year.

Nebraska presently issues an adhesive tab to update a license plate for its second and third years.

The annual issuance of plates won't begin until 1975.

Road Funds

Also passed on final reading Tuesday — with only a couple votes to spare—was Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB74, changing slightly the formula for distribution of state highway funds and adding off-street public parking to the purposes for which street funds may be used.

Municipalities presently receive one-third of their allocation without matching, but must match the second one-third on a $1-for-$1 basis, and the remaining one-third on a $1-for-$2 basis.

LB74, passed 27-16, permits second class cities and villages to receive one-half of their allocation without matching, and receive the remaining one-half on a $1-for-$2 basis.

Other bills passed on final reading:

—Variously revising and refining provisions of the Nebraska Nonprofit Corporation Act. LB484. Luedtke. 43-0.

—Changing requirements for publication of names of persons whose abandoned property may be taken over by the state. LB648. Carstens. 47-0.

Nixon's Decision To Review Calley Case Commended

The Legislature Tuesday unanimously adopted a resolution commending President Nixon for his decision to personally review the court-martial conviction of Army Lt. William Calley.

A 38-0 vote was accorded the resolution, offered by Omaha Sen. Richard Proud.

Proud's original resolution had asked Nixon to intervene, but Nixon announced his intention to review the case before the resolution was adopted. So Proud amended the measure to commend the President for his decision.

Calley was sentenced last week to life imprisonment for his part in the My Lai massacre three years ago.

Omaha Sen. P. J. Morgan withdrew a motion he had made earlier, to ask Nixon to grant clemency to Calley. Instead, Morgan added his name to Proud's resolution as a co-sponsor.

Studies Asked Of Mobile Homes, Law Enforcement

The Legislature Tuesday was asked to set up a pair of interim study committees to review law enforcement and problems created by mobile home living.

Both resolutions were laid over one day and will be considered Wednesday.

Resolution 37, sponsored by the Judiciary Committee, asks for a study of "possible areas of reform in the areas of indigent litigants, correctional institutions, courts and law enforcement."

Sen. Cal Carsten of Avoca sponsored a resolution to study the local governmental problems resulting from increased mobile home living.

Law Enforcement Panel Proposed

The Legislature Tuesday received a bill which would set up the Nebraska Law enforcement and Justice Advisory Committee.

The bill, LB1019, was sponsored by the Judiciary Committee.

According to Lincoln Sen. Roland Luedtke, the committee chairman, the committee would include members of the Judiciary Committee and the State Crime Commission.

Luedtke said approval of the bill would facilitate coordination and cooperation between the two groups and would aid the administration of justice.

The Zodiac Sign Of Aries Takes Over Suburbia

Spring is a rebirth. It is when the trees begin to bud and reveal their splendid leaves — when we all want to go out and buy new clothes and accessories — and when the men in our lives are longing to get out on the golf courses.

Easter has come to be recognized as the celebration to welcome the birth of nature — once again.

Speaking of births, we have news this morning of a baby shower which was held on Friday evening, April 2. The mother-to-be is Mrs. Robert Finemore, Jr., of Meadow Lane — and the infant is due to arrive during the first week of May.

The shower, complete with the appropriate stork, was held in another suburban area — at the Martin Heights home of Mrs. Alan Hansen. Assisting hostesses for the dessert and shower were Mrs. Thomas Tegley and Mr. Robert Finemore, Sr.

Bringing best wishes and their guesses as to whether the color should be pink or blue were Mrs. Edwin T. Hansen, Mrs. Daryl Schoenfeld, Mrs. Stan Hanquist, Mrs. Steve Hessce, Mrs. Louis Buckendorf, Mrs. Ross Wilcox, Mrs. Paul Wilkenson, and Mrs. Larry Bartels.

It seems that birthdays are constantly in the news — after all, everyone has one at least once in a while!

Mrs. Pearle Frey left her Kimberly Heights home recently and journeyed to Red Cloud where she was joined by several relatives who were also there to wish Mrs. Frey's mother, Mrs. Grace Callahan, a happy birthday.

On hand for the party and pot luck dinner were Mrs. Frey's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeShon. Other relatives included Mrs. Callahan's sister, Mrs. Margie Blackstone of Minneapolis, Kan.; her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kottman of Ellsworth, Kan.; her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hagen and family of Gibbon; and Mrs. Millie Giger, also of Gibbon.

Birthdays are most common this month for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Heng of South Hills. The zodiacal sign of Aries belongs to all three children, as well as Mrs. Heng. Daughter Lisa will be four years old on April 15; son Nick will be 14 years old on April 14, and Mark was 11 years old on April 4. Mrs. Heng will celebrate her birthday on April 22.

But, that is only the beginning. Many of the Heng's relatives will also be celebrating their birthdays this month. Mrs. Heng's father, Bernard Barrett of Nebraska City, celebrated his birthday on April 6. Two of Mrs. Heng's sisters-in-law also are passing another year this month — Mrs. Allan Barrett on April 6, and Mrs. Dennis Barrett on April 16 — both of Nebraska City. A niece, Miss Julie Holman will be one on April 16, and a nephew, Mr. Michael Barrett was three years old on April 6.

As you can easily see, this is a busy month in the candle and cake department. The many relatives have decided to make one grand celebration of it all on Easter Sunday, when they will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Heng for an Easter dinner and birthday celebration combined.

We hear that Mr. and Mrs. James Bourne, formerly of Lincoln, have just returned to our fair city to once again reside here. Their departure from Lincoln took them to San Antonio, Tex., and then to Hattiesburg, Miss.

The Pine Lake Posse will ride again, and is planning a very active spring and summer. On Tuesday evening, the members of the Posse met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Perry to discuss plans.

The Coach Eyes A Goal Line

Team spirit makes any drive to the goal line possible — and in this case we are referring to the Arthritis Drive and the team behind it, which is composed of many Lincoln workers and which also includes NU sorority Alpha Omicron Pi, whose national philanthropic project is arthritis.

The social hour and dinner will feature master of ceremonies Coach Devaney, Bill Ramsey, Devaney, the NU Beat A' Band, NU Victory Voice Chorus, Campaign Cheer Leaders, AOPi Cheering Squad, Robert Schropp, development chairman, and Nebraska Rheumatologists Dr. Paul D. Saville and Dr. Arthur L. Weaver.

TOWN TALK

Yesterday we did some talking about travelers and guests and this morning we are going to do some more talking — about travelers and guests.

* * *

A portion of the morning chatter has to do with a traveler we mentioned yesterday — We're adding a postscript.

It seems that Mrs. Frank Boehmer had just time enough to unpack, following her Caribbean cruise, and then repack for a trip to Pueblo, Colo., to attend a party for which her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tallman were host and hostess. The party announced the engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Tallman's daughter, Miss Sarah Chapin Tallman, to John Conway of Denver.

* * *

More travelers on our mind this ayem — We hear that Mr. and Mrs. William Dahlstrom will be flying away on Easter Sunday for a delightful whirl in Europe. The trip, which will take them to England, Austria, Switzerland and Spain, was a sales award for Mr. Dahlstrom who is associated with the Kimball Piano and Organ Co.

* * *

We always like the idea of guests — and guest courtesies and this morning we have both.

Arriving today will be Mr. and Mrs. George Shoffner (Liz Ames) who are back in civilian life once more. Mr. Shoffner has completed his tour of duty with the U.S. Navy and has accepted a position in Minneapolis where he and Mrs. Shoffner will reside. The stop-over in Lincoln, of course, is to have a visit with Mrs. Shoffner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Ames.

And next Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Shoffner will share honors with Mrs. Costa Boicus of Athens, Greece — the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Watson — when they entertain a small group of guests at a cocktail supper at their home.

* * *

Speaking of courtesies — Mrs. Richard Marshall and Mrs. Gene Budig were hostesses on Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Marshall when they entertained in courtesy to two April brides-elect, Miss Katie Jones, whose marriage to Robert Wilson takes place on April 18, and Miss Teresa Van who has a Friday, April 9, date for her marriage to David Schmidt.

Bachelors Speak Out—

The Liberal Approach

(Part Two of a Series)

As our bachelors face the altar, there is a great deal more on their minds than simply getting down the aisle. There is a whole new world ahead and many new responsibilities to be faced. There is also still time to reflect on the foundation of what will make that 'Marriage made in Heaven.' Here are some of their thoughts.

Q. Do you think that it's a good idea for couples to live together before they are married?

DAN: The old liberal approach, huh? I've known quite a few people—not quite a few—well, yes, quite a few couples—who lived together. Now some of them are just getting married to make it legal—but I don't know whether it's helped them that much getting used to living with each other. It's a pretty liberal point of view to go and live with a girl for, say, six months and then say "Gee, I don't know if I could do this for the rest of my life," and just say, "Good bye."

MIKE: I just don't feel that it helps that much. It detracts from getting married.

DAN: Society frowns upon it so much that it would be hard to live someplace and not have people know that you're just living together. If society condoned it and said, "All right, everyone's who's getting married has to live with each other for three months to see if it will work out," — then it might lower the divorce rate — then it might be a different thing.

JASON: I think it would be a good idea. It would be good because a lot of people who don't have the advantage of years — my fiancee and I have some kind of record going. I think we know each other well enough now where we have gone beyond the point of the initial romance — but some people who aren't sure, or are ready to just jump in, they ought to try living together first. It has become too much of a hang-up in the eyes of society.

GREG: In many cases, it's probably a good deal although I would probably be bound by convention — not too many people would know about it if I did.

Q. Which responsibilities around the house do you see as hers and which do you see as yours? Do you plan to help out with the housework?

MIKE: At the beginning, she will be student teaching — she will be a full time student and I will just be carrying a few hours — so we plan to have just a small place and I'll be able to pick up the house and do some things for her. But once we get on to our permanent jobs and assume the responsibilities of a larger home and a family, the responsibilities of the home and repair and bringing in the money will be mine and she probably will assume the housework.

Q. Even if she is working?

DAN: There's a lot of stuff that doesn't get done if you don't do it together — but then there are some things that a guy just expects his wife to do — like the washing and so forth — but as far as keeping up the apartment or house, that's up to both. You can both do the washing, but there are certain things that you just expect a woman to do — that a man can't find the time to do or isn't capable of doing.

MIKE: I like to cook once in a while but I wouldn't like to cook all the time. Once in a while I could wash clothes, but ironing clothes — no!

DAN: It's easy right now to say, "I'm going to do that or we are going to do this together," but then after you're married, for say, three months or six months, the situation is different. At first she washes the dishes and you dry, but after a while she washes and dries and you sit and watch TV or something. You start out with good intentions, but whether you carry them out or not is another thing.

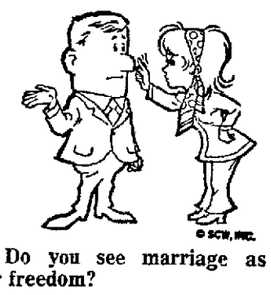
Q. When you're married do you think that's fair? She has worked all day and you have worked all day and you both are carrying quite a load — but do you feel she does have more responsibilities around the home?

DAN: If you want to look at it that way, yes. If you are both doing the exact same thing — both working and both trying to keep a home — you just about have to pull your equal share or else you are going to have a real big problem.

JASON: If the man is assuming a career or something, then he should help with the little things, but you shouldn't be asked to clean the living room. But if the wife is working, it's a two-way deal and you've both got to do it.

GREG: If she needs some help you can help her out, now and then. I like to cook, but I would just as soon have her do the dishes.

JASON: This is a good idea, but most people have the impression that most guys don't know what it is to take care of an apartment, but most guys do have an idea of what it is.



Q. Do you see marriage as infringing on your freedom?

MIKE: In a way it does, but it won't be an infringement that I will hate. There are some things that I do now that I won't be able to do when I'm married.

DAN: I don't think it will infringe upon my freedom. I might even add some more freedom.

JASON: I don't think it has to be. It restricts your freedom as far as you can't go out and have a ball and the same holds true for your wife, but a lot of people draw a lot of conclusions and say, "You're married, so you have to give such and so up." But a lot of these are things that you don't have to give up—you might have to limit them. Confucius said, "Moderation in everything"—and I agree with him.

GREG: Well, I would like to agree with Confucius, but I guess I am a real moderate person. In ways, marriage expands your freedom and it would be a stabilizing factor in freedoms which I use to excess.

Q. What do you think about a night out with the guys?

DAN: Definitely. She needs her night out, too. When you first get married you want to be by yourself, but later on you will need it—you're going to need a night when you can go out with the guys and she with the girls. She's going to need a night when she can go over to her friend's house and do something — but then there will be people you will want to be together with. Also, I think it's a good idea that person have a night—maybe not even a night, just a time—when they can be by themselves. Everybody needs that.

JASON: I think it is a must.

GREG: Uh huh.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I knew this guy in the Army in Korea. A likable, handsome fellow. Good manners and smooth. He never had to buy his favors from the pitiful little native girls. So charming was he, they were pleased to accommodate him with no pay.

Then he returned to the states and married my sister in law. I thought he would settle down like the rest of us, but he is still a Don Juan with the ladies, and can make love to his best friend's wife, cool as a cucumber, 10 minutes before her husband is due home.

This character has a small business, heavily mortgaged. Also a home, likewise encumbered. His wife has to hold an outside job to help meet the paymsnts. She is an attractive, loving wife and a good mother. She's left alone so often at night you'd think she'd catch on, but she believes his stories of "having to work late," or "meet an old friend."

I haven't even told my wife what I know. I have seen so many wives slaving outside the home while their husbands always seem to have enough money to entertain girl friends. Is this part of a woman's fate? What should I do?

DISTURBED

DEAR DISTURBED: You could try to get your brother in law to shape up, but from your description of him, he's not likely to change a winning formula.

There is no such thing as "a woman's fate." There have always been good, trusting women whose charming husbands have managed to deceive them for years. It evens out tho. Some good trusting husbands slave away while their two-timing wives play the same game.

Kathy Scott Is Shower Honoree

Weddings are preceded by a flurry of activities that naturally center around a blushing bride. These activities have flowered into a group of traditions — one of which concerns the bridal shower.

The shower tradition was carried out on Sunday afternoon, April 3, when April bride-elect Miss Kathy Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scott, was presented a miscellaneous party. Hostesses in courtesy to Miss Scott were Mrs. James Nelson, Miss Bev Defnall, and Mrs. Richard Olson.

Miss Scott has chosen Saturday, April 10, as the date for her marriage to Steve Sinclair, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Sinclair.

Attendants Named

Announcing plans this morning for an April wedding is Miss Rose Marie Rempe, whose marriage to Jerry Ziems, son of Oscar Ziems of Deshler and the late Mrs. Ziems, will be an event of Saturday, April 17.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rempe, the bride-to-be has named her sisters, Mrs. Richard Hoffman and Miss Debbie Rempe, as her honor attendants for the 11 o'clock morning service which will be solemnized at the Cathedral of the Risen Christ. Attending Miss Rempe as bridesmaid will be Miss Sandy Hall.

Ken Ziems will serve his brother as best man, and the groomsmen will be Bob Medina of Omaha and Bill Dougherty. Richard Hoffman and Larry Rempe, a brother of the bride-elect, will seat the guests.

Sunday afternoon, March 14, Miss Sandy Hall entertained in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Rempe who was presented a miscellaneous shower at a party held at the home of Miss Hall. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Richard Hoffman and Mrs. Lowell Dame.

Miss Rempe and her fiance will share honors on Friday evening, April 16, at a prenuptial dinner for which Mr. Ziems' father will be host at the Ramada Inn following the wedding rehearsal at the church.

The future bride attended the University of Nebraska and presently is careering in Lincoln.

Bachelors Speak Out—

The Liberal Approach

(Part Two of a Series)

As our bachelors face the altar, there is a great deal more on their minds than simply getting down the aisle. There is a whole new world ahead and many new responsibilities to be faced. There is also still time to reflect on the foundation of what will make that 'Marriage made in Heaven.' Here are some of their thoughts.

Q. Do you think that it's a good idea for couples to live together before they are married?

DAN: The old liberal approach, huh? I've known quite a few people—not quite a few—well, yes, quite a few couples—who lived together. Now some of them are just getting married to make it legal—but I don't know whether it's helped them that much getting used to living with each other. It's a pretty liberal point of view to go and live with a girl for, say, six months and then say "Gee, I don't know if I could do this for the rest of my life," and just say, "Good bye."

MIKE: I just don't feel that it helps that much. It detracts from getting married.

DAN: Society frowns upon it so much that it would be hard to live someplace and not have people know that you're just living together. If society condoned it and said, "All right, everyone's who's getting married has to live with each other for three months to see if it will work out," — then it might lower the divorce rate — then it might be a different thing.

JASON: I think it would be a good idea. It would be good because a lot of people who don't have the advantage of years — my fiancee and I have some kind of record going, I think we know each other well enough now where we have gone beyond the point of the initial romance — but some people who aren't sure, or are ready to just jump in, they ought to try living together first. It has become too much of a hang-up in the eyes of society.

GREG: In many cases, it's probably a good deal although I would probably be bound by convention — not too many people would know about it if I did.

Q. Which responsibilities around the house do you see as hers and which do you see as yours? Do you plan to help out with the housework?

MIKE: At the beginning, she will be student teaching — she will be a full time student and I will just be carrying a few hours — so we plan to have just a small place and I'll be able to pick up the house and do some things for her. But once we get on to our permanent jobs and assume the responsibilities of a larger home and a family, the responsibilities of the home and repair and bringing in the money will be mine and she probably will assume the housework.

Q. Even if she is working?

DAN: There's a lot of stuff that doesn't get done if you don't do it together — but then there are some things that a guy just expects his wife to do — like the washing and so forth — but as far as keeping up the apartment or house, that's up to both. You can both do the washing, but there are certain things that you just expect a woman to do — that a man can't find the time to do or isn't capable of doing.

MIKE: I like to cook once in a while but I wouldn't like to cook all the time. Once in a while I could wash clothes, but ironing clothes — no!

DAN: It's easy right now to say, "I'm going to do that or we are going to do this together," but then after you're married, for say, three months or six months, the situation is different. At first she washes the dishes and you dry, but after a while she washes and dries and you sit and watch TV or something. DAN: If you want to look at it that way, yes. If you are both doing the exact same thing — both working and both trying to keep a home — you just about have to pull your equal share or else you are going to have a real big problem.

JASON: If the man is assuming a career or something, then he should help with the little things, but you shouldn't be asked to clean the living room. But if the wife is working, it's a two-way deal and you've both got to do it.

DAN: I don't think it will infringe upon my freedom. I might even add some more freedom.

Know Your Antiques

By RALPH AND TERRY KOVEL

Weekly visits to the cemetery, careful cleaning of the gravestone, replacement of the flowers, and a casual family visit were all part of the activities at any local cemetery during the late 19th century. Cast iron chairs, benches, vases, elaborate carved tombstones, and scrolled cast iron fences were necessities.

It was part of a Victorian's life to mourn deeply and continue to visit and care for graves for years. The carved stones were often decorated with realistic marble interpretations of flowers, wreathes, ivy, crosses, tree trunks, draped fabrics, fringed pillows, and life-like statues of animals or people.

A bridal wreath was the symbol of tradegy showing the departed was a young bride. A rosebud indicating an infant was a part of the tradition of the tombstone carver.

Almost every cemetery was filled with carvings or castings of willows, lambs, doves, and weeping angels, the symbols of sadness. Ivy was the symbol of life. This seems to be sentimental and strange by today's standards. It was less strange than the 18th century cemetery filled with skull and cross bones and grinning angel faces.

Cemetery art is impossible to collect. Pictures or rubbings of the tombstones and visits to old cemeteries are a part of the collector's interest. It gives a new feeling for the era of our ancestors. The history of art, health and family sentiments can be learned through a careful study of pre-1900 cemeteries.

Everyone seems to be predicting the best investments for 1971. The antique market is no exception. We predict that 19th century silver, fruit jars, milk bottles, art deco and late Victorian furniture will be of greater interest to collectors. The price of all antiques will continue to rise as the number of collectors increases.

Ralph and Terry Kovel have provide a number of booklets about antiques for their readers. You may be interested in their booklet, "Refinishing and Restoring Antiques," which you may have by simply sending 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope along with your request for the booklet to Know Your Antiques in care of The Lincoln Star.

Parties For Bride

Recent bridal courtesies honoring Miss Colleen Mulgrue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mulgrue, who will become the bride of Steven H. Nootz on Saturday, April 17; include the miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Frank Fowler and Mrs. John Head were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Head on Wednesday evening, March 30; and entertaining at a miscellaneous shower on Sunday evening, March 27, was Mrs. Donal Wieseman of Osceola who was assisted by Mrs. Merle Wieseman, also of Osceola.

Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Herbert Rapoport of Omaha were hostesses at a champagne luncheon and kitchen shower held at the Nebraska Club on Wednesday afternoon, March 24.

On Sunday afternoon, March 21, Mrs. Dean Hile and Mrs. John Streeter entertained a group of guests at a linen shower held at the home of Mrs. Hile.

There are still some parties to come for the busy bride-to-be. For example, Mrs. Allen Korsmeyer and her daughter, Miss Kathy Korsmeyer, will be hostesses at a miscellaneous shower to be held at their home on Saturday afternoon, April 3; and a miscellaneous shower will be presented to the bride-elect on Sunday afternoon, April 4, when Mrs. Stanley Wehrli will be hostess at her home.

Miss Joy Schafer will entertain a group of guests at her home on Monday evening, April 5, at a miscellaneous shower for the soon-to-be bride.

Miss Mulgrue and her fiance will share honors on Friday evening, April 16, at a prenuptial dinner for which Mr. Nootz's parents will be host and hostess at The Knolls following the wedding rehearsal at the church. The guests will include the members of the families and the bridal party.

The future bride is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska where she is majoring in home economics.

Mr. Nootz was graduated from the university where he is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity and N Club.

DAC Group

The members of Hannah Duston Chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists will gather for a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon on Saturday afternoon, April 10, at the home of Mrs. O. E. Kingery, Sr., 1515 Skyline Dr.

Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. R. B. McCandless and Miss Helen Leiser.

Mrs. William Folger will present the program on "The Passengers of the Mayflower."

Chapter Regent Mrs. Norman B. Grubb will preside at the business meeting which will include reports of the State Assembly.

Opening lead—two of hearts.

There is quite a difference between bad luck and bad management.

Consider this deal where West led a heart. Declarer followed low from dummy, winning with the ten, and cashed the A-Q of diamonds, West discarding a low club on the second one

With only eight high-card tricks, South continued with the king and another diamond as his only real hope of establishing a ninth. West in the meantime had discarded two hearts on the last two diamonds.

Upon winning the diamond, East defended exceptionally well by shifting to the ten of spades. As a result, South had to go down one. He covered the ten with the queen, but West won with the ace, returned a low spade to the king, and then gobbled up two more tricks with the J-7.

Undoubtedly South encountered bad luck on the hand, as well as shrewd defense, but, even so, he contributed in large measure to his own downfall.

He should have resisted the temptation to play low from dummy on the opening lead, even though this meant he was rejecting a fourth heart trick that was being handed to him on a silver platter.

His chief concern should have been a 4-1 diamond break, with East having four of them. He should have won the heart lead in dummy and returned a low diamond to the eight, being perfectly willing to lose the trick to West.

With West on lead, there was no chance whatsoever of the defenders' being able to cash four spade tricks in succession. Only if East gained the lead was such an outcome possible, and had South protected against this at the start he would have come home with the contract.

Silent weeping willows and lambs decorate this cast iron fence made in the 19th century. The white painted iron was probably a part of a cemetery fence. It was found in New York State. (Index of American Design, Washington, D.C.)

By RALPH AND TERRY KOVEL

Weekly visits to the cemetery, careful cleaning of the gravestone, replacement of the flowers, and a casual family visit were all part of the activities at any local cemetery during the late 19th century. Cast iron chairs, benches, vases, elaborate carved tombstones, and scrolled cast iron fences were necessities.

It was part of a Victorian's life to mourn deeply and continue to visit and care for graves for years. The carved stones were often decorated with realistic marble interpretations of flowers, wreathes, ivy, crosses, tree trunks, draped fabrics, fringed pillows, and life-like statues of animals or people.

A bridal wreath was the symbol of tradegy showing the departed was a young bride. A rosebud indicating an infant was a part of the tradition of the tombstone carver.

Almost every cemetery was filled with carvings or castings of willows, lambs, doves, and weeping angels, the symbols of sadness. Ivy was the symbol of life. This seems to be sentimental and strange by today's standards. It was less strange than the 18th century cemetery filled with skull and cross bones and grinning angel faces.

Cemetery art is impossible to collect. Pictures or rubbings of the tombstones and visits to old cemeteries are a part of the collector's interest. It gives a new feeling for the era of our ancestors. The history of art, health and family sentiments can be learned through a careful study of pre-1900 cemeteries.

Everyone seems to be predicting the best investments for 1971. The antique market is no exception. We predict that 19th century silver, fruit jars, milk bottles, art deco and late Victorian furniture will be of greater interest to collectors. The price of all antiques will continue to rise as the number of collectors increases.

Ralph and Terry Kovel have provide a number of booklets about antiques for their readers. You may be interested in their booklet, "Refinishing and Restoring Antiques," which you may have by simply sending 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope along with your request for the booklet to Know Your Antiques in care of The Lincoln Star.

Parties For Bride

Recent bridal courtesies honoring Miss Colleen Mulgrue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mulgrue, who will become the bride of Steven H. Nootz on Saturday, April 17; include the miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Frank Fowler and Mrs. John Head were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Head on Wednesday evening, March 30; and entertaining at a miscellaneous shower on Sunday evening, March 27, was Mrs. Donal Wieseman of Osceola who was assisted by Mrs. Merle Wieseman, also of Osceola.

Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Herbert Rapoport of Omaha were hostesses at a champagne luncheon and kitchen shower held at the Nebraska Club on Wednesday afternoon, March 24.

On Sunday afternoon, March 21, Mrs. Dean Hile and Mrs. John Streeter entertained a group of guests at a linen shower held at the home of Mrs. Hile.

There are still some parties to come for the busy bride-to-be. For example, Mrs. Allen Korsmeyer and her daughter, Miss Kathy Korsmeyer, will be hostesses at a miscellaneous shower to be held at their home on Saturday afternoon, April 3; and a miscellaneous shower will be presented to the bride-elect on Sunday afternoon, April 4, when Mrs. Stanley Wehrli will be hostess at her home.

Miss Joy Schafer will entertain a group of guests at her home on Monday evening, April 5, at a miscellaneous shower for the soon-to-be bride.

Miss Mulgrue and her fiance will share honors on Friday evening, April 16, at a prenuptial dinner for which Mr. Nootz's parents will be host and hostess at The Knolls following the wedding rehearsal at the church. The guests will include the members of the families and the bridal party.

The future bride is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska where she is majoring in home economics.

Mr. Nootz was graduated from the university where he is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta fraternity and N Club.

DAC Group

The members of Hannah Duston Chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists will gather for a 1 o'clock dessert luncheon on Saturday afternoon, April 10, at the home of Mrs. O. E. Kingery, Sr., 1515 Skyline Dr.

Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. R. B. McCandless and Miss Helen Leiser.

Mrs. William Folger will present the program on "The Passengers of the Mayflower."

Chapter Regent Mrs. Norman B. Grubb will preside at the business meeting which will include reports of the State Assembly.

Opening lead—two of hearts.

There is quite a difference between bad luck and bad management.

Consider this deal where West led a heart. Declarer followed low from dummy, winning with the ten, and cashed the A-Q of diamonds, West discarding a low club on the second one.

With only eight high-card tricks, South continued with the king and another diamond as his only real hope of establishing a ninth. West in the meantime had discarded two hearts on the last two diamonds.

Upon winning the diamond, East defended exceptionally well by shifting to the ten of spades. As a result, South had to go down one. He covered the ten with the queen, but West won with the ace, returned a low spade to the king, and then gobbled up two more tricks with the J-7.

Undoubtedly South encountered bad luck on the hand, as well as shrewd defense, but, even so, he contributed in large measure to his own downfall.

He should have resisted the temptation to play low from dummy on the opening lead, even though this meant he was rejecting a fourth heart trick that was being handed to him on a silver platter.

His chief concern should have been a 4-1 diamond break, with East having four of them. He should have won the heart lead in dummy and returned a low diamond to the eight, being perfectly willing to lose the trick to West.

With West on lead, there was no chance whatsoever of the defenders' being able to cash four spade tricks in succession. Only if East gained the lead was such an outcome possible, and had South protected against this at the start he would have come home with the contract.

Order To Merge Fire Units Signed

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday signed, on order of Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles, an order which merges the Southeast Rural Fire Protection District and the Bennet Fire District.

Judge Boyles, in issuing a writ of mandamus sought by the Southeast Rural Fire District, ordered that "immediately upon receipt" an order be entered merging the districts with boundaries set forth in the court order.

After some discussion between attorneys for both sides, County Atty. Paul Douglas and county commissioners prior to an advertised hearing on the matter, Douglas informed the some 35 persons present for the hearing that the commissioners were going to sign the order merging the districts in compliance with the court order to avoid possibly being in contempt of court.

Set Out In Law

On questioning by the individuals present as to why such an order was issued, why it was in the hands of the court and why the proposal, which began more than two years ago, was not placed on a ballot for a vote of the people, attorneys explained that the steps for a merger are set out by statute and the provisions must be followed until such time as the law may be changed.

They also explained that there is one more step involved in making the merger valid and that is to hold an assembly-type meeting where all people involved may come together and vote for or against the merger.

William Walker, attorney for Bennet Fire District residents who are opposed to the merger, explained that what the county commissioners were in effect doing Tuesday was saying they don't intend to appeal the action but don't intend to do anything to keep the parties from appealing the matter.

Appeal Results Told

It was further explained that if the mandamus order is appealed to the State Supreme Court and is affirmed the merger will stand, but that if the appeal results in a reversal, the matter would again be brought before the county board for ruling on the merger.

The county's previous order approving the merger was appealed on a writ of error proceedings by the Bennet district people and the court held at that time that the county's order was not void but irregular in that the order was not in proper form in failing to include the boundaries of the merged district and that no proper order had been filed with the county court.

The court then remanded the proceeding to the county board to enter an appropriate order but the county board chose to set another hearing scheduled Tuesday.

Faculty Senate Accepts Evaluation System Plan

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln faculty senate Tuesday voted to establish a system for conducting periodic evaluations of courses and instruction.

By a voice vote, the senate adopted a resolution offered by a special faculty evaluation committee which has been working for a year to develop an evaluation proposal.

The action leaves to department chairmen the responsibility of setting procedures for the evaluations, but the committee suggested guidelines which include evaluation of instructors' performance and course descriptions.

Gauge Effectiveness

The evaluation could be used by instructors to help them gauge their effectiveness, and could, at the instructor's discretion, be released to their superiors and to students.

The resolution also calls for a review of the plan after two years by the university's teaching council.

In other action, the senate also adopted a proposal from two educational psychologists to permit interested citizens to visit classes.

Some professors questioned the need for the action, suggesting that anyone who wants to can already visit a class by making arrangements with the proper officials or teachers.

'Personally Convinced'

But Prof. Royce Ronning, cosponsor of the motion, said he was "personally convinced we have to reaffirm that this is a public institution."

The senate also adopted a motion calling for establishment of a permanent fact-finding committee, which would conduct hearings and recommend action "in those matters relating to grievances and conduct of faculty members which are not encompassed by the code of procedures" of the academic privilege and tenure committee.

The resolution was sponsored by that committee. The new committee would apparently operate similar to the way a special fact-finding committee functioned in the Stephen Rozman case.

J. Skinner Is Approved As Civil Defense Head

The prolonged controversy over the appointment of a civil defense director for Lincoln and Lancaster County was climaxed Tuesday with the county board's approval of the appointment of Jasper Skinner by a vote of two to one.

The City Council unanimously had approved the appointment of Skinner Monday after several weeks of controversy over the methods used to select an individual for the post to succeed Richard Vestecka who resigned effective Jan. 7.

County Commissioner Robert Colin Sr., who had strongly opposed the methods used in selecting the three persons whose names were submitted to the Civil Defense Advisory Board, was the only member of the two bodies to vote against the appointment.

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf had recommended the appointment of Skinner after his first recommendation of John Tunberg had been rejected by the council. Tunberg subsequently withdrew his application.

A city ordinance states that the director shall be appointed by the mayor subject to the approval of the majority of the City Council and County Board members.

County Board Takes Bank's Complaint Under Advisement

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday took under advisement the complaint by owners of the First National Bank Building at 13th and M that the 1970 valuation of the building was set too high before the structure was completed.

At a special hearing before the commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization, the legal implications of whether the property should be valued as real estate or personal property since the building is located on leased land were discussed.

Deputy County Attorney Floyd Sterns said that he felt whether the property should be valued as real or personal property is an academic question since the levies are the same but that the real issue is the valuation of the property.

At the request of the board and Assessor Fritz Meyer, Patrick McGuirk of Cole-Layer-Trumble appraisal firm which completed the county's scientific reappraisal last year, appeared to explain how he arrived at the valuation placed on the property as of assessment day, Jan. 1, 1970.

He said in talking with the project superintendent he was of the opinion that part of the building was owned by Murdock while the other portion was owned by the bank and therefore two valuations were placed on the property.

McGuirk said that his inspection of the structure on Jan. 13, 1970, and information received indicated that the bone structure of the building was 85% complete, but that the portion which he understood belonged to the bank was not nearly as complete and the two values added together represented a total valuation of 68% of actual completed value.

He said that the total value placed on it was $4,485,195 as compared to completed value of $6,114,900.

On questioning he said he got no cost figures of what had been completed at that time.

Fred Herrington, tax consultant for David H. Murdock, who built the building and leases it to the bank, said that the total structure was only one-third complete as of January, 1970.

He said that they could furnish to the assessor cost figures on construction up to that time.

Warren Johnson, attorney for Murdock, told the commissioners that he felt all parties should get together and determine whether the property should be classified as real or personal and to determine whether the building was 85%, one-third or 50% complete at the time of last year's assessment.

He had told the board last week that the building, in his opinion, was 50% complete at that time and should have been assessed on that basis.

Whitman Child Loses Part Of Hand In Mishap

Whitman (UPI) — A five-year-old Whitman area boy, Mike Bunner, Tuesday lost four fingers and part of the palm of his left hand in a power take-off accident at his parents' ranch south of here.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bunner.

His attending physician at an Alliance hospital said he is listed in good condition.

Mrs. Bunner said the boy was with his father at the ranch at the time of the accident.

Bus Hearing Continued By Judge Ronin

A hearing before Lancaster District Judge Herbert Ronin on the question of whether the court has jurisdiction in the action brought against the Lincoln City Lines by the City of Lincoln was continued Tuesday until further agreement of the parties.

According to City Attorney Richard Wood, negotiations between the city bus firm and the City of Lincoln are underway and that the hearing was continued by joint agreement.

He said that no date has been set for hearing before the State Railway Commission on the bus company's request to terminate operation April 23 but that the City has filed an objection with the railway commission.

The City of Lincoln filed suit in Lancaster District Court seeking a temporary order which would restrain the bus firm from ceasing operation in alleged violation of its contract with the city.

John Doyle, attorney for the Lincoln City Lines, contends that the court does not have jurisdiction in the matter since the bus company is controlled by the Railway Commission and application to cease operation is pending before that body.

Judge Ronin, who had asked for briefs from both sides on the jurisdictional question, said he has received the City's brief but had not yet received any from the bus company.

Lawsuit Filed In Boating Mishap

A $50,000 suit was filed in Lancaster District Court Tuesday by Burgess Marshall in connection with an Aug. 17, 1968, accident at Pawnee Lake.

Named defendants in the action are the Lincoln Ski Club and Dan Maser who was operating a boat owned by the Ski Club at the time of the mishap.

The plaintiff alleges that he had been water skiing with his son, and after towing his son, he got out of his boat near the shore and waded into the water to pull in the tow line used to pull a water skier.

He contends that while he was winding the rope, a boat operated by Maser came within a point 40 feet from where the plaintiff was standing and drove over the water ski tow line which jerked and was out causing it to be wrapped around the hands of the plaintiff.

As a result of the mishap, Marshall contends he received "severe, painful and permanent" injuries including severe lacerations of the fingers and compound fractures of the index finger of the right hand and thumb of the left hand.

He further alleges he received contusions of the chest and that the injuries to the fingers resulted in amputation of the index finger on the one hand and surgery to the thumb.

According to the petition, the defendant was negligent in failing to maintain proper control of the boat, in travelling too close to the shore, in failing to maintain proper lookout and in failing to turn from a course in the water that caused it to strike, cross over and cut the plaintiff's tow rope.

Law Enforcement Film Library Set

A law enforcement film library is being established by the Lincoln City Libraries to strengthen in-service training of law enforcement officers throughout the state, according to Richard E. Ostrander, assistant director of LCL.

The collection of approximately 100 films will be available to all the citizens of the state as well as some 500 police and sheriffs departments for which the services has been designed.

The film library, which is being established in the hope of developing a better understanding of the relationship between law enforcement agencies and the community, is being funded by a $20,432 State Crime Commission grant.

The project has the support of the Peace Officers Association of Nebraska and the Nebraska Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association.

Order To Merge Fire Units Signed

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday signed, on order of Lancaster District Judge Bartlett Boyles, an order which merges the Southeast Rural Fire Protection District and the Bennet Fire District.

Judge Boyles, in issuing a writ of mandamus sought by the Southeast Rural Fire District, ordered that "immediately upon receipt" an order be entered merging the districts with boundaries set forth in the court order.

After some discussion between attorneys for both sides, County Atty. Paul Douglas and county commissioners prior to an advertised hearing on the matter, Douglas informed the some 35 persons present for the hearing that the commissioners were going to sign the order merging the districts in compliance with the court order to avoid possibly being in contempt of court.

Set Out In Law

On questioning by the individuals present as to why such an order was issued, why it was in the hands of the court and why the proposal, which began more than two years ago, was not placed on a ballot for a vote of the people, attorneys explained that the steps for a merger are set out by statute and the provisions must be followed until such time as the law may be changed.

They also explained that there is one more step involved in making the merger valid and that is to hold an assembly-type meeting where all people involved may come together and vote for or against the merger.

William Walker, attorney for Bennet Fire District residents who are opposed to the merger, explained that what the county commissioners were in effect doing Tuesday was saying they don't intend to appeal the action but don't intend to do anything to keep the parties from appealing the matter.

Appeal Results Told

It was further explained that if the mandamus order is appealed to the State Supreme Court and is affirmed the merger will stand, but that if the appeal results in a reversal, the matter would again be brought before the county board for ruling on the merger.

The county's previous order approving the merger was appealed on a writ of error proceedings by the Bennet district people and the court held at that time that the county's order was not void but irregular in that the order was not in proper form in failing to include the boundaries of the merged district and that no proper order had been filed with the county court.

The court then remanded the proceeding to the county board to enter an appropriate order but the county board chose to set another hearing scheduled Tuesday.

Hike In Cigarette Tax Advanced

. . . TO FINANCE STATE OFFICE BUILDING, NU FIELDHOUSE

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Leislation to finance construction of a new state office building and a new University of Nebraska fieldhouse with a five-cent hike in state cigarette taxes won resounding 41-3 first round approval Tuesday in the Unicameral.

The bill, LB87, would raise the cigarette levy to 13 cents a pack, netting the state about $6.9 million a year.

Funds would be divided evenly between the office facility and an all-purpose fieldhouse which would be constructed at the State Fairgrounds.

Approval for the proposal followed an appearance before the lawmakers by NU Athletic Director Bob Devaney.

Higher Priorities

Prior to moving the measure over its first floor hurdle, senators beat down Sen. Richard Proud's suggestions that funds from the proposed cigarette tax increase be sent to the state's general fund for use in meeting higher state priorities.

Proud's amendment, turned down on a 9-33 count, would have knocked out earmarking for the office building and the fieldhouse.

Once his proposal was rejected, lawmakers accepted the key Government and Military Affairs Committee amendment to provide fieldhouse financing on a 39-3 vote.

Proud was joined by Sens. Sam Klaver and William Skarda of Omaha in voting against the motion to send the bill on its way to enactment.

Original Form

LB87, in its original form, was sponsored by Sen. Roland Luedtke of Lincoln to hike the cigarette tax by three cents a pack to fund a new state office building.

But Luedtke readily accepted the Government Committee's proposals to amend the bill to add another two cents to the tax boost and provide funding for both projects.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who engineered the committee plan, brought Devaney to the Legislature Tuesday to explain the university's need for a new fieldhouse.

Devaney told senators that the proposed multi-purpose facility would seat between 16,000 and 18,000 spectators for basketball games.

No Cost Figures

Although no cost figures were presented, Devaney said he believes Nebraskans would "want a structure to rival that of any other in the country or at least in the Big Eight."

The cigarette tax could be "the least painful way of financing" the project, he said.

Devaney said the building could also be used by the State Fair and for city and state events, including shows and concerts.

It would provide other athletic facilities, including a swimming pool.

In the Big Eight, Devaney noted, Missouri and Iowa State have constructed vast new fieldhouses in recent months.

Kansas Fieldhouse

Kansas already has a fieldhouse seating 17,000, and Kansas State can seat more than 12,000 for basketball.

The Coliseum, constructed in the early 1920's, seats less than 9,000. It would be used in the future, Devaney said, for intramural athletics.

Heaping praise on the football coach, Carpenter said Devaney has "done more for this state" in achieving national recognition than any other Nebraskan. His request should be granted, he said.

Proud said "there are a lot of things more important in this state than building a gym. . . There are a thousand and one things we need worse than a new fieldhouse."

At one point, Proud suggested that higher priority items would include "feeding people and helping handicapped children."

Lower Taxes

But later he suggested that the increased revenue from cigarette taxes could be used either to lower local property taxes (presumably through additional state aid) or to lower sales and income levies.

"We've got to talk in terms of priorities," he said. "We've got to decide what is important and what isn't important."

Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice said he too would prefer that the money go to the state's general fund, but he also would support financing for a fieldhouse from general fund money.

That would require all taxpayers to help finance the project, rather than only cigarette smokers, he noted.

Double Standard

Carstens was disturbed by "the double standard" which some legislators apply to capital construction projects.

In 1969, he noted, he was unable to gain funding for a $650,000 gymnasium for the mentally retarded at the Beatrice State Home.

Sen. Wally Barnett of Lincoln suggested that senators atiempt to seek a relaxation of Big Eight rules banning pro football exhibition games at campus stadiums.

A pro exhibition at Memorial Stadium in Lincoln could help raise funds to finance the fieldhouse, he said.

Willing To Pay

Sen. Glenn Goodrich of Omaha said he is a smoker and "perfectly willing to pay the extra nickel" to help fund the two projects.

Earmarking is "the only practical way of getting anything done" on either facility, Sen. George Syas of Omaha said.

Senators have been attempting to finance a state office building for years without success because of their unwillingness to earmark money, he said.

Luedtke has estimated that the office structure can be financed within four years by the cigarette tax hike.

Plan Deferred To Ask Vote On Food Tax Abolishment

By United Press International

Sen. William R. Skarda deferred again Tuesday his plan to ask the Legislature to pull his bill to abolish the sales tax on food from the Revenue Committee.

The Omaha lawmaker asked that a vote on whether to take the bill from the committee be scheduled for April 14, the day after the lawmakers return from Easter vacation.

Skarda indicated he believes his chances of getting the Unicameral to approve his request would be better after the lawmakers have had a few days to "confront" their constituents.

The measure, LB567, has been stuck in the revenue unit which has split down the middle four times on motions to approve it and send it to the floor for full Unicameral consideration.

The bill was introduced by Skarda on behalf of Gov. J. J. Exon who pledged to abolish the sales tax on food during his gubernatorial campaign against former Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

Rate Hike For Legal Notices Advanced

By The Associated Press

An increase of about 50% in the rates paid newspapers for publishing legal notices was tentatively ordered by the Legislature Tuesday.

The increase, first in six years, is called for in Callaway Sen. J. James Waldron's LB401, advanced from general file on a 37-5 vote.

The bill increases from 16 to 24 cents per line the first insertion of a legal notice. For later insertions, the rate is raised from 12 to 20 cents per line.

The rates are based on use of a type size described as eight-point.

Sen. Waldron said that in the six years since a raise in rates was granted, costs have risen for publishers.

Several senators stood up to say that some community newspapers are finding times tough and should be helped as much as possible.

Rejected 12-25 was an amendment to LB401 proposed by Sen. Don Elrod of Grand Island. It would have based the rate on use of a smaller type size — six-point — which permits more words in a line, and would have set the first insertion rate at 30 cents per line. He said the 30-cent rate for a six-point line is approximately the same as a 24-cent rate for an eight point line.

Blue Chips Soar In Stock Market

New York (AP) — A spirited rally by blue-chip issues, particularly auto and oil stocks, Tuesday gave renewed momentum to a market that had been virtually static for eight sessions.

The closing Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.66 points to 912.73, close to the 29-month closing high of 916.83 reached last March 18. Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by about a 4 to 3 margin.

Big Board turnover rose to 19.99 million shares, the highest volume since last March 9. Turnover Monday was 16.04 million shares.

The market's smart gain was a marked departure from the previous eight sessions, when the biggest change in the Dow industrial average was a 2.67 point gain.

Analysts attributed the strength in auto stocks to a sharp rise in car sales last month and to Chrysler's posting of a first-quarter profit compared with a loss a year earlier.

The good showing in oil stocks, analysts said, was due to a tax agreement reached between oil companies and the Libyan government Friday.

Stimulating the market as a whole, according to analysts was investor anticipation that President Nixon would announce a speedup in troop withdrawals from Vietnam in his televised speech Wednesday night.

A reflection of the heavy institutional participation was the increase in blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the Big Board to 163 from 87 Monday. On the American Stock Exchange there were 19 blocks.

Of the 1,687 issues traded on the Big Board, 870 advanced while 583 declined. New yarly highs were reached by 162 issues and lows by 14.

Gains ran through motors, oils, rubber issues, drugs and glamour stocks. Building materials were lower. All other groups were mixed.

The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 2.3 to 318.1. Industrials were up 3.2, rails were up 1.8 and utilities were up .4. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index climbed .72 to 101.51.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks was unavailable because of computer trouble at the Big Board.

The largest Big Board block was 170,000 shares of New England Electric, which traded at 23¼. The issue closed up at 23⅜.

Prices on the Amex's most-active list included Teleprompter, off 3⅞ at 76½; ITEL Corp., up 1⅛ at 22; Den-Tal-Ez, up 1⅞ at 32¼; and Syntex, up 2 at 50½.

Both corporate and government bonds were sliahtly higher.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Reluctance Of Consumer Toward Spending Eyed

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Time Factor

An old aphorism in Wall Street is that a depression lasts until the average man wears out two pairs of pants.

Time is a factor in bringing the cautious consumer back as an enthusiastic buyer.

Up to recently, the average customer has been wary. Reluctance to buy unnecessarily was reflected in the increasing ratio of spendable income stored up in savings accounts.

Thus the anti-inflation campaign of the Nixon administration and the Federal Reserve System was a half success. It put a damper on the demand-pull aspect of a rising cost of living, ending the era of excited and frenzied buying. Meanwhile, however, the cost-push phase of inflation, spurred by higher wage contracts than justified by productivity rises, continues, and the cost of living continues to go up, though at a reduced tempo.

Consumer Confidence

With the earlier shattering of consumer confidence by stiff money and austere fiscal governmental policies, it has been a matter of time for putting Humpty Dumpty together again. As Bill Townsend, the eminent economic statistician, succinctly expressed it: "The automotive engineers can specify the horse power of the engine, but nobody can be sure how much the driver will depress the gas pedal at any given moment."

Thus, with stock prices having discounted a business recovery, there has recently been a tendency to wait for statistics of trade to catch up. The missing spark had been the reluctance of the consumer, although in housing starts and in automobile buying hehas come back into the market. The government statistics traditionally suffer from a time lag, and do not yet reflect the somewhat greater eagerness to buy recently reported by merchants.

In addition to the time factor, the continuance of inflation, though at a lesser pace, may be breaking down the determination to wait for better bargains. Prior to the easement of government policy, President Nixon had told the public not to count on a continuation of inflation. But now the climate may be different with the planned deficit of the "full employment budget".

Estimate of Future

In addition to greater savings and pent up demand, consumers will base their behavior on their estimate of the shape of things to come. If they believe the worst of the recession is over, they will loosen their pursestrings. The fact that new factory orders in February rose for the fourth successive month is indicative of recovery.

With a natural bias by politicians for recovery, Congress has given stimulus through passing an increase of 10% in Social Security benefits retroactive to Jan. 1, without provision for an increase in payroll taxes to pay for the increment. This will add $3.5 billion this year to disposable income.

The adjustment upwards of the payroll tax expected next year will make the Social Security burden as great as the income tax for the worker with a wife and two children and a median income of $9,511. The size of this ungraduated tax raises the question whether such a family head would not be better off if he could satisfy his Social Security requirements by flexibility in electing a mutual fund or some other outlet approved by the federal government, such as the methods okayed by the Internal Revenue Service under the Keogh self pensioning law. Social security benefits are not inflation hedged, but depend on Congress upping the allowances after the cost of living skyrockets.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes, should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

The "Sunday Journal and Star" delivered at your door has six sections of interesting, timely features. You'll like the sports section known as "Sports Red." whether you are a Husker fan, or not.

Blue Chips Soar In Stock Market

New York (AP) — A spirited rally by blue-chip issues, particularly auto and oil stocks, Tuesday gave renewed momentum to a market that had been virtually static for eight sessions.

The closing Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 7.66 points to 912.73, close to the 20-month closing high of 916.83 reached last March 18. Advances led declines on the New York Stock Exchange by about a 4 to 3 margin.

Big Board turnover rose to 19.99 million shares, the highest volume since last March 9. Turnover Monday was 16.04 million shares.

The market's smart gain was a marked departure from the previous eight sessions, when the biggest change in the Dow industrial average was a 2.67 point gain.

Analysts attributed the strength in auto stocks to a sharp rise in car sales last month and to Chrysler's posting of a first-quarter profit compared with a loss a year earlier.

The good showing in oil stocks, analysts said, was due to a tax agreement reached between oil companies and the Libyan government Friday.

Stimulating the market as a whole, according to analysts was investor anticipation that President Nixon would announce a speedup in troop withdrawals from Vietnam in his televised speech Wednesday night.

A reflection of the heavy institutional participation was the increase in blocks of 10,000 shares or more traded on the Big Board to 163 from 87 Monday. On the American Stock Exchange there were 19 blocks.

Of the 1,687 issues traded on the Big Board, 810 advanced while 581 declined. New yarly highs were reached by 162 issues and lows by 14.

Gains ran through motors, oils, rubber issues, drugs and glamour stocks. Building materials were lower. All other groups were mixed.

The Associated Press 60-stock average rose 2.3 to 318.1. Industrials were up 3.2, rails were up 1.8 and utilities were up .4. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index climbed .72 to 101.51.

The New York Stock Exchange Index of some 1,200 common stocks was unavailable because of computer trouble at the Big Board.

The most-active Big Board issue was Fannie Mae, up 2¾ at 72¼ on a volume of 277,200 shares.

The largest Big Board block was 110,000 shares of New England Electric, which traded at 23¼. The issue closed up at 23⅜.

Prices on the Amex's most-active list included Teleprompter, off 3⅞ at 76½; ITEL Corp., up 1⅛ at 22; Den-Tal-Ez, up 1⅞ at 32¼; and Syntex, up 2 at 50½.

Both corporate and government bonds were slightly higher.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Reluctance Of Consumer Toward Spending Eyed

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Time Factor

An old aphorism in Wall Street is that a depression lasts until the average man wears out two pairs of pants.

Time is a factor in bringing the cautious consumer back as an enthusiastic buyer.

Up to recently, the average customer has been wary. Reluctance to buy unnecessarily was reflected in the increasing ratio of spendable income stored up in savings accounts.

Thus the anti-inflation campaign of the Nixon administration and the Federal Reserve System was a half success. It put a damper on the demand-pull aspect of a rising cost of living, ending the era of excited and frenzied buying. Meanwhile, however, the cost-push phase of inflation, spurred by higher wage contracts than justified by productivity rises, continues, and the cost of living continues to go up, though at a reduced tempo.

Consumer Confidence

With the earlier shattering of consumer confidence by stiff money and austere fiscal governmental policies, it has been a matter of time for putting Humpty Dumpty together again. As Bill Townsend, the eminent economic statistician, succinctly expressed it: "The automotive engineers can specify the horse power of the engine, but nobody can be sure how much the driver will depress the gas pedal at any given moment."

Thus, with stock prices having discounted a business recovery, there has recently been a tendency to wait for statistics of trade to catch up. The missing spark had been the reluctance of the consumer, although in housing starts and in automobile buying hehas come back into the market. The government statistics traditionally suffer from a time lag, and do not yet reflect the somewhat greater eagerness to buy recently reported by merchants.

In addition to the time factor, the continuance of inflation, though at a lesser pace, may be breaking down the determination to wait for better bargains. Prior to the easement of government policy, President Nixon had told the public not to count on a continuation of inflation. But now the climate may be different with the planned deficit of the "full employment budget".

Estimate of Future

In addition to greater savings and pent up demand, consumers will base their behavior on their estimate of the shape of things to come. If they believe the worst of the recession is over, they will loosen their pursestrings. The fact that new factory orders in February rose for the fourth successive month is indicative of recovery.

With a natural bias by politicians for recovery, Congress has given stimulus through passing an increase of 10% in Social Security benefits retroactive to Jan. 1, without provision for an increase in payroll taxes to pay for the increment. This will add $3.5 billion this year to disposable income.

The adjustment upwards of the payroll tax expected next year will make the Social Security burden as great as the income tax for the worker with a wife and two children and a median income of $9,511. The size of this ungraduated tax raises the question whether such a family head would not be better off if he could satisfy his Social Security requirements by flexibility in electing a mutual fund or some other outlet approved by the federal government, such as the methods okayed by the Internal Revenue Service under the Keogh self pensioning law. Social security benefits are not inflation hedged, but depend on Congress upping the allowances after the cost of living skyrockets.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes, should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

VICTORY CLOSER FOR AD DEVANEY

. . . Fieldhouse Measure Passes First Unicameral Test

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Bob Devaney, who has won 79 victories as Nebraska football coach, moved closer to his most important victory as Nebraska athletic director Tuesday.

Devaney, making a personal appearance before the Nebraska Unicameral Tuesday morning, addressed the group, then stood at the back of the room as the lawmakers gave first round approval to a bill that would give the NU Athletic Department a new multi-purpose fieldhouse.

And the point spread was much wider than it's been in most of Devaney's football-coaching victories with the only nay votes on the scoreboard that read 41-3 coming from the Omaha trio of Sens. Proud, Klaver and Skarda.

The bill, Lincoln Sen. Roland Luedtke's LB87, would increase the state cigarette tax by five cents with half the increase going into the fund for a new fieldhouse and the other half earmarked for a new state office building.

Sen. Luedtke's original bill called for a three-cent hike in the cigarette tax, earmarking it solely for the state office building, but an amendment authored by the Sen. Terry Carpenter-chaired Government and Military Affairs Committee last week brought the fieldhouse into the picture.

It was this amendment that drew the most fire Tuesday as the fieldhouse idea made its first appearance on the floor of the Legislature, and the fire came primarily from two senators, Carstens of Beatrice and Proud.

After Devaney addressed the Legislature at the request of Sen. Carpenter, Sen. Proud argued that there were more important projects in Nebraska that needed funding "other than a gymnasium."

And Sen. Carstens pointed out that he hadn't been able to get a $650,000 appropriation through the Legislature for a new gymnasium at the Beatrice State Home in the last session of the Legislature.

Both advocated putting the revenue generated from the cigarette tax hike into the general fund rather than earmarking it for a new NU fieldhouse.

Sen. Proud's amendment to that effect was soundly turned down by a vote of 33-9 and the committee-sponsored amendment to earmark equal amounts of the five cent hike for the fieldhouse and the state office building was then passed by 39-3.

The bill then passed its first round test by the overwhelming 41-3 margin.

Devaney told the Legislature, "Our indoor athletic facilities are tremendously inadequate. Our swimming pool is so bad that when we bring recruits in, we tell them the pool is being painted. We don't even take them to show it to them."

He said the proposed new facility to be located at the State Fairgrounds would seat 16,000 to 18,000 for basketball, would include a weight room, swimming pool, handball courts and office space.

"It would also be a building that could be put to good use by the State Fair and by the city," he added. "And the old Coliseum wouldn't be wasted because it could then be turned over to intramural activities."

He pointed out that Missouri is now completing a new multi-purpose arena, Iowa State has completed one, Oklahoma State has one, Colorado is planning one and Kansas and Kansas State already have good facilities.

"I think that with the pride this state has in our athletic program," Devaney said, "That the people would want a facility that might compare with the best in the nation, but at least with the best in our own Big Eight Conference."

Sen. Carpenter, a prime force behind the new fieldhouse idea, allowed, "Coach Devaney has brought more attention to this state, nationally, than anyone.

"And giving him this would be paying him back in only a small part for what he's done for the state."

Sen. Proud was quick to admit defeat.

Having asked to hear each of the seven committee-backed amendments individually, Sen. Proud was asked by Sen. Carpenter after the second amendment had passed — the fieldhouse earmarking one — if the rest could be acted upon as a group.

"Yes," the Omahan replied, "I recognize a winner."

Basketball Nearing End?

Mixing some baseball with some basketball since the latter sport is about to end (in a couple of months if they hurry) and the former is now trying with the courts (legal-type) for space in the already crowded sport sections:

South Carolina basketball coach Frank McGuire says his family was so poor when he was a kid that when his mother tossed a bone out to their dog, the pooch signaled for a fair catch.

The Big Eight baseball champion the past five years has also been the team with the lowest earned run average in the league from its pitching corps — Iowa State last season and Oklahoma State each of the four preceding years.

Joe Pepitone was explaining to a friend he'd jumped the New York Yankees in 1969 because they were "going nowhere." He added, "I had no desire."

The friend asked, "You were depressed?" "No," responded Joe, "the press was good to me."

Eight of Creighton's 11 basketball losses in a 14-11 season were to teams that participated in either the NCAA or NIT post-season tournaments — North Carolina, Jacksonville, Houston, Duquesne, Notre Dame, Providence, St. Bonaventure and Marquette.

Lefty Gomez, the former Yankee pitching great, says, "When I first signed, the regulars wouldn't talk to you until you were with the team three or four years. Nowadays the rookies get $100,000 to sign and they don't talk to the regulars."

Cincinnati Reds superstar Pete Rose claims teammate Wayne Granger, at 6-2 and 170 pounds, is so skinny "the only college where he could have won a letter would have been Indiana."

Way To Cut Expenses

Kansas basketball coach Ted Owens has a couple of suggestions he thinks would help cut expenses in his sport and might help schools in financial trouble athletically more closely balance their budgets.

Owens suggests two things — 1. permit freshmen to play varsity basketball as they now do in all sports except football and basketball, and 2. permit tryouts again, something that was once allowed by the NCAA.

"If freshmen were eligible, it would cut down on the number of people we'd have to have on scholarship," Owens points out. "It's true there is a transitional period in academic work between high school and college, but I don't think this is a big problem as far as basketball is concerned. This season, for instance, our players won't have missed more than four days of school."

And regarding the tryouts, Owens claims, "It would do the marginal athlete a service as well as our own program. Many times we would save scholarship money in that we probably wouldn't guess wrong on someone. Until you've seen a player compete against another prospect who you feel has the potential to play for you — or against your own players — you really don't know if he can play for you or not."

Owens points out that schools now present young prospects with four-year scholarships at a total cost ranging as high as $10,000. "No businessman would make that kind of investment in the manner we have to," Owens explains. "It would benefit the athlete greatly too. He could compete with other fellows with whom you are interested and find out how he stacks up with them. He'll know himself and that it's just not a matter of our judgement."

Pitchers Dominate Action In Majors

By Associated Press

Scattered hits, chattering teeth and one long ball were the highlights Tuesday as major league baseball swung into high gear with the pitchers dominating most of the action.

Ray Culp tossed a five-hitter as Boston whipped the New York Yankees, 3-1; Tom Seaver checked Montreal on four singles as New York Mets won a rain-shortened contest, 4-2 and Billy Williams' 10th-inning home run broke up a pitching duel between Chicago's Ferguson Jenkins and Bob Gibson of St. Louis to give the Cubs a 2-1 triumph.

In the day's other contests — all season openers — the Detroit Tigers crushed Cleveland, 8-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates upended Philadelphia, 4-2 and the Milwaukee Brewers stunned Minnesota, 7-2.

Culp allowed just one baserunner — Thurman Munson on an infield single — until the eighth inning. Then, with the Red Sox already leading 2-0, the Yanks loaded the bases and appeared on the verge of tying the game as Horace Clarke rifled a single to right to score Danny Cater.

But Reggie Smith's perfect throw to the plate nailed Jim Lyttle, trying to score from second, to keep Boston ahead. Smith and Carl Yastrzemski doubled for Boston's first run in the fourth, singles by George Scott and Duane Josephson and Culp's grounder made it 2-0 in the seventh and the Sox added a run in the eighth on Scott's sacrifice fly.

The Mets' game was delayed nearly an hour, then halted with New York batting in the bottom of the fifth. And it was played in a steady downpour, high winds and, like the Boston game, 40-degree temperature.

Donn Clendenon nicked Montreal starter Carl Morton for a run-scoring single in the first inning, the Mets added a pair of unearned runs in the second and Bob Aspromonte singled home a fourth run in the fourth. Ron Fairly knocked in both Montreal runs with a third-inning single.

Williams' one-out blast was only the seventh hit allowed by Gibson while Jenkins smothered the Cardinals on just three. Ron Santo's single and Johnny Callison's double put the Cubs ahead in the fourth and St. Louis tied it in the seventh on Joe Torre's homer.

Detroit erupted for two runs in the second and two more in the third, then pounced on Cleveland's rookie reliever Chuck Machemehl for three in the fourth, two on Jim Northrup's triple. Mickey Lolich went the distance for the Tigers, limiting the Indians to six safeties.

Dock Ellis twirled an eight-hitter for Pittsburgh, which took advantage of four Philadelphia errors, and Milwaukee's Andy Kosco knocked in four runs against his former Twins teammates with a homer, double and sacrifice fly while Marty Pattin spaced nine hits to notch the victory on his 28th birthday.

Claude Osteen fired a four-hitter and rookie Bill Buckner's first major league home run accounted for all the scoring as the Los Angeles Dodgers shut out the Houston Astros, 2-0 in a night game.

Dick Drago scattered six hits Tuesday night and Cookie Rojas drove in two runs as the Kansas City Royals defeated California, 4-1, before 24,434, second largest opening game gathering in Angel history.

Juan Marichal pitched a five hitter and Willie Mays hit the 629th homer of his career as the San Francisco Giants opened their National League season with a 4-0 victory over San Diego on the West Coast.

UPSY-DAISY . . . The Red Sox' Duane Josephson upsets the Yankees' Jerry Kenney after being forced out.

Knights Invade Dallas Looking For Adams Cup

Dallas — The Omaha Knights and Dallas Blackhawks meet here tonight at the State Fair Coliseum in the second game of the Central Hockey League finals for the Adams Cup.

Coach Fred Shero's Omahans toppled the Blackhawks, 3-1 last Saturday night at Ak-Sar-Ben on the strength of third period goals by Mike Murphy and Mike Parizeau to win their fifth straight playoff game. The Knights downed Oklahoma City in four consecutive matches after dropping the first tilt in their semifinal series.

Shero is counting on the long layoff since Saturday's game to help his troops recuperate from their tiring series with Oklahoma City that had the Knights playing five games in seven days.

The Knights meet the Blackhawks here Saturday night and then the series returns to Ak-Sar-Ben for the fourth game next Wednesday night and, if needed, the fifth game next Friday night.

—HOMER BARRAGE, LATE POKE DECISIVE—

'Jays Blow Hot To Cold, But Top NWU Twice

Ralston — Creighton University came on like an Atlas and went out like a 98-pound weakling Tuesday, but either way didn't make much difference as the Bluejays swept a twin bill from Nebraska Wesleyan University, 15-0 and 5-4.

In taking its ninth straight win after five early losses, the 'Jays started out like blockbusters while pounding six home runs in the first contest. Rick Schicker led the barrage on NWU's beleaguered pitching staff with two circuit blasts and three RBI. Catcher Jim Timmons and thirdsacker Dan Collins also knocked in three runs with homers as Creighton paraded home 11 runs in the second.

The game was called after five innings because of the ten-run rule. Gerald Johnette picked up his first win of the year by limiting Wesleyan to only three singles.

Somewhere along the line Creighton used up most of its potency. The 'Jays could manage only four hits, three singles and one double, against the Plainsmen's Steve McElvey in the nightcap.

It took a sixth inning, two-run single by Jim Otto to save CU in the second game after Wesleyan had led from the second inning.

Lyle Hiatt singled in two runs in the first frame for a 2-0 Wesleyan lead. Creighton bounced back with three in the bottom half of the inning, but the losers picked up two more in the second on a single by Gene Boeka and Otto's throwing error.

Reliefer Tom Garvey kept Creighton close by shutting out NWU for three frames until Otto poked his winning rap in the sixth.

Wesleyan returns home Friday for its league opener, a doubleheader against Doane at Sherman Field, while holding a 1-3 record.

Williams Quitting KU Cage Team

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Mark Williams, guard on the University of Kansas basketball team, informed coach Ted Owens Tuesday that he was withdrawing from school. He is a sophomore.

"Mark called me from his home in Denver," Owens said, "and told me he does not intend to return to school. He said it was just a personal matter and he did not care to elaborate."

Kansas won the Big Eight championship and advanced to the semifinals of the NCAA championships before losing to top-ranked UCLA.

Newcomer Back For NWU Track

Nebraska Wesleyan's premier miler, freshman Lee Newcomer, is now working out according to coach Woody Greeno.

Newcomer has been out of action since the Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic Conference's indoor meet on March 13 with a partially slipped disc in his back.

Greeno said Newcomer will have to wear a special harness for awhile but he expects Newcomer to participate in the Midland Relays next Wednesday night.

16 Named To Fonner Memorial

Grand Island — The $5,000-added Gus Fonner Memorial Handicap, to be decided Saturday at 6 furlongs, is certain to be the finest sprint race ever presented at Fonner Park.

This will be the first running of the 11-year-old feature as a stake.

The newly inaugurated stake drew 16 nominations of the finest sprinters in this area. Listed among these are William Wiggins' Power Judge, Paul M. Kemling's Bold Accent, Boyne Ferguson's Pago Moon, Sam Britt's Princess Khal, Donald F. Clugston's and Rex E. Ekwall's Miss Spy Song, Robert Francisco's Interest Me, and Max Freed's Spanish Key.

Fonner Park president Frank Gallup said, "I think the excellent list of nominees to the Gus Fonner Memorial points out the fine quality of horses we have racing in Grand Island this spring.

"We have to have the best horses we have ever had race at Fonner Park. With the Gus Fonner Memorial, the Fonner Mile, the Nebraska Derby and the Expectation Stakes yet to come, we are just getting to the heart of our racing season."

Bold Accent is one of the most popular performers ever to race in this area. The homebred daughter of Bold Lark has won 22 races in her career and $110,060. Her latest two triumphs came in the Jake Grasmick Memorial and the Fonner Speed Handicaps in her only two appearances this year.

Spanish Key equaled the 6 furlong track record of 1:11 2-5 last Saturday to make herself a strong contender in the Gus Fonner Memorial. The bay mare was in front all the way to defeat Melmitch, Interest Me and Princess Khal by two and three quarters lengths.

Power Judge and Tropical Judge are the only two nominees that are not on the grounds. They both have been racing at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs, Ark. Power Judge won his last start to give him three wins for the year and earnings of $16,500.

The nominees:

VICTORY CLOSER FOR AD DEVANEY

. . . Fieldhouse Measure Passes First Unicameral Test

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Bob Devaney, who has won 79 victories as Nebraska football coach, moved closer to his most important victory as Nebraska athletic director Tuesday.

Devaney, making a personal appearance before the Nebraska Unicameral Tuesday morning, addressed the group, then stood at the back of the room as the lawmakers gave first round approval to a bill that would give the NU Athletic Department a new multi-purpose fieldhouse.

And the point spread was much wider than it's been in most of Devaney's football-coaching victories with the only nay votes on the scoreboard that read 41-3 coming from the Omaha trio of Sens. Proud, Klaver and Skarda.

The bill, Lincoln Sen. Roland Luedtke's LB87, would increase the state cigarette tax by five cents with half the increase going into the fund for a new fieldhouse and the other half earmarked for a new state office building.

Sen. Luedtke's original bill called for a three-cent hike in the cigarette tax, earmarking it solely for the state office building, but an amendment authored by the Sen. Terry Carpenter-chaired Government and Military Affairs Committee last week brought the fieldhouse into the picture.

It was this amendment that drew the most fire Tuesday as the fieldhouse idea made its first appearance on the floor of the Legislature, and the fire came primarily from two senators, Carstens of Beatrice and Proud.

After Devaney addressed the Legislature at the request of Sen. Carpenter, Sen. Proud argued that there were more important projects in Nebraska that needed funding "other than a gymnasium."

And Sen. Carstens pointed out that he hadn't been able to get a $650,000 appropriation through the Legislature for a new gymnasium at the Beatrice State Home in the last session of the Legislature.

Both advocated putting the revenue generated from the cigarette tax hike into the general fund rather than earmarking it for a new NU fieldhouse.

Sen. Proud's amendment to that effect was soundly turned down by a vote of 33-9 and the committee-sponsored amendment to earmark equal amounts of the five cent hike for the fieldhouse and the state office building was then passed by 39-3.

The bill then passed its first round test by the overwhelming 41-3 margin.

Devaney told the Legislature, "Our indoor athletic facilities are tremendously inadequate. Our swimming pool is so bad that when we bring recruits in, we tell them the pool is being painted. We don't even take them to show it to them."

He said the proposed new facility to be located at the State Fairgrounds would seat 16,000 to 18,000 for basketball, would include a weight room, swimming pool, handball courts and office space.

"It would also be a building that could be put to good use by the State Fair and by the city," he added. "And the old Coliseum wouldn't be wasted because it could then be turned over to intramural activities."

He pointed out that Missouri is now completing a new multi-purpose arena, Iowa State has completed one, Oklahoma State has one, Colorado is planning one and Kansas and Kansas State already have good facilities.

"I think that with the pride this state has in our athletic program," Devaney said, "That the people would want a facility that might compare with the best in the nation, but at least with the best in our own Big Eight Conference."

Sen. Carpenter, a prime force behind the new fieldhouse idea, allowed, "Coach Devaney has brought more attention to this state, nationally, than anyone.

"And giving him this would be paying him back in only a small part for what he's done for the state."

Sen. Proud was quick to admit defeat.

Having asked to hear each of the seven committee-backed amendments individually, Sen. Proud was asked by Sen. Carpenter after the second amendment had passed — the fieldhouse earmarking one — if the rest could be acted upon as a group.

"Yes," the Omahan replied, "I recognize a winner."

Basketball Nearing End?

Mixing some baseball with some basketball since the latter sport is about to end (in a couple of months if they hurry) and the former is now trying with the courts (legal-type) for space in the already crowded sport sections:

South Carolina basketball coach Frank McGuire says his family was so poor when he was a kid that when his mother tossed a bone out to their dog, the pooch signaled for a fair catch.

The Big Eight baseball champion the past five years has also been the team with the lowest earned run average in the league from its pitching corps — Iowa State last season and Oklahoma State each of the four preceding years.

Joe Pepitone was explaining to a friend he'd jumped the New York Yankees in 1969 because they were "going nowhere." He added, "I had no desire."

The friend asked, "You were depressed?" "No," responded Joe, "the press was good to me."

Eight of Creighton's 11 basketball losses in a 14-11 season were to teams that participated in either the NCAA or NIT post-season tournaments — North Carolina, Jacksonville, Houston, Duquesne, Notre Dame, Providence, St. Bonaventure and Marquette.

Lefty Gomez, the former Yankee pitching great, says, "When I first signed, the regulars wouldn't talk to you until you were with the team three or four years. Nowadays the rookies get $100,000 to sign and they don't talk to the regulars."

Cincinnati Reds superstar Pete Rose claims teammate Wayne Granger, at 6-2 and 170 pounds, is so skinny "the only college where he could have won a letter would have been Indiana."

Way To Cut Expenses

Kansas basketball coach Ted Owens has a couple of suggestions he thinks would help cut expenses in his sport and might help schools in financial trouble athletically more closely balance their budgets.

Owens suggests two things — 1. permit freshmen to play varsity basketball as they now do in all sports except football and basketball, and 2. permit tryouts again, something that was once allowed by the NCAA.

"If freshmen were eligible, it would cut down on the number of people we'd have to have on scholarship," Owens points out. "It's true there is a transitional period in academic work between high school and college, but I don't think this is a big problem as far as basketball is concerned. This season, for instance, our players won't have missed more than four days of school."

And regarding the tryouts, Owens claims, "It would do the marginal athlete a service as well as our own program. Many times we would save scholarship money in that we probably wouldn't guess wrong on someone. Until you've seen a player compete against another prospect who you feel has the potential to play for you — or against your own players — you really don't know if he can play for you or not."

Owens points out that schools now present young prospects with four-year scholarships at a total cost ranging as high as $10,000. "No businessman would make that kind of investment in the manner we have to," Owens explains. "It would benefit the athlete greatly too. He could compete with other fellows with whom you are interested and find out how he stacks up with them. He'll know himself and that it's just not a matter of our judgement."

Pitchers Dominate Action In Majors

By Associated Press

Scattered hits, chattering teeth and one long ball were the highlights Tuesday as major league baseball swung into high gear with the pitchers dominating most of the action.

Ray Culp tossed a five-hitter as Boston whipped the New York Yankees, 3-1; Tom Seaver checked Montreal on four singles as New York Mets won a rain-shortened contest, 4-2 and Billy Williams' 10th-inning home run broke up a pitching duel between Chicago's Ferguson Jenkins and Bob Gibson of St. Louis to give the Cubs a 2-1 triumph.

In the day's other contests — all season openers — the Detroit Tigers crushed Cleveland, 8-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates upended Philadelphia, 4-2 and the Milwaukee Brewers stunned Minnesota, 7-2.

Culp allowed just one baserunner — Thurman Munson on an infield single — until the eighth inning. Then, with the Red Sox already leading 2-0, the Yanks loaded the bases and appeared on the verge of tying the game as Horace Clarke rifled a single to right to score Danny Cater.

But Reggie Smith's perfect throw to the plate nailed Jim Lyttle, trying to score from second, to keep Boston ahead. Smith and Carl Yastrzemski doubled for Boston's first run in the fourth, singles by George Scott and Duane Josephson and Culp's grounder made it 2-0 in the seventh and the Sox added a run in the eighth on Scott's sacrifice fly.

The Mets' game was delayed nearly an hour, then halted with New York batting in the bottom of the fifth. And it was played in a steady downpour, high winds and, like the Boston game, 40-degree temperature.

Donn Clendenon nicked Montreal starter Carl Morton for a run-scoring single in the first inning, the Mets added a pair of unearned runs in the second and Bob Aspromonte singled home a fourth run in the fourth. Ron Fairly knocked in both Montreal runs with a third-inning single.

Williams' one-out blast was only the seventh hit allowed by Gibson while Jenkins smothered the Cardinals on just three. Ron Santo's single and Johnny Callison's double put the Cubs ahead in the fourth and St. Louis tied it in the seventh on Joe Torre's homer.

Detroit erupted for two runs in the second and two more in the third, then pounced on Cleveland's rookie reliever Chuck Machemehl for three in the fourth, two on Jim Northrup's triple. Mickey Lolich went the distance for the Tigers, limiting the Indians to six safeties.

Dock Ellis twirled an eight-hitter for Pittsburgh, which took advantage of four Philadelphia errors, and Milwaukee's Andy Kosco knocked in four runs against his former Twins teammates with a homer, double and sacrifice fly while Marty Pattin spaced nine hits to notch the victory on his 28th birthday.

Claude Osteen fired a four-hitter and rookie Bill Buckner's first major league home run accounted for all the scoring as the Los Angeles Dodgers shut out the Houston Astros, 2-0 in a night game.

Dick Drago scattered six hits Tuesday night and Cookie Rojas drove in two runs as the Kansas City Royals defeated California, 4-1, before 24,434, second largest opening game gathering in Angel history.

Juan Marichal pitched a five hitter and Willie Mays hit the 629th homer of his career as the San Francisco Giants opened their National League season with a 4-0 victory over San Diego on the West Coast.

—HOMER BARRAGE, LATE POKE DECISIVE—

'Jays Blow Hot To Cold, But Top NWU Twice

Ralston — Creighton University came on like an Atlas and went out like a 98-pound weakling Tuesday, but either way didn't make much difference as the Bluejays swept a twin bill from Nebraska Wesleyan University, 15-0 and 5-4.

In taking its ninth straight win after five early losses, the 'Jays started out like blockbusters while pounding six home runs in the first contest. Rick Schicker led the barrage on NWU's beleaguered pitching staff with two circuit blasts and three RBI. Catcher Jim Timmons and thirdsacker Dan Collins also knocked in three runs with homers as Creighton paraded home 11 runs in the second.

The game was called after five innings because of the ten-run rule. Gerald Johnette picked up his first win of the year by limiting Wesleyan to only three singles.

Somewhere along the line Creighton used up most of its potency. The 'Jays could manage only four hits, three singles and one double, against the Plainsmen's Steve McElvey in the nightcap.

It took a sixth inning, two-run single by Jim Otto to save CU in the second game after Wesleyan had led from the second inning.

Lyle Hiatt singled in two runs in the first frame for a 2-0 Wesleyan lead. Creighton bounced back with three in the bottom half of the inning, but the losers picked up two more in the second on a single by Gene Boeka and Otto's throwing error.

Reliefer Tom Garvey kept Creighton close by shutting out NWU for three frames until Otto poked his winning rap in the sixth.

Wesleyan returns home Friday for its league opener, a doubleheader against Doane at Sherman Field, while holding a 1-3 record.

Williams Quitting KU Cage Team

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Mark Williams, guard on the University of Kansas basketball team, informed coach Ted Owens Tuesday that he was withdrawing from school. He is a sophomore.

"Mark called me from his home in Denver," Owens said, "and told me he does not intend to return to school. He said it was just a personal matter and he did not care to elaborate."

Kansas won the Big Eight championship and advanced to the semifinals of the NCAA championships before losing to top-ranked UCLA.

Caster Gets Award

Dick Caster, a Nebraska Wesleyan University senior from Lincoln, has been chosen to appear in the 1971 edition of 'Outstanding College Athletes of America.'

Newcomer Back For NWU Track

Nebraska Wesleyan's premier miler, freshman Lee Newcomer, is now working out according to coach Woody Greeno.

Newcomer has been out of action since the Nebraska Intercollegiate Athletic Conference's indoor meet on March 13 with a partially slipped disc in his back.

Greeno said Newcomer will have to wear a special harness for awhile but he expects Newcomer to participate in the Midland Relays next Wednesday night.

Knights Invade Dallas Looking For Adams Cup

Dallas — The Omaha Knights and Dallas Blackhawks meet here tonight at the State Fair Coliseum in the second game of the Central Hockey League finals for the Adams Cup.

Coach Fred Shero's Omahans toppled the Blackhawks, 3-1 last Saturday night at Ak-Sar-Ben on the strength of third period goals by Mike Murphy and Mike Parizeau to win their fifth straight playoff game. The Knights downed Oklahoma City in four consecutive matches after dropping the first tilt in their semifinal series.

Shero is counting on the long layoff since Saturday's game to help his troops recuperate from their tiring series with Oklahoma City that had the Knights playing five games in seven days.

The Knights meet the Blackhawks here Saturday night and then the series returns to Ak-Sar-Ben for the fourth game next Wednesday night and, if needed, the fifth game next Friday night.

16 Named To Fonner Memorial

Grand Island — The $5,000-added Gus Fonner Memorial Handicap, to be decided Saturday at 6 furlongs, is certain to be the finest sprint race ever presented at Fonner Park.

This will be the first running of the 11-year-old feature as a stake.

The newly inaugurated stake drew 16 nominations of the finest sprinters in this area. Listed among these are William Wiggins' Power Judge, Paul M. Kemling's Bold Accent, Boyne Ferguson's Pago Moon, Sam Britt's Princess Khal, Donald F. Clugston's and Rex E. Ekwall's Miss Spy Song, Robert Francisco's Interest Me, and Max Freed's Spanish Key.

Fonner Park president Frank Gallup said, "I think the excellent list of nominees to the Gus Fonner Memorial points out the fine quality of horses we have racing in Grand Island this spring.

"We have to have the best horses we have ever had race at Fonner Park. With the Gus Fonner Memorial, the Fonner Mile, the Nebraska Derby and the Expectation Stakes yet to come, we are just getting to the heart of our racing season."

Bold Accent is one of the most popular performers ever to race in this area. The homebred daughter of Bold Lark has won 22 races in her career and $110,060. Her latest two triumphs came in the Jake Grasmick Memorial and the Fonner Speed Handicaps in her only two appearances this year.

Spanish Key equaled the 6 furlong track record of 1:11 2-5 last Saturday to make herself a strong contender in the Gus Fonner Memorial. The bay mare was in front all the way to defeat Melmitch, Interest Me and Princess Khal by two and three quarters lengths.

Power Judge and Tropical Judge are the only two nominees that are not on the grounds. They both have been racing at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs, Ark. Power Judge won his last start to give him three wins for the year and earnings of $16,500.

The nominees:

NU, Minnesota Tangle In Dual Track Meet

. . . MAGEE STADIUM WILL BE SCENE OF MEETING

Nebraska and Minnesota hook up in a dual track meet Saturday, but the scene will be a new one for the Cornhusker track team.

The Big Eight and Big Ten rivals will meet at Nebraska Wesleyan's Magee Stadium, the Huskers' temporary home quarters until the new track is installed on the NU campus.

Field events will start at 1:30 p.m., with the track events going at 2 p.m.

NU coach Frank Sevigne, disappointed because the Huskers failed to grab off a baton title at the Texas Relays, expects some hot races this week. "We were on our way to winning the mile relay," Sevigne said. "But Wes Leonard somehow stumbled and fell at the half-mile exchange and we dropped from the first to fourth."

Sevigne tabs the mile run as a "feature event" Saturday at Magee Stadium.

Another great race could come in the 880 where Huskers Jim Hawkins, Jeff Wisemiller and Dan Speck will challenge Gopher Jerry Thomas a 1:51 half-miler.

Garry Bjorklund of Minnesota is one of the premier three-milers in the nation and he'll be going against Husker frosh star Bob Unger.

And the Gophers will also bring a seven-foot high jumper inn Tim Heikkila.

"This should be a good track meet," Sevigne said. "We were fortunate to win last year at Minneapolis (97-77) and it will take a great effort to duplicate that feat on a neutral track. Minnesota has some real track stars and so do we so it should be an interesting afternoon."

Hershberger Early Entrant At Cozad

Cozad (UPI) — A master's 880 yard dash will be spotlighted during the 1971 Midstates Federation Track and Field Championships at Cozad May 29.

Eligibility for the two-lap feature has been restricted by performers age 35 and over.

Jim Hershberger, Wichita, Kan., oil millionaire, is among the early entrants for the special agent. He faces other competition from Kansas, Colorado, and South Dakota. To date no Nebraskan has enrolled.

The 38-year-old Hershberger has established fourteen national Master's track records within the past year. Among his accomplishments is a 4:29 mile.

Normally the Cozad meet has been staged on Memorial Day. General chairman Dean Dorsey said that the program was advanced to provide more ideal travel arrangements for outstate athletes. The United States Track and Field Federation has issued a sanction which clears eligibility for thinclads from Colorado, South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Wyoming, Iowa and Nebraska.

The day-long, three-session card will highlight five divisions of competition. Intermediate sections have been outlined for boys and girls who are 12-15 years of age. Junior divisions are set for girls (16 and over) and boys (age 16-18). Athletes 17 and over will compete in the collegiate grouping.

Outstanding athletes will be honored in all divisions and team champions will be recognized.

Formation of conference or area athletic clubs is being promoted by meet officials. Under the USTFF sanction, athletes from all regions are permitted to combine their talents on a team or relay basis.

East Baseballers Defeat SE By 4-1

Doug McLeese threw a three-hitter and teammate Bob Blake collected four hits as Lincoln East downed Lincoln Southeast, 4-1, Tuesday afternoon at Sherman Field in a Trans Nebraska Conference baseball game.

Blake had two doubles, one triple, one single and stole home in pacing the Spartans at the plate. However Chuck Arkfeld started the scoring for East by singling with the bases loaded and two outs in the fourth.

The Spartans had loaded the bases in the second and had no outs but couldn't score.

East now is 3-0 on the season while Southeast drops to a 1-2 mark.

Unprecedented Grand Slam Nicklaus Admits As Goal

. . . GOLD BEAR IS KEYED UP MASTERS

Augusta, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, admittedly gunning for an unprecedented professional grand slam of golf, sounded an ominous warning Tuesday as he prepared for the 35th Masters championship:

"I'm keyed up for it. I'm ready."

The 31-year-old Golden Bear, the most feared competitor in the game, won the PGA National championship in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., early this year and has a burning desire to take this one and keep alive his hopes of sweeping in a single year all the world's major pro titles.

"It's no secret I'd like to win them all," the powerful blond said. "I think a sweep is possible. I really think it can be done."

But it's never been done. Ben Hogan came the closest in 1953 when he won the Masters, the U.S. Open and the British Open, then didn't compete in the PGA. No one else has come close.

"I have a kind of a different feeling about the Masters this year," Nicklaus said. "Always before I've come here trying to win the Masters as the first major championship of the year. You can't win 'em all if you don't win the first one.

"But this year I've already won one and the Masters is the second one. And you can't win 'em all if you don't win the first two."

Nicklaus, the only man in history to win all of the major championships two times, has a brilliant record on the 6,980-yard, par 72 Augusta National Golf Club course, a layout many pros contend is perfectly tailored to his awesome game.

"They ought to call it the Jack Nicklaus Benefit," South African Gary Player said.

In the last 10 years Nicklaus has won three times, a record second only to Arnold Palmer, has finished second once and been in the top eight finishers three other times.

And he appears to be at the peak of his game.

He's played only five times this year but has won more than $56,000.

"I'm trying to pace myself," he said of his reduced playing schedule. "You simply can't get mentally ready every week. I'm trying to bring my game along to a peak at the time when we're playing a major championship."

He's been off for two weeks. Most of the last week has been spent here, honing his formidable talents for the 72-hold test that begins Thursday.

NU, Minnesota Tangle In Dual Track Meet

. . . MAGEE STADIUM WILL BE SCENE OF MEETING

Nebraska and Minnesota hook up in a dual track meet Saturday, but the scene will be a new one for the Cornhusker track team.

The Big Eight and Big Ten rivals will meet at Nebraska Wesleyan's Magee Stadium, the Huskers' temporary home quarters until the new track is installed on the NU campus.

Field events will start at 1:30 p.m., with the track events going at 2 p.m.

NU coach Frank Sevigne, disappointed because the Huskers failed to grab off a baton title at the Texas Relays, expects some hot races this week. "We were on our way to winning the mile relay," Sevigne said. "But Wes Leonard somehow stumbled and fell at the half-mile exchange and we dropped from the first to fourth."

Sevigne tabs the mile run as a "feature event" Saturday at Magee Stadium.

Nebraska's Greg Carlberg, who ripped off a 3:59.6 during the indoor season, will be matched against two 4:05-class milers from Gopherland, John Hopko and Greg Nelson.

Another great race could come in the 880 where Huskers Jim Hawkins, Jeff Wisemiller and Dan Speck will challenge Gopher Jerry Thomas a 1:51 half-miler.

Garry Bjorklund of Minnesota is one of the premier three-milers in the nation and he'll be going against Husker frosh star Bob Unger.

And the Gophers will also bring a seven-foot high jumper inn Tim Heikkila.

"This should be a good track meet," Sevigne said. "We were fortunate to win last year at Minneapolis (97-77) and it will take a great effort to duplicate that feat on a neutral track. Minnesota has some real track stars and so do we so it should be an interesting afternoon."

Hershberger Early Entrant At Cozad

Cozad (UPI) — A master's 880 yard dash will be spotlighted during the 1971 Midstates Federation Track and Field Championships at Cozad May 29.

Eligibility for the two-lap feature has been restricted by performers age 35 and over.

Jim Hershberger, Wichita, Kan., oil millionaire, is among the early entrants for the special agent. He faces other competition from Kansas, Colorado, and South Dakota. To date no Nebraskan has enrolled.

The 38-year-old Hershberger has established fourteen national Master's track records within the past year. Among his accomplishments is a 4:29 mile.

Normally the Cozad meet has been staged on Memorial Day. General chairman Dean Dorsey said that the program was advanced to provide more ideal travel arrangements for outstate athletes. The United States Track and Field Federation has issued a sanction which clears eligibility for thinclads from Colorado, South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Wyoming, Iowa and Nebraska.

The day-long, three-session card will highlight five divisions of competition. Intermediate sections have been outlined for boys and girls who are 12-15 years of age. Junior divisions are set for girls (16 and over) and boys (age 16-18). Athletes 17 and over will compete in the collegiate grouping.

Outstanding athletes will be honored in all divisions and team champions will be recognized.

Formation of conference or area athletic clubs is being promoted by meet officials. Under the USTFF sanction, athletes from all regions are permitted to combine their talents on a team or relay basis.

Football School Slated June 13-19

The second annual Cornhusker Football School will be held on the NU campus, June 13-19.

Nebraska defensive line coach Monte Kiffin again will serve as director of the football school which develops individual and team techniques. The enrollment will be limited to high school students who will be in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades next fall. High school graduates are not eligible.

Prep players who wish to enroll may do so by contacting the Sports Information Office, 109 Coliseum, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska-68508, for enrollment forms. Forms have also been sent to Nebraska high school coaches.

East Baseballers Defeat SE By 4-1

Doug McLeese threw a three-hitter and teammate Bob Blake collected four hits as Lincoln East downed Lincoln Southeast, 4-1, Tuesday afternoon at Sherman Field in a Trans Nebraska Conference baseball game.

Blake had two doubles, one triple, one single and stole home in pacing the Spartans at the plate. However Chuck Arkfeld started the scoring for East by singling with the bases loaded and two outs in the fourth.

The Spartans had loaded the bases in the second and had no outs but couldn't score.

East now is 3-0 on the season while Southeast drops to a 1-2 mark.

Unprecedented Grand Slam Nicklaus Admits As Goal

. . . GOLD BEAR IS KEYED UP MASTERS

Augusta, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, admittedly gunning for an unprecedented professional grand slam of golf, sounded an ominous warning Tuesday as he prepared for the 35th Masters championship:

"I'm keyed up for it. I'm ready."

The 31-year-old Golden Bear, the most feared competitor in the game, won the PGA National championship in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., early this year and has a burning desire to take this one and keep alive his hopes of sweeping in a single year all the world's major pro titles.

"It's no secret I'd like to win them all," the powerful blond said. "I think a sweep is possible. I really think it can be done."

But it's never been done. Ben Hogan came the closest in 1953 when he won the Masters, the U.S. Open and the British Open, then didn't compete in the PGA. No one else has come close.

"I have a kind of a different feeling about the Masters this year," Nicklaus said. "Always before I've come here trying to win the Masters as the first major championship of the year. You can't win 'em all if you don't win the first two."

Nicklaus, the only man in history to win all of the major championships two times, has a brilliant record on the 6,980-yard, par 72 Augusta National Golf Club course, a layout many pros contend is perfectly tailored to his awesome game.

"They ought to call it the Jack Nicklaus Benefit," South African Gary Player said.

In the last 10 years Nicklaus has won three times, a record second only to Arnold Palmer, has finished second once and been in the top eight finishers three other times.

And he appears to be at the peak of his game.

He's played only five times this year but has won more than $56,000.

"I'm trying to pace myself," he said of his reduced playing schedule. "You simply can't get mentally ready every week. I'm trying to bring my game along to a peak at the time when we're playing a major championship."

He's been off for two weeks. Most of the last week has been spent here, honing his formidable talents for the 72-hold test that begins Thursday.

U.S. Is Expected To Hike Exports By 7% This Year

New York (AP) — U.S. exports this year are expected to increase 7% to $45.7 billion, the National Foreign Trade Council reported Tuesday.

Exports in 1970 totaled $42.6 billion, a 13% increase over 1969, the council said in a bulletin to member firms.

Shipments of automobiles and aircraft and parts are expected to register substantial increases, the council said. However, machinery and appliance exports will show a slight decline, it continued.

The anticipated drop in the rate of growth this year, the council said, was due to reduced economic activity in Europe.

Huntington To Close

The city traffic engineers office announced that Huntington between Griffith and 33rd will be closed starting Wednesday for a month for storm sewer construction work.

U.S. Is Expected To Hike Exports By 7% This Year

New York (AP) — U.S. exports this year are expected to increase 7% to $45.7 billion, the National Foreign Trade Council reported Tuesday.

Exports in 1970 totaled $42.6 billion, a 13% increase over 1969, the council said in a bulletin to member firms.

Shipments of automobiles and aircraft and parts are expected to register substantial increases, the council said. However, machinery and appliance exports will show a slight decline, it continued.

The anticipated drop in the rate of growth this year, the council said, was due to reduced economic activity in Europe.

Huntington To Close

The city traffic engineers office announced that Huntington between Griffith and 33rd will be closed starting Wednesday for a month for storm sewer construction work.

Journal and Star

Want Ads

Your low-cost Want Ad appears daily in the Lincoln Star (Morning) and the Lincoln Journal (Evening) or the Sunday Journal and Star at the following cash rates:

Words	Lines	DAYS 1	4	7	10
— 10	2	1.02	3.44	4.90	5.60
11-15	3	1.38	4.92	6.93	8.10

4-BLADE ROTARY SUCCESS STORY

Safer, smoother cutting is provided by 4 blades rather than the conventional bar type cutting mowers. The replaceable double-edge blades have twice the cutting life since they are reversible and when it does become necessary to replace them, a whole new set can be installed easily and at less cost than that of resharpening an old style bar blade. This 4-blade cutting unit is also safer . . . because any blade will turn away on impact with a solid object which helps to eliminate the chances of flying debris . . . cuts finer clippings which puts more grass into the bag. Of course, we're talking about the one and only JACOBSEN LAWN MOWER. See them at 11c

4-BLADE ROTARY SUCCESS STORY

Safer, smoother cutting is provided by 4 blades rather than the conventional bar type cutting mowers. The replaceable double-edge blades have twice the cutting life since they are reversible and when it does become necessary to replace them, a whole new set can be installed easily and at less cost than that of resharpening an old style bar blade. This 4-blade cutting unit is also safer . . . because any blade will turn away on impact with a solid object which helps to eliminate the chances of flying debris . . . cuts finer clippings which puts more grass into the bag. Of course, we're talking about the one and only JACOBSEN LAWN MOWER. See them at 11c

MANY OF OUR TOP MEN HAD NEVER SOLD A THING UNTIL THEY JOINED US!

Most of our top men don't look like salesmen, don't act like salesmen. Their biggest hurdle was deciding to come and talk with us. We showed them how to sell — and we can show you how. We back you with a generous training expense allowance plus full commission while you learn. Then your future is as big as you are. We provide you plenty of leads from our powerful national advertising. If you've "had it" with an ordinary job, see in person: 7

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Pupfish have adapted to and thrive in water from 90 to 100 degrees Fahrenheit and six to ten times as salty as the oceans.

☆ ☆ ☆

The bones of a giant water monster, identified as the remains of a duckbill dinosaur, 73 million years old, have been uncovered in Baja, California.

☆ ☆ ☆

The giraffe is the tallest mammal.

Nearly 17½ million tribesmen inhabit some 900,000 square miles of the Congo, an area larger than Texas and Alaska combined.

The water in 22-mile-long Lake Tahoe could cover a flat area the size of the State of California to a depth of more than 14 inches.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
